

AMONG THE EXCHANGES

The Clinton Mixup.

"Wat a good boy am I." Those Clinton boys are bound to die young; such supereminent virtues cannot be long for this world, and their friends have great cause to feel deeply concerned about them.

But the Newberry boys—"O my." What a bad lot they must be; that is according to the Clinton way of telling it.

The Clinton correspondent of The Laurens Advertiser puts all the blame on Newberry for Monday's mixup, would have the public believe that a handful of young men would go into a town where everybody goes to the ball games and deliberately bring on a row.

Even if the Newberry boys were ever so rough, they ought to be credited with having a little sense—enough with not trying to bring on a scrap with overwhelming numbers against them, just to win the third time from a team they had already won two games from. The thing is incredible on its face.

Whatever the Clinton public may believe about it, there is nobody down this way who believes the kind of stuff sent to The Advertiser by the Clinton correspondent. The members of the Newberry ball team are known to be high-toned and well-conducted men—with plenty of grit and spirit, but with no meanness, and utterly incapable of trying to take an unfair advantage in a ball game, or of behaving as they are charged with behaving at Clinton.

It is remarkably strange that it is the Clinton team alone that the Newberry team has troubles with. How then can the fault all be on the Newberry side? It isn't, of course.

The Observer gives the statement on both sides. The reader can put the blame where he thinks it belongs.—Newberry Observer.

What Fools Ye Mortals Be.

The Greenwood Index is the author of the following very timely suggestion:

"A young woman in Nashville Tuesday shot and killed the man who had wronged her. If every unfortunate young woman similarly wronged were to so treat the man who had wronged her, there would be far less of this sort of immorality."

And the very next day a young gentleman up in Massachusetts shot, and killed, a young lady merely because she had indulged in the pleasant and popular little pastime of breaking her engagement with him! The unfortunate young man (?) then proceeded to make the end of his earthly sorrows complete by taking his own life. Verily, Puck had much food for inspiration when he got up his trademark!—Gagney Ledger.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Complimentary to Miss Adeline Johnstone of Newberry, who is visiting Miss Mary Todd, a delightful reception was tendered Thursday afternoon to the members of the Mysterious Twenty-two club by Miss Elizabeth Shell at her home on Main street. Miss Shell was assisted in receiving her guests by Misses Nell Miller and Bessie Childress. The game for the afternoon was checkers, after an hour's entertainment at this a delicious salad course with coffee was served.

Mrs. Jas. Powell of Wilmington, N. C. is in the city visiting her mother, Mrs. Rosa I. Caine.

Mrs. S. E. Boney returned yesterday from a three weeks' visit to her former home in Walterboro.

Miss Willie Mae Childress will visit friends in Columbia this week, having remained there after the meeting of the King's Daughters.

Mrs. H. K. Aiken was elected assistant secretary for this state at the recent meeting of the King's Daughters in Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Harris with their four children are in the city visiting Mrs. Harris' father, Mr. L. G. Balle, Sr., on West Main street.

Mr. R. McHardy Mauldin and sister, Miss Helen, were in the city Saturday assisting Miss Bette Mae Mauldin in the violin recital at Mrs. Bennett's.

Among the delightful occasions of the season, nothing more charming has occurred than the violin recital by the pupils of Miss Mauldin on Saturday evening, May 15, at the residence of Mrs. James S. Bennett. This recital was unique; it was something entirely out of the usual to hear such youthful lads and lassies performing in the role of really fine artists. Most of the pupils are quite young and it was surprising to see their ease and dignity as they stood, most of them, for the first time before an audience. They did honor to their splendid teacher, who for ten months has so faithfully trained them. The duet, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," by Flora Bennett, aged 5 years, on the violin, and Henry Bennett, aged 8 years, on the piano, was especially fine. The duets by Miss Mauldin and her sister Miss Helen Mauldin and the accompaniments on the piano by their brother, Mr. McHardy Mauldin, were very fine. The large party assembled in Mrs. Bennett's beautiful home voted the evening a perfect success and hope for another just like it very soon.

An interesting story as told by Harry A. Glazier, a prominent Fireman of Malden, Mass.: "Last winter I had a severe cold and it settled on my kidneys, causing the most excruciating pain almost every time I attempted to move; I had tried everything imaginable to get relief, with no success, until I was advised to try 'Bloodine,' which to my great surprise, gave me relief almost from the first dose, and before I had taken one bottle I was completely cured." "Bloodine" is a wonderful vitalizing tonic. If the blood is impure, complexion bad, appetite lost, strength gone and the whole system is upset by an accumulation of humors, it is time to try "Bloodine" today. Bloodine, large bottles 50c. Mrs. W. W. Gardner, of Paducah, Ky., tried Cardui and writes: "I think Cardui is just grand. I have been using it for eleven years. I am 48 years old and feel like a different woman, since I have been taking it. I used to suffer from bearing down ains, nervousness and sleeplessness, but now the pains are all gone and I sleep good. I highly recommend Cardui for young and old." Try it.
