THE OLD SULLIVAN TOWNSHIP R. R. BONES

"Citizen" Thinks The County Should Share in This Burden of Taxes. The Figures Given.

Editor The Advertiser:
Some time during the last winter or spring I wrote the following article which I hope you will republish. It was written of my own volition and with no sort of motive but with the hope that justice might be done to the people of Sullivan township.

The legislature very properly submitted the question of whether or not the county will assume the payment of these bonds, to the people of the county to be voted on at the approaching general election which comes in Nov. 8.

The question is submitted in the following form to wit:

Assumption of Sullivan bonds "Yes."
Assumption of Sullivan bonds "No."
I feel assured that every one who has given this subject any thought, together with all those who will now familiarize themselves at all with the question could not have escaped or cannot escape the conclusion that the county should vote "yes", and as before said, "as an act of simple justice" assume this debt.

O. G. Thompson.

October 10, 1910.

Those who read the article of Mr. T. P. Cothran in reference to the railroad bonds of Oak Lawn and Dunkin townships, in your issue of the 8th, could hardly have failed to be reminded that Sullivan township occupies a position precisely similar, in every respect, in this old bond obligation, to that of Oak Lawn and Dunkin; except that these two are in Greenville and Sullivan is in Laurens.

Mr. Cothran's statement and reasoning is clear and conclusive. In stating the case of Sullivan, we cannot avoid adopting the line of his argument or statement, and may appropriate some of his language.

The Sullivan bond issue and the legislation and litigation connected with it are familiar to our people. Away back in the eighties Sullivan issued bonds to a large amount in aid of the Atlantic, Greenville and Western railroad. "By a great blunder these bonds were not made conditional upon the operation of the road, but were issued and delivered before the work was done." The road was never built. What followed is familiar to all, as before intimated. Upon the deliverance of the United States Supreme court, that the bonds must be paid, and a compromise having been effected with the holders, new bonds were issued by Sullivan to the amount of $19,500, payable at the expiration of 50 years, with interest at the rate of 5 1/2 per cent.

To pay interest on these bonds, and at the same time provide a sinking fund for their ultimate liquidation, an annual tax of 4 mills is levied upon the property of Sullivan township. The valuation of the property of the township is $443,480. The special levy amounts this year to $1773.92.

"If the road had been built the county as a whole would have received the benefit of the taxes collected from the road," and of course the townships other than Sullivan would have received their pro rata of these taxes. "Other bonds in aid of railroads have been issued in the county." There were bonds to the amount of $149,500 issued in the early eighties in aid of the Port Royal & Western Carolina railroad, traversing the county from the Saluda to the city of Laurens and from Laurens to Spartanburg and from Laurens to Greenville. These bonds originally bore 7 per cent interest and required $10,475 to pay the annual interest; $15,000 of them have been paid leaving outstanding $134,500. Of these $100,000 have been refunded at 4 1/2 per cent interest. There is now on hand $30,000 to pay on the first instalment that will fall due.

"These being county and not township bonds, the annual interest is paid by all townships," and although neither of these railroads touch Sullivan she is forced to contribute her pro rata to pay the interest on these bonds.

"Even if the railroad had been built and the people" (I am using Mr. Cothran's language largely) of Sullivan had gotten the benefit of a railroad through their section, Sullivan would not be upon an equal footing with the other townships, for Sullivan contributes to pay the interest on bonds for railroads which do not touch her, while other townships would not have been helping Sullivan to pay the interest upon the bonds of her railroad, while getting a pro rata benefit of the taxes upon the railroad. Sullivan "by the fate of events" got no railroad, yet pays interest on her bonds and helps the other townships to carry their burdens.

Now, we have believed for all these years that as an act of simple justice the county as a whole should assume this Sullivan township debt. For 25 years Sullivan has been paying her annual contingent for other railroads in the county that are a considerable distance from her territory and it is but fair that the county should step in and assume this debt.

The amount required yearly to meet this obligation—interest and sinking fund—amounts to about $1700, which on a total county valuation of $6,833, 551 would call for a small additional levy of (1/4) on-fourth of one mill or 25 cents on the $1000.

NEW COURSE AT CLINTON.

Teachers of County Offered Course in Pedagogy.

The Presbyterian college at Clinton is giving to its students this year for the first time a course in Pedagogy, under Dr. D. J. Brimm. Feeling that this course might possibly be of benefit to some of the teachers in Laurens county, we offer it to them on following terms: the only charge is the payment of the incidental fee, five dollars on entering and five dollars in January; the class will meet each Saturday, at 10:30 A. M., at the college building, and from an hour to an hour and a half will be devoted to each recitation. This course is for teachers only, and none of our regular college students will be in this class; teachers taking this special class will be enrolled in our catalogue as Special Students or Normal Students. We trust that the time is so arranged that some of the teachers of the county will be able to avail themselves of the offer. Six of the teachers of the Clinton Graded school will take the course.
