

Heart Symptoms

The ailments of women include symptoms of heart trouble known as palpitation of the heart. The palpitation is so violent at times as to be really painful and leads the patient to fear she has heart disease. Ninety per cent of such cases are not heart disease at all but only a symptom of a liver disorder which has affected the normal action of the heart, and on applying the proper remedies the unusual throbbing ceases. The stomach and digestion need strengthening and the depressing effect of these disorders on the female organism must be corrected. For the latter purpose there is no more effective remedy to be found anywhere than

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Miss Annie Richey entertained Tuesday evening with a Set Back party, to which a number of friends were invited. After a number of games were played delightful refreshments were served and then a short musical program followed. The hours passed swiftly the evening being greatly enjoyed by those who were present.

The Bridge Club was charmingly entertained Friday afternoon by Miss Mayne Ferguson, at her home on West Main street. In spite of the very inclement weather, a large number of guests were present to enjoy the hospitality of the hostess. After a number of games were played, a tempting luncheon was served.

Mrs. S. R. Todd was hostess Wednesday afternoon at a beautifully arranged party for a number of friends. Seven tables were prepared for the game of Forty Two and a most enjoyable afternoon was spent. After the games were played, a delicious sweet course was served.

A new bridge club was organized at the home of Miss Taccoa Caine Thursday evening when a number of young people met to play Lillie Bridge. Officers were elected and a regular program decided upon. The first evening's meeting was a success in every particular, the games proving very interesting and hospitality of the hostess delightful. The next meeting of the club will be Thursday evening, when Miss Helen Cripe will entertain.

Musical.

(Contributed by a guest.)
The S. R. O. sign was brought out early on Saturday evening, when Mrs. Devereau Turner's vocal class gave another of their delightful recitals at the home of one of her pupils. The parlors of this residence seated seventy-five guests whose appreciation of the entire program was indicated by the splendid hearing accorded each performer, as well as by the many complimentary comments heard at the conclusion of the entertainment. The accompanists were Mrs. Lucas and Mrs. Turner. To musicians, that simple statement also means that one half, and a very essential half, of a successful concert was supplied in heap measure. Especially was Mrs. Lucas' contribution to the evening's pleasures valued, for besides her well-known capacity to delight her hearers by perfect mastery of the key-board, variety was given the program and any tax upon the strength of her co-workers was lessened. The two part program was opened with a duet "See the Pale Moon" for soprano and contralto by Miss Annie Richey and Mrs. Aiken and closed with a three-part arrangement of Schubert's "Serenade" for soprano and first and second alto, Miss Richey, Mrs. Rankin were:

- I.
- (a) Gypsy Love Song . . . Herbert
- (b) April . . . V. Harris
- (c) When Mabel Sings . . . Speakes
Mrs. R. Edgar Babb.

Her numbers were given in a clear, fresh tone with high notes well sustained and good enunciation.

- II.
- (a) In Sweet September . . . Temple
- (b) Land of Nod . . . Hawley
- (c) Longing For You . . . C. Marshall
Mrs. C. F. Rankin.

Good artistic work. A very even, smooth, sympathetic voice.

- III.
- Spring Song . . . Mendelssohn
Violin solo by Mr. James McCravy
(Mrs. Lucas, piano.)

A number of rare charms. This young artist displays skill in execution and rare comprehension in interpretation.

- IV.
- (a) Waltz (from Romeo and Juliet) . . . Gounod
- (b) Carissima . . . from "The Red Feet"
Carissima
- (c) Nymphs and Fauns . . . Bemberg
Miss Mary Todd.

Miss Todd has a soprano voice, that is particularly brilliant in sustained notes of the upper register. Good accent in the Italian number. A splendid song group rendered in a finished manner.

- V.
- (a) The Zingarella . . . Campana
- (b) With Verdure Clad . . . from The Creation
- (c) Roses, Roses Everywhere . . . Troterc
Miss Richey.

The difficult aria from the Oratorio was faultlessly sung. The contrasting numbers were also artistically done.

- VI.
  - (a) Promise of Life . . . Cowen
  - (b) Madrigal . . . Chaminade
  - (c) Waltz Song "Birds are Singing" . . . (By Clayton Thomas)
Mrs. H. K. Aiken.
- Unusual flexibility and range for a contralto. A pleasing, dignified stage presence and perfect phrasing. The waltz song of this group was an artistic triumph.

VII.

The Garden I Love . . . Soprano Solo
Miss Richey (with violin obligato,
by Mr. McCravy.)
This was "melody as sweet as the music that seems,
Borne sweetly and faint in the ears
of our dreams."

MADDEEN NEWS

Madden, Jan. 28.—How quickly time speeds by! One month of the new year gone already!

Preaching was held at Prospect on Saturday and Sunday it being the regular meeting day. Rev. J. A. Martin filled his appointment as usual. There was a very good congregation Sunday considering the inclemency of the weather.

There was a very pleasant reunion at the home of Mr. J. R. Finley on Sunday, when he had the pleasure of entertaining as his guests Mrs. Maggie Martin of Eunis, Texas and Mr. T. R. Finley, of Honea Path. There had been a lapse of a quarter of a century since these brothers and sister had spent the day together. A most enjoyable day was spent; a joke and a smile for the escapades of childhood; a tear and a sigh for the loved ones who are gone forever.

The many friends of Mrs. M. T. Allison will be glad to hear that she is steadily gaining her usual health. Dr. Fennell, of Waterloo, the well-liked and attentive doctor, has been the attending physician.

Miss Josie Martin, of Clinton, who is exceedingly popular in this, her old home, was the week-end guest of her grandmother, Mrs. Allison.

Mrs. Lou Moore was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Whitt Martin and while here she worshipped at her church, where she was cordially greeted by old friends.

Mr. Troy Jones who has been staying awhile with his uncle, Dr. Wade Fowler, of Simpsonville, has returned home.

Mr. Clyde Martin, of Greenville was shaking hands with former friends recently. He came down to see his grandmother, Mrs. Allison and also to look after his farm.

Several of our people went up to hear Miss Frayser lecture at the graded school Saturday. Among those who enjoyed her lecture were Mr. and Mrs. Dean, Misses Ida Turner, Louise Dean and Ora Powers.

Miss Mae Roper and brother, of Rabun, were the week-end guests of their sister, Mrs. Thad Moore.

One night last week we had settled down to study at our house when a knock was heard at the door. Investigation proved it to be some chums of the lad who had started out "bird thrashing". With a bright moon shining and two lanterns turned up to their fullest capacity, they fared forth in the night seeking adventure. Down through the woods they went, over the plowed fields, and across pastures, finally building up a fire at the crossing and wrestled to see who "was the best man." One by one the lights went out in the farm homes—a ghostly sound was heard and in they came. The little lads at our house made such an effort to tip toe in that they succeeded in waking us all up! They went to sleep tired and happy. They had taken a long stride towards leaving the common-place land of boyhood and entering the mystic land of grown-up—they had been out at night with the boys!

Be sure to join our Hoosier Club, this is an opportunity you can't afford to miss. Club opens Saturday, S. M. & E. H. WILKES & CO.
