KEENEST INTEREST IN GREAT CONTEST

No Abatement In Battle of Ballots.

Aliss T. Craig Hunter Holds Second Place With Misses Zelle Blakely and Mary Smith Next. And still they come. The ballots fell thick and fast during the week just closed and while the relative standing of the candidates has not undergone material change, the vote of each has been considerably advanced. Several thousand votes were polled on Monday, as the count below will Roland Moseley of Laurens still holds a strong lead, having to his credit 33,380 votes; Miss T. Craig Hunter of Ora is second with 21,830 and Misses Zelle Blakely and Mary Smith of Laurens and Waterloo respectively are following close.

The candidates are urged not lose beart and give up in despair; there is plenty of time yet to overcome any kind of lead, and there is plenty of territory in the county that has not yet been worked. For instance, it is learned that very little and no strong efforts have been but forth in Clinton and vicinity. does the contest run so long? Simply to give everybody a chance; a short centest of but a few weeks would make it easy for some candidate who happened to live in a thickly settled center to pile up a big vote in just a few days and then rest on The time allofted gives all an equal opportunity. About eight weeks yet remain, and in that time a vast deal of work may be done. For the benefit of many the rules of the contest are here reproduced: Rules of Contest.
