

A New Remedy for Indigestion Gets Country Wide Endorsement

The new remedy for indigestion called "Digestit" has been found a certain quick relief and permanent remedy for stomach disorders. Letters from thousands who had suffered the tortures of indigestion and got relief from the use of Digestit are evidence of its merit. The enormous increase in demand from every part of the country is proof of its popularity. But you do not have to take anybody's word for it—try it yourself on an absolute guarantee, get a package and if you don't get relief you can get your money back for the asking. Brown's Digestit is a little tablet easy to swallow and absolutely harmless. It digests all the food, prevents fermentation, stops gas formation, prevents stomach distress after eating, aids assimilation, and relieves indigestion instantly.

UNKNOWN NEGRO ATTACKS WIDOW

Fled at Scream of Aiken Woman. Sheriff is Making Search.

Aiken, Jan. 11.—Some excitement was caused last night by the attack made by a negro upon a respectable widow who lives on the outskirts of the city, and while the matter was kept very quiet it became known this morning that half a dozen men searched for several hours for the unknown negro, without, however, locating him.

Having remained in town until after dark the woman was walking home and had reached a point near "Orange Grove," the winter home of W. Butler Duncan, when the negro, who had been following her for some distance, taking advantage of the darkness and the seclusion of the place, advanced more rapidly behind her. Frightened, the woman stopped and demanded of the negro to know where he was going. He replied he was on his way to the race track to look for a job. He was told then to go on, and not to be following behind, as he had been doing. At this the negro sprang at the woman and struck her a blow in the side. As she fell she screamed, and some one at a nearby house opened a door and asked what was the trouble.

The negro took to his heels and disappeared in the darkness. He was tracked by the sheriff and a number of men across an open field, but all trace of him was lost.

The sheriff still has hope of catching him as the woman gave a very clear description of her assailant.

HILLSIDE NEWS.

Hillside, Jan. 13.—Many thanks to the generous correspondent from Madden for the nice compliment tendered me in last week's Advertiser. The writer is glad that the Madden writer is in line for compulsory education. The writer is also in favor of "votes for women". If women were allowed to cast a ballot, the majority would support the Christian element. Dispensaries and blind tigers would cease to exist, grafters and gamblers would wear the stripes, and a clean government would prevail. Men don't seem to care enough for a clean government to cast their ballots for it, or even voice their sentiment for it. So long as men cast not their ballot for this kind of government, so long as the grafter and gambler go free; so long as the voters vote not for a clean government and for officials to match, who then, can those men blame when anything goes wrong in America? Isn't there someone else in South Carolina who will help push forward this movement, viz "votes for women"?

Messrs. C. T. Peden, W. M. Tollison, J. F. Weathers, L. B. Eskew, J. A. and J. W. Adair, all of Hillside were in Warthen, Thursday, enjoying a big rabbit hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Sims, of Babtown, were the guests of W. J. Weathers and family Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Peden gave a party at their home Wednesday night. Quite a large crowd attended.

James Cosby of Greenville, was in our community, Wednesday and Thursday, hunting with the Hillside people.

Will Cole L. Blease run against Sen. E. D. Smith, two years hence, for the United States senatorship? If he does he stands a good chance of losing. Blease will eventually lose.

Bill Thompson gave a singing at his home Sunday night.

According to an editorial in a newspaper of St. Paul, Minn., there's a possibility of abandoning the annual governor's conference on account of Cole L. Blease. The editor says a man like Blease would attend without an invitation, hence the question of abandoning. It is ever thus. Well, this we know, that the Calhouns and Haynes have disappeared from the horizon of South Carolina.

