W. C. IRBY, JR. MAY PUT HAT IN RING

Laurens Man Will Probably Enter Gubernatorial Race Next Summer. Now Member of Legislature.

It is announced here that W. C. Irby, Jr., member of the legislature from this county, will probably be a candidate for governor in next summer's campaign. He has not definitely decided but it is known that he has the matter under serious consideration.

He has been honored by the people of Laurens county by being elected to the legislature five times, having entered politics about 11 years ago.

He has some well defined ideas on certain governmental questions to which he has devoted much thought in recent years. As a member of the legislature he has been active in trying to get through some of his measures. At the last session he introduced a bill which is now pending, which would allow the people to vote on the question of requiring the State to borrow money from the government for the purpose of loaning to those who wanted to buy homes. He has also introduced a bill on the Torren's land system and he is a strong advocate of the State warehouse proposition. He favors the ten-hour labor law and is in favor of the strict enforcement of the child labor law. He is opposed to immigration because it brings to this section cheap labor in competition to our own people. He has a bill before the legislature requiring the cotton mills to make statements from time to time in order that it may be known whether they are in a trust or whether the small shareholders are being oppressed or dominated by the larger stockholders. These measures or reforms, as he views them, are among some of the planks he would write into his platform provided he should decide to enter the gubernatorial race.

Nancy Martin Madden.

Our hearts were more than grieved when the news came October 23rd that Nancy Martin Madden, wife of the late W. B. Madden had gone to her eternal home. She had made her home in Greenville for the past forty-five years moving from this county in the early part of her life. She was in her seventy-eighth year, very amiable and a woman of most excellent character. She gave her heart to God early and live a consistent Christian life. Her remains were brought to Laurens and interred in the Chestnut Ridge cemetery. She will be sadly missed in the community where she lived, as she had a host of friends.

We realize that we have lost a most earnest and sincere friend, one whose memory sweet and precious, will ever linger to help bless and comfort the hearts that loved her.

LAUREN REPLIES TO SENATOR TILLMAN

player of the political game that ever dealt a card. The only man without college training that I ever knew with a classical education. Under that roughness, exquisite literary tastes, a giant mind that has read, digested and assimilated the wisdom of all the ages, and applied it to practical politics. Beneath bluster is the subtle genius of a Tallyrand, he has made every man in South Carolina vote for him one time or another. I laughed with him when the Gonzales solemnly voted for him last summer.

I am no politician, I haven't fooled anybody and Tillman has fooled everybody except himself. I was the seeker for abstract truth, careless of personal fortunes. Tillman was the adroit politician acrobat that could change from a radical to a conservative. I tried to reason it out and was crucified for the reasons, not the result. Woodrow Wilson and Underwood are just where I stood 15 years ago.

His letter is so full of Tillmanism, his arrogance and dominant power over men, that I almost love him for being just what he is. It brings back, gentle brave Hugh Farley, the polished Tindal, dear old "Wash Shell," and "Curly headed Johnny," gathered around the fierce old "Lion," that dominated us all.

I am not going to be swayed one way or the other by self. I am going to act for the best good of the state as I see it, not as directed by anybody. Before Tillman's letter came out or I saw Bleese's statement, I sat down and wrote a paper to my friends in various sections of this state explaining my course and they are free to give it to the press. If it is necessary to fight for peace, then I am ready to fight. I will not be a "dog in the manure," nor be a servile tool to gratify any man's spleen toward Governor Bleese, or to in any manner curtail the rights granted by the people in 1890.

Good citizenship is not measured by loyalty to a man but to a principle. Tillmanism split on that rock. It is tearing ragged holes in the warp that carries the high hopes of our brave good people who are Bleeseites. I will always defend Tillmanism as a defect from Tillman. I place both Tillmanism and Bleeseism as higher and greater than the personality of any man.

I have regretted the evil dispensary graft that prevented Tillman from leading the movement to its full fruition, and I would like to see Bleeseism accomplish that in which Tillmanism failed, and when it does the state will be saved.

Our people must get together. I have conquered this entire state and they will get together. Self-seeking pretenders cannot juggle Almighty God out of the progress he has decreed for the human race.

In the last great fight of all;
May our houses stand together
That the pillars do not fall!"
