

CLINTON ENJOYS BUILDING PERIOD

Handsome New Union Station—Quite a Number of New Dwellings are Going up—Others to Follow.

Clinton, Nov. 24.—The growth and improvement of Clinton goes on steadily. The pretty little union station is exceedingly ornamental and when the park around it is completed and the sheds built there will not be a more delightful place to wait for a train in than Clinton.

Mr. R. Z. Wright's handsome new building on North Broad street is one of the most solid and substantial buildings in town. It is built of brick and contains two large convenient store rooms on the ground floor, and a number of rooms above.

M. S. Bailey & Sons have recently put in new show windows which are kept beautifully decorated.

There are new paved sidewalks all over the business section. Mr. L. H. Davidson and the J. W. Copeland Co. have recently erected warehouses by the Columbia, Newberry and Laurens railroad track.

A new mill village has sprung up around mill number two in the past year.

In every part of town new dwellings are going up and there is yet a demand for more.

Mr. E. B. Hill's lovely new home on Cleveland Avenue is going up rapidly. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Copeland are in their new home on Centennial street. Mr. Swartzburg has moved into the pretty new cottage on Centennial street recently erected by Mr. John D. Davis. Dr. J. D. Austin has bought a lot on Centennial street and will build a nest home on it at once.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Pitts have moved into one of the pretty new houses on Musgrove street recently built by Mr. John Young.

Mr. B. L. King's nice new house on Phinix Avenue is completed and occupied.

Dr. Lawrence Bailey is erecting a pretty cottage next door to Dr. Walker Bailey's on West Main, which he will probably have need for shortly.

Mr. W. J. Leake's handsome home on North Broad is nearly completed, and he and Mrs. Leake, and Misses Allen and Mayme Leake have already moved into it, renting the Leake house to Mr. S. L. Saxon.

Mr. Jeff Boland is building a neat cottage on Owens Hill.

Mr. McMillan's new residence on Musgrove is one of the most elegant houses in town.
