

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases. But it has been found that these salves only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged. This explains the tremendous success of the well known liquid eczema remedy, oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., as compounded in D.D.D. Prescription. We have sold other remedies for skin troubles but none that we can recommend as highly as this for we know that D.D.D. stops the itch at once. We just want you to give D.D.D. a trial. That will be enough to prove it. Of course all other druggists have D.D.D. Prescription—go to them if you can't come to us—but don't accept some big profit substitute. But if you come to our store, we are so certain of what D.D.D. will do for you that we offer you a full size bottle on this guarantee:—If you do not find that it takes away the itch AT ONCE, it costs you not a cent.

DIVERSIFIED FARMING GIVEN IMPETUS

Sumter Banks and Merchants Offered Prizes for Progressive Farming with Gratifying Results.

Sumter, Jan. 26.—In the beginning of 1912 the City National bank, to stimulate diversified farming offered prizes of $200 to be contested for during the year. The rules for the contests were made by officials of the Farmers' union and the experts of the various agricultural departments, and the contests were conducted under the auspices of the same. The contestants met yesterday and made their reports and the prizes were declared and awarded. A condition of the contest was that accounts should be kept of the work, and that reports should be rendered.

Eight hundred and thirty-eight and one-half bushels of sweet potatoes were grown on one acre of land by S. J. White, R. F. D. No. 1, Sumter. The City National bank had offered $100 in prizes, $100 to be given to the farmer in Sumter county who would make the greatest average yield on each, an acre of cotton, an acre of corn, an acre of peas, and an acre of sweet potatoes, and $100 to the farmer who would make the most net profit on these four acres.

S. J. White won the prize for the greatest net profit. He made 96 8-10 bushels of corn, 2,631 pounds of seed cotton, ten and a half bushels of peas and 4,932 pounds of cured peavine hay, deducting the cost of fertilizers use. Mr. White made $526.87 on the four acres. The most startling figures were the enormous profit made on one acre of sweet potatoes. Estimating the value of the potatoes at the very low price of 46 cents per bushel, he made more than $300 profit on his acre of sweet potatoes alone. Several of the potatoes weighed around eight pounds each and one weighed 8 1-2 pounds.

T. S. DuBose of Oswego won the prize of $100 for the largest yield, making 2,330 pounds of seed cotton, 129 1-8 bushels of corn, and 409 1-2 bushels of sweet potatoes.

M. H. Beck of Sumter made 416 bushels of sweet potatoes and the majority in the contest made over 300 bushels of sweet potatoes per acre. J. M. Bradham of Sumter made 106 1-2 bushels of corn, 2,409 pounds of seed cotton.

J. W. Odum of Sumter made 6,350 pounds of cured peavine hay on one acre. All of the foregoing records were certified to by two disinterested witnesses with affidavits attached.

The City National bank is so well pleased with the past years contest that it has offered $300 in prizes for 1913—$50 for the greatest yield of oats and vetch hay on one acre, $50 for the greatest yield of sweet potatoes, $75 for the greatest yield of corn, $25 for the second best, $75 for the greatest yield of cotton, and $25 for the second best. The cotton is to be planted after oats and peas, the corn to be planted after cotton, and the potatoes, oats and vetch to be planted without restrictions. A cover crop is to be planted on the acre of cotton in the fall. No one can enter the contests without planting at least three of the above crops.

Beside this contest which is renewed for this year, the Bank of Sumter has inaugurated another contest for planters, this, too, under the auspices of the experimental department of Clemson college and the department of agriculture. This bank has made its offer for three years, giving $200 for each of the three years. The prime feature of the offer of the Bank of Sumter is to encourage rotation of crops and the rules that will be formulated by the experts who will prepare the technical part of the contest will be formed with this in view, and the land that is planted one kind of crop in 1913 will have to bear another in 1914, and still a third in 1915.

The Bank of Sumter, to, expects soon to offer prizes in a live stock raising contest.—The State.

HILLSIDE NEWS.

Hillside, Feb. 3.—One month of the new year is gone—thirty-one days of pleasure or sorrow have, for all time, passed from view, but, let's make the best of what's left. Truly, life is what we make it. So let's push forward with a determination that brooks no delay, and make of 1913, the best, the most prosperous year, of any preceding it.

Lewis Vaughan, of Warthen, spent a few days, in this community last week, visiting friends.

Master Melvin Tollison and sister, Miss Madge, visited their sister, Mrs. Ella Melton, of Warthen, Saturday.

The Advertiser may fall into the hands of someone who has yet to learn something of Hillside. The writer gives the following information:

Hillside has a population of about 320, divided as follows: whites, 270, blacks, 50. There are two stores here, and another being built. There are one church and one school. The church has a membership of 86; the school has an enrollment of about 90. There are two cotton gins, and two saw-mills. There is, also, one grist mill. Besides this, there's land here that surpasses its neighboring sections in productiveness, and the people here, you will find, are kind and hospitable, ever wishing to "do you a good turn." That's a picture of Hillside—a land fairer than the writer has told you. So come over into Hillside and help push along the good work of more progressiveness in farming, and thus help to make this "the Eldorado of the Southland."

Just having plenty of rain, over here, thank you. The continued rainfall in this section has caused the early farm work to be delayed somewhat. Corn, etc., will be planted this season if conditions permit.

A singing was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Woods, Sunday night in honor of Mr. David Peden, of Georgia, who is visiting relatives and old friends here. This is Mr. Peden's first visit here in 27 years. Of course we all knew that Hillside would bring him back.

This is the season of the year when mothers feel very much concerned over the frequent colds contracted by their children, and have abundant reasons for it as every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious diseases that so often follow. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is famous for its cures, and is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all dealers.

"Heart-burn" is a disease you should not allow to run on, else the entire system will become disordered and rheumatism and other chronic diseases will result.
