

Girls at the Age of Womanhood

When girls arrive at the age when nature must assert itself the general health of the body must be good or there is grave danger that disease will appear which will disastrously affect their entire lives. It is called the critical time in a girl's life, and it is the duty of every mother to see that the conditions are right. Where there is any departure from health the trouble should be given immediate attention. The symptoms usually are: languidness, a pale, colorless complexion, dull eyes, bad breath, poor appetite, constipation and a weakened state of the nerves. At such times the remedy needed is

DR. SIMMONS Squaw Vine Wine

It is a woman's remedy. Especially adapted to strengthen the female organism and assist the development which nature is striving to bring about. It puts an end to nervousness, headaches, sickness of the stomach and establishes healthy regularity. When this stage is safely passed, natural conditions speedily return; the pale face takes on color, the eyes become bright, the breath sweet, the mind clears of melancholy, and the weakened body becomes strong and robust.

UNDERWOOD TARIFF TO PASS THIS WEEK

Democratic Tariff Measure has Passed over all the Rocks in the House and Now Goes to the Senate.

Washington, May 4.—The Underwood tariff revision bill is expected to pass this week from its scene of rushed consideration in the house to be weighed in the steady balance of a senate deliberation. It probably will be passed in the house not later than Wednesday night, just as it came from the ways and means committee with free raw wool, free sugar in three years, its income tax, free meat, free flour and sweeping reductions in live stock and manufactured articles.

When the Democratic majority thunders out its chorus of approval as the bill is put upon its passage in the house, the measure will be just one month old and its champions predict that within two months more it will have the approval of the senate and soon thereafter be inscribed on the statute books over the signature of the Democratic president.

President Wilson, if he proposes to ask congress for currency legislation at the extra session, has not yet made known any definite suggestion relating to it but house leaders will learn before many days his plans in that regard. Whatever is in store, the lower branch of congress has determined to complete the formation of standing committees and it will be ready for any emergency while the senate is milling over the tariff.

Will be Ready.

Although the senate finance committee, to which the tariff bill formally will be referred when it comes from the house, has not determined upon a programme of procedure, it has been informally considering the bill for a month and will be ready before many days to announce its plans. Senator Simmons, chairman, divided the committee into three sections and the subcommittees are studying the various schedules and sections of the measure to report to the full committee with recommendations as soon as possible. When the subcommittees in the senate have reported the committee will decide upon its course. Thus far the majority senators have been of the mind that the bill should not be delayed for public hearing, but insistent demands from many interests for such a hearing may bring about a change of views.

It is an open secret that the president, the finance committee and the ways and means committee have had an understanding that the bill should be revised in all essential particulars in the house if there are to be any changes but whether this agreement can be maintained remains to be seen. Certain it is however, that the majority senators do not contemplate material changes if it is possible to avoid them.

The sugar schedule with its immediate 25 per cent. reduction and free sugar in three years, is almost certain to remain as it is. Wool might come out eventually with a slight duty, Western senators keeping up their demand for it and continuing to confer with the president in an effort to induce him to yield from his determination for free raw wool. The only other changes that seem at all likely relate to live stock and possibly the pottery schedule. There is a determined minority on the Democratic side demanding that cattle, sheep and hogs should be put on the free list along with food products and another in the group of Democrats clamoring for an increase in the pottery schedule. All these things Democratic leaders assert will be determined before the bill is reported in the senate for debate.

As to currency legislation at this session, it is known that the temper of the house is against it. The house banking and currency committee will be organized, however, as soon as possible. Representative Carter D. Glass of Virginia, who will be its chairman, plans to confer with President Wilson this week in an effort to get his definite ideas on the currency. It is probable that the president's message on currency will be ready before the tariff bill is out of the way. Latest indications are that he will urge the investigation of the problem and the drafting of a bill in time for congress when it convenes in regular session next December. This will meet with the approval of house and senate leaders.

On Currency Reform.

Already the senate banking and currency committee has begun its work, a subcommittee having been appointed, last week to draft a series of questions relating to currency reform to be sent to bankers and financial experts throughout the country. When these have been answered hearings may be ordered. In the meantime the committee may determine to call before it men of standing in the financial world to supplement the hearings begun by the currency branch of the house committee last winter.

As soon as the tariff bill leaves the house the ways and means committee will begin to make up the house committees with the army of new members to be assigned. Mr. Underwood has estimated that this task will take two or three weeks. Few important changes in chairmanships are contemplated. Fitzgerald of New York will retain chairmanship of appropriations; Henry of Texas already has been renamed chairman of the rules committee; Clayton of Alabama is expected again to head judiciary; Alexander of Missouri, merchant marine; Adamson of Georgia, interstate and foreign commerce; Flood of Virginia, committees may be changed in some instances. Lever of South Carolina is slated for the agriculture chairmanship in place of Lamb, Virginia, retired.

The house this week will have before it the alleged assault on Representative Sims by C. C. Glover, a Washington banker. The recommendation of the special committee that Mr. Glover be arrested and brought before the bar of the house will be taken up as soon as the tariff bill is passed. Interesting developments are expected.

Tomorrow the senate will take up the sundry civil appropriation bill, and Senator Kern will endeavor to bring up his resolution providing for federal investigation of conditions in the West Virginia coal fields.

TOLBERT IS REMOVED AS ASS'T POSTMASTER

Abbeville Official Loses Position on Charges of Incompetency and Insobordination—Thought Civil Service Law Would Protect Him.

Washington, May 2.—The post-office department today removed John R. Tolbert as assistant postmaster at Abbeville. The charges were incompetency and insubordination.

Tolbert was appointed postmaster about a year ago, but the senate refused to confirm him and the president later withdrew his nomination. Mrs. Kate Minshall, widow of the late Fred Minshall, former postmaster, was then appointed and Tolbert was continued as assistant postmaster, the position he had held for several years. Tolbert seemed to think the civil service law would protect him in anything that he might do, and considerable complaint arose.

Representative Alken had several postoffice inspectors to look in to the case, and after their reports were received he went to the postoffice department and made a vigorous presentation of the facts and Tolbert's removal today followed.

Tolbert belongs to a well known family of white Republicans in Abbeville and Greenwood counties.

INDIGESTION FIVE YEARS

Relieved by Vinol.

Strength and even life itself depends upon the nourishment and proper assimilation of food, and unless digestion is good, the whole body suffers.

Mrs. L. D. Cook, Vineland, N. J., says: "I was sick five years with indigestion. My stomach seemed to have a heavy load in it, and at other times it seemed to be tied in knots. Nobody knows how I suffered."

"I tried a great many doctors and a great many kinds of medicine, but nothing did any good until I took Vinol. It has helped me wonderfully. I am improving fast, feel better and am getting my flesh back again. Vinol has done me a world of good."

We know the great power of Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron tonic without oil, in curing chronic stomach trouble and building up all weakened, run-down persons, and that is why we guarantee to return your money if it does not help you.
