

SENATOR TILLMAN WILL SUPPORT SEN. SMITH

farmers and lend them money to finance their crops is a good one, no matter who originated it. I hope to see it worked out in a practical way, and the sooner the better.

Must Make Atonement.
 "I realize only too sadly that my star is sinking to its setting, and McLaurin is very much mistaken if he thinks I have any desire to 'dim the lustre' of his. If it be dimmed it has been by his own actions. Nothing I have said has done it. He says that he 'long ago forgiven me, but my letter shows that I have never been able to forgive him.' He must make atonement to the people of South Carolina, and demonstrate the purity to serve the public weal and the State before I can forgive him.

"His allusion to 'brave Hugh Farley,' the polished Tindal, dear old 'Wash Shell,' and 'Curly-headed Johnny' gathered around the fierce old 'Hon that dominated us all' brings back sad memories of departed friends, who worked with me in the long ago, and who are now on the other side, where I will soon be, too. When I meet them I want to be able to say 'I have kept the faith and fought a good fight for what we all struggled so hard.' The people have shown their appreciation and love for me in more ways than I can ever repay them for. I am trying now to do what I can to keep them from making a monumental blunder, which would be a crime.

Genuine Democracy.
 "Tillmanism is genuine Democracy, the rule of the people, and Tillman believed, and still believes, in the Jeffersonian doctrine—'Teach the people and trust the people.' When they rightly understand things they never make mistakes, for the great heart of the people is always in the right place. But, oh, how pitiful it is, and what fearful blunders they make, when demagogues fill their minds full of sophistries and falsehoods!

"When I telegraphed Governor Blease my congratulations in 1910 and wound up by saying, 'Let the heathen rag.' I meant it. Blease says I did not support him in 1910. I did not in the first primary, but I did in the last race, and he knows it. He has failed of being a good Tillmanite because he puts selfishness above duty and the interests of the people. No Governor can run the office on the basis of being good to his himself alone. I never did it, and I have not run the Senatorship that way. No great man ever does it, but he puts duty above all other considerations, patriotism and love of the State and its people next, and then considers himself last. Blease has made the heathen rage, and has made good people mourn, and almost cry—sometimes it seems out of pure 'cussedness' only.

Must not Expect to Get to Senate.
 "McLaurin can do the State more good right now than at any previous time in his life. He says: 'I am going to act for the best good of the State, as I see it.' Let him make that his religion—cast sentiment and consideration of himself to the wind. If he shows that he has been converted and makes due atonement, the people may forgive him. But it is not worth while for him to expect to get to the Senate, at least not next year. He is not too old to come hereafter perhaps. However, he must serve the people honestly and loyally, and convince them that he is no longer playing for his own ambition and self-aggrandizement—if he would win their confidence again. He says: 'Our people must get together.' I say they ought to get together, and I believe they will get together. But men's ambition should cut no figure in that fight for South Carolina's good name, which would be hopelessly stained if our people should send Blease to the Senate. It is time for demagoguery to take a back seat and statesmanship to come to the front. Above all, high private character and unimpeachable integrity of purpose will govern in the long run. President Wilson has set everybody such a high example of unselfish patriotism that it ought to be easy for small politicians to be picked out and retired—as they ought to be.

COMMON PLEAS COURT NOW IN SESSION

Court Occupied now with the Case of Blakeley vs the C. & W. C. Railroad.
 The court of common pleas, which has been in session since last Monday, has been occupied all of this week with the case of A. Ross Blakeley vs the C. & W. C. railroad. It will be remembered that Mr. Blakeley was injured in a wreck which occurred on the defendant company's track between here and Waterloo several months ago. He is suing the company for damages in the sum of $25,000. A like case and for a like amount and growing out of the same wreck is that of McAlister vs the C. & W. C. This case will probably follow the Blakeley case which is expected to go to the jury about noon today.

All of the other cases have been of little interest to the general public. Owings & Owings won their suit against J. J. Dendy for judgment on a mortgage. In the cases of Williams vs S. A. L., Martin vs S. A. L., and Whitmore vs S. A. L., all very similar and involving a right of way and the question of title by adverse possession, the defendant company was given the verdict. B. R. Todd won a verdict of $25 against the S. A. L. on a freight claim and Brooks & Jones secured a verdict of $43.50 against the Laurens Telephone company for a disputed account. In the case of Duffie vs the Western Union Tel. Co., where the plaintiff was suing for damages because of mental anguish suffered because of a delayed telegram, a verdict of $50 was given the plaintiff.

The court will likely continue for the rest of the week.

The market opened barely steady at a decline of 15 to 18 points. Weak Liverpool cables added to the pressure at the start. Offerings were well taken.
