LAURENS, S. C., JUNE 9, 1915.

The Advertiser will be glad to receive the local news of all the communities in the county. Correspondents are requested to sign their names to the contributions. Letters should not be mailed later than Monday morning.

The city of Greenwood has been in the throes of a fight to abolish pool rooms. The fight resulted in a sort of "dog fall", council refusing to close them up but consented to throw very severe restrictions around their operations. The restrictions are intended largely to prevent minors from entering the pool rooms, but other restrictions are put in force to prohibit gambling by players and on-lookers. Some such restrictions would be beneficial if put into force in every city.

The movement to have Laurens selected as one of the cattle concentrating and marketing points is certainly in the right direction. Because of its numerous streams, affording water and adjacent pasturage, the county is admirably suited for much cattle grazing the greater part of the year and with its other products at hand feeding in the winter months could be profitably followed. One great former hindrance to cattle raising, the cattle tick, has already been gotten rid of and the other one equally as great, the lack of marketing facilities, is aimed at in this movement.

THE CAMPAIGN.

It is just two months before the primary is to be held to elect a successor to J. T. Johnson, recently elevated to the federal bench, and yet very little interest has been aroused. It is true that the candidates have been invited to address planners, formal orders, school gatherings, sunbeam societies, etc., have accepted with a great deal of pleasure, spoken and shook hands generally, but no one of them has yet gotten much farther than they were when they announced. Maybe we will have to wait, and that will be good for us no doubt, until the speaking campaign opens before any great interest will be aroused.

What will be the main issues around which the campaign is to be waged have not yet developed. At one time the postmastership at Greenville promised to be a fruitful source of bickering in Greenville county, but the appointment of D. B. Tranter left the candidates, who had begun to harp on this, high and dry and on the lookout for more ammunition. It is said that several of them, since the settlement of this, have actually decided to discuss national issues. As profitable as this would be to both the candidates and their hearers, we hardly believe that it will be found practicable to do so while all of them, being members of the same party, are practically agreed on all important questions. Unfortunately, unless the unexpected happens, we will have to put up with a campaign on local issues out of which generally grows an arraignment of class against class.

No candidate of "outstanding strength" has yet appeared, though there are several of them who have not developed enough strength to be considered in the running. Probably as the campaign progresses, some issue will be injected that will divide the campaigners into two divisions with one candidate at the head of each.

The Advertiser is not partial to any candidate in the race and will take no part in furthering the interests of any of them, except, if we choose, to make comment on the principles and policies any one of them might advocate. As the question of personal qualifications is likely to be uppermost in the campaign and as the hustlers and the advertising columns are the places to prove this, we will leave it to the candidates to further their own interests through these agencies.

The Advertiser is in receipt of an invitation to the commencement exercises of Trinity College, N. C., where Mr. Carroll Dial Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Gray, of Gray Court, graduates this year.

COOPERATIVE CREAMERY.

Was Conducted at Clemson College during the Past Year and Plans are being Made for their Extension. Cooperative creameries operated during the past year under the direction of Clemson college have proved a great financial success, according to figures given out yesterday by W. W. Long, State agent for the demonstration, who was among the visitors in Columbia. The value of the product marketed during the past 12 months was $11,217.29. The creamery routes served 217 farmers, owning 650 cows. The college also collected 4,025 dozen eggs, which were sold at an average of 16 cents a dozen. The eggs were sold for $645.50.

The following table shows the results of the Clemson creamery and poultry association for the past 12 months:

Month	Lbs Fat	Price	Value
September	508	$0.35	$177.82
October	846	.35	296.15
November	1,323	.35	463.05
December	2,001	.35	700.35
January	2,900	.30	870.00
February	4,327	.30	1,298.10
March	7,108	.30	2,132.40
April	8,138	.29	2,359.42
May	10,000	.29	2,900.00

Total ... $11,217.29
Discussing the creamery yesterday Mr. Long said:

"When we have worked out the problem of making and marketing butter under summer conditions at our creamery at Clemson college, and when Prof. R. L. Shields, head of the animal husbandry and dairy division of the college, and B. H. Rawl, head of the dairy division of the federal department of agriculture, state that we are prepared to extend the creamery work, it is our wish to see that the farmers and business men of Columbia come forward and organize a cooperative creamery, at Columbia. Then we will give it all the assistance possible from a scientific and technical standpoint.