There are people in Hillside who are old in years, yet them can neither read nor write. There are fathers and mothers, here who are in that pitiable condition. Can they be wholly blamed? No. If there had been a compulsory education law twenty-five years ago these people would have been educated; their children would have seen better advantages. These people see, partly, what the lack of education means yet they do not fully appreciate its true value. Every child should be given an education. If the parents do not wish for their children to attend school, they should be compelled, by the laws of the state, to see that they attend a certain number of months each year, unless hindered by sickness, or other sufficient reasons. These same boys and girls that tattle after us now, must some day be the citizens—the main pillars—of this state. These children are the future citizens. Someday (and not long hence) this government must rest upon the shoulders of the children of today. Shall it fall into the hands of uneducated people? Let's have a compulsory education law, and thus pave the way for a greater state, for, by thus doing we spread flowers over, and make smooth the pathway, over which the feet of the future citizen must tread.

If your children are subject to attacks of croup, watch for the first symptom, hoarseness. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as soon as the child becomes hoarse and the attack may be warded off. For sale by all dealers.

Planning for Mother.

Mrs. Shepherd looked bewildered when her sons announced that six of "the boys" were coming up on the noon train. "They want to see our camp," said Ted.

"Why didn't you tell me this morning," Mrs. Shepherd wailed, "when the butcher was on the hill?"

"Oh, they won't expect to be regularly entertained," Hal said, comfortably. "We'll . . . at picnic."

"Good!" said Ted, approvingly. "They aren't hard to please. Just put some stuff in a basket, and it will be all right, mumsey. Fried chicken'd be great, and just a few ham sandwiches, some of that chocolate layer cake you make, and a few doughnuts or apple puffs, and maybe seed-cakes, if there are any."

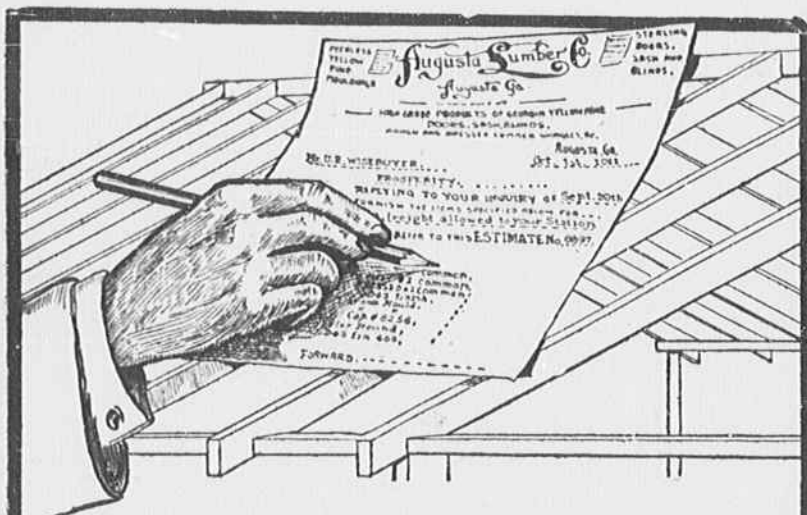

"There you are, mumsey," said Hal, encouragingly, "everything all planned for you!"—Youth's Companion

Chlorosis Green Sickness

Delicate girls who are approaching the age of womanhood are usually subject to this disease. They are pale because the blood is weak and watery. Their complexion has a sickly greenish cast which gives the disease its name. They have no vitality and if exposed to any unusual excitement, excessive labor or cold dampness are liable to contract some disease that will disastrously affect their whole future lives. It is a most critical period. The right remedy to relieve this condition and bring back the rosy hue of health is

DR. SIMMONS Squaw Vine Wine

It is a palatable remedy, a fine, pleasant tasting medicine. Its agreeable flavor, however, is no criterion of its efficacy. It does the work expected of it more promptly than the harsh, bitter tasting medicines. It begins the restorative process with the first dose and if used for a reasonable period, the misery, weakness and pallor disappear, the spirits rise, the appetite becomes good, the sleep sound and restful and the thin, vitiated blood is revitalized and goes coursing through the veins, carrying new life, strength and energy to all parts of the body.

Sold by Druggists and Dealers. Price $1.00 Per Bottle.
