CORN YIELD OF JERRY MOORE

(Reprinted By Request.)

Jerry Moore of Florence county, the champion corn grower of the world, has written a story of how he produced over 228 bushels of corn on one acre of land. The yield is substantiated by affidavits. He made a profit of $30.79 on the acre. It cost him $128.05 to secure the yield. The story gives a complete description and full accounts of the care of the corn. He is a member of the boys' corn club and was under the direction of the United States farm demonstration work and A. H. Gasque, county superintendent of education of Florence county.

In a clear manner Jerry Moore tells the following story. Light gray, sandy upland; top soil about three or four inches deep, with yellow subsoil. Old land nearly level, with just enough for the water to run off. Cotton was grown on the land in 1909, producing about 1,200 pounds of seed cotton.

Preparation. During the first of March, 1910 spread 300 one-horse wagonloads of rich dirt on this acre. Followed this with 50 one-horse wagonloads of stable manure scattered broadcast.

On March 25, land was broken with Dixie plows. One Dixie following the furrow of the other, and with the two breaking about 10 or 12 inches deep. The soil was so well pulverized did not harrow; rebroke like it was first time.

March 29, harrowed and laid off in rows three and one-half feet wide, with Dixie plows. Distributed 500 pounds of guano containing 8 per cent of phosphoric acid, 3 per cent of ammonia and 3 per cent potash in Dixie furrow and covered with furrows making a small ridge.

March 30, open ridge with shovel plow and dropped three gallons of Dade's Four-Ear proflite corn, dropping by hand and almost sewing. Covered corn with small shovel plow 2 1/2 inches deep.

Fertilizer. On the same day sowed 800 pounds of acid phosphate on rows and harrowed surface all over, leaving it level.

No rain since land was broken and ground so dry and dusty corn did not come up readily. Replanted for fear I would not get a stand.

Stand good by April 20.

April 20, weather continues dry.

April 24, good rain.

April 25, sowed 700 pounds kainit along rows and harrowed with Little Joe harrow and going twice to the row. Barred off with Dixie plow.

May 5, I made a mixture of 600 pounds of cotton seed meal, 200 pounds of acid phosphate and 200 pounds of kainit, and with a cold distributor sowed on each side of the rows, but four inches farther from the corn than the other application, and harrowed with Little Joe harrow, going twice in the row.

Also sowed 200 pounds of nitrate of soda along the rows.

May 17, harrowed, going twice to the row, thinned corn to six inches in row.

May 24, harrowed, going twice to the row.

June 5 and 6, good rains.

June 8, sowed 300 pounds of nitrate of soda and harrowed twice to the row.

Frequent showers and corn growing rapidly.

June 10, storm and corn blown down.

June 11, set corn up; corn about six feet high and beginning to silk.

June 15, harrowed very lightly with Little Joe harrow, going twice to the row.

June 22, harrowed lightly; corn now in full silk; ground perfectly clean.

Since June 5, rains have been frequent. Corn doing its best. No sign of firing or failure of any kind.

July 4, no lack of rain so far and corn almost matured. Almost every stalk has an ear and many of them two or three. There is on the acre about 21,000 stalks and more than 30,000 ears. Gathered fodder middle of August. Corn at this time very ripe.

Gathered Fodder. Gathered off the acre, 1,200 bundles of fodder, weighing 3,000 pounds worth $30.

Corn Gathered. Five men—J. M. Leach, H. P. Haselden, W. E. Bailey, J. T. Bailey and Roger Williams—measured the land and weighed the corn, whose certificates are in the custody of the county superintendent of education. The corn was weighed in the shucks and weighed 16,388 pounds. They took 200 pounds of corn from the acre, at sundown, shucked and shelled, and got 155 pounds of shelled corn and 45 pounds of cobs and shucks. This shows 77 1/2 per cent of corn and 22 1/2 per cent of cobs and shucks. This percentage makes a yield of 228 3/4 bushels.

Value of Crop. At the market value of $1.00 per bushel the corn from the acre is worth $228.75; 3,000 pounds of fodder, $30. Total value of crop, $258.75.

Expenses. Cost of rent $ 5.00 Cost of preparation seed bed 4.00 Cost of planting 2.00 Cost of manure 20.00 Cost of commercial fertilizer 66.55 Cost of cultivation 11.50 Cost of gathering corn 8.00 Cost of gathering fodder 6.00

Total cost $128.05

Total value $258.75 Less all expenses 128.05

Net profit $130.70

Remarks. "The stable manure used was very trashy (much straw in it) and not worth more than 50 cents a load. As the dirt has no commercial value I did not count it in the list of expenses and the land has been improved at least $50.00 by the dirt and stable manure. What I have done has been more of an experiment than doing what I knew to be wise.

About October 1st, Mr. Williams, agent for the State; Mr. Willis, county agent and Mr. Gasque, county superintendent of education, visited me. To them I am under obligations for helpful instruction and I greatly appreciate the interest they have shown in my little enterprise. Hoping to do better in the future, I am, yours truly, "Jerry H. Moore."

Jerry H. Moore, is the champion corn grower of South Carolina and of the world.

He is 15 years of age and has produced 228 bushels and 3 pecks of corn on one acre of land.

This is next to the highest yield of corn ever produced and is only exceeded by the Drake yield of 255 bushels.

Jerry Moore is the son of a minister, and the great yield was secured on the parsonage land.

This announcement was made by Ira W. Williams, State agent of the United States farm demonstration work.

Young Moore is a member of the Florence county Boys' Corn Club. He will win a number of prizes in the county and state contests and at the South Atlantic States Corn exposition which is to be held in Columbia from December 5 to 8.

Some time ago it was reported that a boy in Marlboro county had produced 258 bushels. This record was investigated by Ira W. Williams and he found that there was a mistake in measuring the corn. The boy only produced 179 bushels, which is far below the record of Jerry Moore.

The following announcement was made by Ira W. Williams:

"After carefully investigating and having the corn measured of the reported 258 bushels per acre, I find that the world's record has not been broken, that the boy will be second so far as the reports now stand in the yield from the boys' corn clubs in the State. I will say however, that there was no intention on the part of the boys or the committee or the people of Marlboro county to give out any statement that was not absolutely accurate, as all of them were anxious that the facts be known. The mistake occurred in the method of measuring the corn. We do not accept any measurements in regard to the greatest yield in the State except the absolute weight of the corn. I think, however, that this production is the most remarkable in the history of the State's corn production. It is certainly more remarkable than the Drake yield, if the reports as to how the Drake yield was made are true; for, in cost of production, it is by far the least for the large yields produced and the methods are such that any man could follow and expect the most profitable results.

"There were several boys from this neighborhood in the contest. This boy is an orphan boy, his father having died when he was small. He has two brothers about his age and size. He did not use but 2,400 pounds of commercial fertilizer and two loads of stable manure.

"The spirit of this boy in regard to accurate measurement was the best I have ever seen."
