SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

On Friday afternoon Miss Charlotte McGowan was hostess to a number of her friends in honor of Miss Mary Sullivan, whose marriage to Mr. James Davis will be one of the leading social events of October. Miss Josephine Fuller and Mrs. Mark Hellams greeted the guests at the door, where they were served punch by Mrs. J. H. Davis, of Clinton, Miss Julia Simpson of Bristol, Va. Tables were arranged in the parlor and library. After the seats were found at the signal of a few measures of Lohengrin's Wedding March rendered by Miss Rosa Belle McGowan, Miss Charlotte entered from the rear hall with the bride-elect when Mrs. McGowan announced the approaching marriage. Then the guests proceeded to write a wish for the bride or give her a recipe for managing a husband. Misses Lila Hart and Annie Simpson winning the first places.

An hour of merriment followed after which refreshments consisting of cake, cream and mints, were served by little Misses Rosa Belle McGowan and Nell Jones.

Miss Annie Sitgreaves entertained at her home on Farley avenue Wednesday in honor of her sister, Mrs. John Stevens, of Kershaw. The entertainment was in the nature of a meeting of the Forty Two club and the game of that organization was played. In addition to the members of the club, several other ladies were present to enjoy the afternoon. A delicious ice course was served.

Mrs. J. E. Clary delightfully entertained with bridge yesterday afternoon in honor of her guest, Mrs. Valentine of Mississippi. There were four tables in all and the guests played several rubbers of the very popular lily bridge after which delicious ice cream and fruits were served. The prize for the largest score was won by Miss Mayme Ferguson. Mrs. Valentine was presented with a guest's prize.

Wright-Smith.

When at eight o'clock Wednesday evening, August 6, 1913, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. Frank Greener Wright and Miss Lillian Gertrude Smith were so beautifully and impressively married by the Rev. Dr. A. J. Bowers, of Newberry, there were united in the holy bonds of matrimony two happy young persons whose popularity and natural brightness have never been excelled in their respective localities. The bride is the pretty and attractive daughter of Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Smith, of this city, whose charms and graces of mind and manner have won for her a large circle of admiring and devoted friends. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Wright, of Laurens county, and the nephew of Messrs Robert D. and Haskell Wright of Newberry. Being also a nephew of the Herald and News reporter, it is but natural that a little pride should here be taken in the marriage and it may be that partially lends coloring to imagination's wings. The groom is employed on Southern 37 and 38, through express train from Atlanta, Ga., to Washington, D. C. He is very popular wherever he goes and makes friends everywhere, by his sunny and genial disposition and brightness of intellect, which is shown to be his possession by the important position which is entrusted to one at his age. The bride is charming and lovely in person and disposition, one of the sweetest girls that ever grew, loved by all. She has been a successful school teacher and is intelligent. Frank Wright is fortunate in having won so rare a prize.

The marriage was a very quiet affair. There were no cards or invitations issued, and no one was invited. It was absolutely a home affair. At the conclusion of the ceremony the happy couple went by automobile to Prosperity and took "old Cannon Ball" and started for Washington, where they will be "at home" to their friends. They carry with them the warm and heartfelt congratulations and well wishes of their hosts of sincere friends. May as much of the enjoyment of life as they can stand without spoiling be theirs, and may they not be called upon to bear more than their proportionate share of sorrow that falls to the common lot of humanity. Some have less joys than others, some have more sorrow than others in this life. May the happy young couple just starting out find the road oftenest brighter by the lightness than gloominess by the darkness between the sunshine and shadows along the way.—Newberry Herald and News.

PARCELS POST RATES.

On and after the 15th of August the maximum weight of a package that can be forwarded by parcel post within the 1st and 2nd Zones, which practically includes the whole State will be 20 pounds. Outside of the local office and the 1st and 2nd Zones the maximum weight will continue to be 11 pounds as heretofore. The following rates for local delivery which includes the city of Abbeville and the rural routes running from Abbeville and the first and second zones will be effective on the 15th of August.

The rate of postage on parcels exceeding four ounces in weight shall be 5 cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional two pounds or fraction thereof for local delivery and 5 cents for the first pound and one cent for each additional pound or fraction thereof when intended for delivery at other offices within first and second zones.

The pound rates of postage for local deliveries and rural routes from Laurens are shown in first row and rate for 1st and 2nd Zones in the second row:

Weight	Local Rate	1st & 2nd Zone
1 pound	$.05	$.05
2 pounds	.06	.06

The rate for local delivery shall apply to all parcels mailed at a post-office from which a rural route starts for delivery on such route, or mailed at any point on such route for delivery at any other point thereon or at the office from which the route starts or on any rural route starting therefrom and on all matter mailed at a city carrier office, or at any point with its delivery limits, for delivery by carriers from that office for any local delivery.

With the increased weight allowed a farmer living in the country will be enabled to ship dressed turkeys by parcel post. A turkey weighing 20 pounds, for instance could be sent to Greenville, Anderson, Spartanburg or Columbia, for 24 cents. This will open up a new field for the raising of turkeys. Heretofore it has been too much trouble for a farmer to raise turkeys and take them to town and peddle them out but under the new law a farmer can advertise turkeys for sale and deliver them by parcel post. It is believed this could be made a very profitable business for many an industrious housewife who is fond of raising chickens and turkeys.—Abbeville Medium.

"I Dearly Love a Bargain"

"And that is what I got in my new Macey Book Cabinet. In it I possess a piece of furniture for my home that radiates the style, the good taste, and the genius of an Old Master; and my enjoyment is all the greater because it actually cost less than I would have paid for an ordinary Bookcase."

"To have in my home, and before my children constantly the influence of a mind like Thomas Sherraton, Robert Adam, Fra Junipero or Chippendale, who were among the world's greatest Masters in Furniture, and to realize that such golden gifts of good taste and harmony were to be mine without costing something extra, was indeed a new and pleasing experience for me."

The new Macey Book Cabinets do not look sectional, but they are. They have been designed and wrought out as the Old Masters would have built them. They are made in such a variety of styles, grades and sizes, and all at such popular prices, that every taste may be satisfied, every expectation realized.

The bold but graceful Colonial patterns; the delicate and chaste Sherraton; the graceful and pleasing Chippendale; the quaint Arts and Crafts or more rugged Mission made of mahogany or oak in all the popular finishes, afford such a variety to select from that your choice will not prove a disappointment to you afterwards.

Every new Macey Book Cabinet has the perfect non-binding doors which add so much to their value and are fitted with moveable and interchangeable feet—an exclusive feature of Macey Book Cabinets without which the correct styles of the Old Furniture Masters could not be carried out in sectional bookcases.

When you see the Macey Book Cabinets, your eyes will convince you that their exquisite style costs you nothing extra and that these sectional cabinets can be extended, rearranged or moved without spoiling their good looks.
