LAURENS, S. C., OCTOBER 15, 1913.

The Advertiser will be glad to receive the local news of all the communities in the county. Correspondents are requested to sign their names to the contributions. Letters should not be mailed later than Monday morning.

Welcome to the county fair!

This fall is a mighty good time to economize and "clear up" any indebtedness contracted during the past.

It would be a fine idea if the merchants of the city would so arrange as to allow each of their clerks a portion of the day Friday so that they may visit the fair for several hours.

Visit the county fair, see the prize products of other people, find out how these products were raised and then return home determined to excel the one from whom your information was obtained.

The governor says he is in favor of "good poker, honest horse racing and cock fighting," where these elevating games are not characterized by gambling. The governor has an amazing sense of humor, if nothing else. He might have added "good, plain old-time stealing" or "honest grafting", etc. The audience will all rise while we laugh.

As predicted in these columns last week, the Philadelphia Athletics walked away with the "so-called" Giants of New York in the last three games of the world's series. While anybody with the least bit of judgment in base ball matters might have known that the Giants were clearly outclassed in every department of the game (pitchers excepted) by the Philadelphia lads, it was hardly expected even by us that they would walk away with four out of five of the games. The series came nearer approaching a genuine snap for the Mackmen than any thing that they had heretofore been up against. Our sympathies are hereby extended to the New York followers.

During the county school fair in the spring the city police department did excellent service in directing traffic on the crowded street corners. As an equally large crowd if not a larger crowd is expected Friday, it is hoped that these corners will be guarded again. The large number of automobiles, buggies and wagons which have to pass and meet each other on the corners make some kind of an executive officer almost imperative. Anyhow, Laurens is getting big enough to put on metropolitan airs and big, handsome (?) policemen, standing on the corner master of any situation liable to arise, looks good, even if he is not absolutely needed. So let's have one on each corner and protect those who walk and those who ride as well.

DISCOVERED THE VILLAINS!

We are mighty glad that we read the statement of ownership, management, etc., of The Laurens Advertiser in this week's issue of that paper for we have been trying to get those Lee boys straightened out for three years. We know that one of them was editor (and a mighty good one) and the other was business manager (and a mighty good one) but which was which and which was the other we could never get fastened in our mind. Alison Lee is the editor and Arthur Lee the business manager according to the government statement—Greenville Piedmont.

Out at last! We have kept under cover for a long time but now we have been "unklivered". Heretofore, whichever one of us who has happened to be in the office when bouquets were brought in has admitted being the editor, but has laid it on the other one when our callers brought their hammers. But your Uncle Sam, the old sleuth, has exposed us both and each now has to take what is coming to him and accept the consequences. On this occasion, in view of the sprinkling of taffy, we will plead guilty to the findings of the post office department and at the same time return thanks for the bouquets.

COMMUNITY FAIR A GREAT SUCCESS

Rock Bridge School Scene of Original Exhibition. Large Number of People Present and Many Exhibits
According to one who attended, the "Community Fair" held at Rock Bridge school Friday was a "glorious success". Close to two hundred people were present and a hundred and seventy-five exhibits were shown. A very tempting dinner was served to those attending, netting a total of over sixty dollars in profits.

Prof. W. K. Tate made an inspiring address suitable to the occasion and Prof. Harper, of Clemson college, delivered an able address. Mr. John D. W. Watts and Mr. W. D. Byrd were the judges for the stock exhibits and Mrs. W. D. Byrd, Mrs. Byrd Phillips and Miss Annie Garlington judged the ladies' department.

Miss Janye Conway Garlington is the teacher of the Rock Bridge school and to her is due the credit for organizing and pushing the fair to a successful termination. The idea of a community fair is a new one in educational circles and will doubtless be adopted by other schools. Having in view the same ends as the county and state fairs, the good results will doubtless be far-reaching and of permanent good to the community.

A Marvelous Escape.

"My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. F. Bastians of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger." Sold by all dealers.

ROUNDED UP ANOTHER.

Sheriff Owings and Deputy Reid Continue to Put the Crimp in Criminals
John Jacks who escaped from the Laurens jail on October 2, 1912 was captured last week in Spartanburg by Deputy Sheriff Reid. The sheriff's office got word that Jacks was knocking about Spartanburg and Deputy Reid at once headed for that place, where he ran upon the escaped convict in short order. Jacks disclaimed acquaintance with the Laurens officers but introduction was a matter of only a few moments and in a few hours he was locked safely in the county jail here. The other two who escaped along with him were captured shortly after their escape.