"We hope to be in position to undertake this work this fall, if the farmers and business men of Columbia will be in position to organize the creamery.

"This policy will be pursued in establishing other creameries about the State as rapidly as we think conditions justify.

"It may be interesting to note just how rapidly our creamery has developed at Clemson. We not only collect butter fat on these routes, but we are also collecting eggs and marketing them in New York. Eggs have been cheaper this spring than in the past ten years and while the farmer has not received an increase over the local price he has found a ready cash market."

Much Interest in Meetings.

Interest is daily growing in the revival services being conducted at the First Methodist church lead by Rev. B. R. Turnipseed, of Marion. Each congregation sees itself outstripped with the next one, Sunday night's congregation filling the spacious church almost to overflowing. Rev. Turnipseed is an eloquent and forceful preacher and compels attention throughout his discourses. The services will continue at least through this week, one in the morning at 10:30 and one in the evening at 8:30. Rev. J. R. T. Major, the pastor, has invited the public generally, regardless of denominational affiliations, to attend.

Citrus Fruit Shipments.

Tampa, Fla., June 7.—With the close of the citrus fruit shipping season but a few days away records kept by the Florida Citrus Exchange show that 26,291 carloads of such fruit have been shipped during the 1914-1915 season, making a total of 8,676,030 boxes. The crop will total 9,000,000 boxes.

TWO DIE IN COLLISION.

Young Women Killed when Train Strikes Automobile.

Macon, Ga., June 7.—Miss Alice Wrigley was instantly killed and Miss Mary Pearson was so badly injured that she died late this afternoon when an automobile driven by Miss Pearson was struck by a Central of Georgia railroad passenger train, ten miles west of this city, this noon. Both of the young women belonged to Macon's society set.

Miss Pearson was brought to a hospital in this city, where it was found that she had sustained a broken back, broken leg and arm and internal injuries.

The young women were riding in a car owned by W. M. Davis, which Miss Pearson often drove.

The collision caused an explosion and the fire that followed destroyed the wooden work of the machine. Nothing but a few broken and bent pieces of iron remained of the car.

Miss Pearson was a daughter of the late Sam H. Pearson, who was a prominent business man. Miss Wrigley's father, now dead, was cashier of the Old First National Bank here.

GERMAN ARMED SHIP SUNK.

The Hermann Von Wissmann Reported Destroyed.

London, June 7.—The German armed steamer Hermann Von Wissmann has been destroyed near Sphinzhaven, according to a statement given out this evening by the British official press bureau.

The statement says the Hermann Von Wissman was destroyed by shell fire of a British naval force. The steamer has been lying in Lake Nyassa, Southeast Africa, since her disablement by the Nyassaland steamer Gwendolyn last August.

Sphinzhaven is in German territory on the eastern shore of Lake Nyassa. It was bombarded and captured May 20. The Germans were driven out with considerable loss by a bayonet charge. The only British casualty was one man slightly wounded.

Gave Delightful Play.

The play given by the Boy Scouts of Laurens last Thursday evening was well acted and heartily enjoyed by the audience. Each boy played his part exceedingly well, showing fine training and talent. The play was written by a Methodist minister, a resident of this state, and was prepared especially for the Boy Scouts. The camp scenes depicted in the play were most interesting and the songs that accompanied the scenes well sung. Mr. Cecil Roper, a member of the Boy Courts, played the accompaniments on the piano and played them well.

Greenville Police Chief.

Greenville, June 7.—J. D. Noe, formerly first sergeant of the Greenville police, was elected chief today by the police commissioners, succeeding the late James Holcombe. Second Sergeant Cooksey was promoted to the rank of first sergeant and Patrolman Alexander was made second sergeant.
