C. S. ALLEN,

LOOKING AHEAD.

Little has yet appeared in print, but a great deal of discussion is nevertheless going on as to political eventualities in South Carolina during the new year soon to be born.
The summer of 1916 will see us again in the throes of a state-wide political upheaval for the selection of State, County and Congressional officers.

Very naturally the interest centres most generally in the choice of the State officials, yet there is no dearth of interest in the prospect for a lively mix-up in several of the Congressional Districts, including, perhaps, the Sixth, while the local county campaign is most likely to be the livest proposition of its kind that Florence County has ever experienced.

From nowhere in particular but pervading the air nevertheless with a persistence that suggests some inspired origin there comes ever and anon the intimation that Governor Manning will not be permitted to take his seat for the proverbial second term without a struggle. Former Governor Blease has openly avowed his purpose of contesting with the present incumbent the coveted place, while persistent rumor credits Mr. Cooper with the intention of tossing his hat in the ring. Mr.
Blease's declaration lacks somewhat of the fire of enthusiasm that usually accompanies his promulgations and it is possible that his essay is more to keep him in the public eye than to press his claims for Mr. Manning's seat. It is just as likely that he may step aside, throwing his influence to some other candidate—anyone save Manning—and groom himself for the contest for Senator Tillman's togo four years hence.

But Blease is an astute politician.
He finds himself confronted with the two horns of a very serious dilemma, and his realization of his ambition to sit in the halls of the mighty in Washington will depend very strongly upon his ability to select the one that leads on to victory rather than that which beckons but to defeat. If he himself stays in the race for Governor he stakes all on the result at the August polls. Defeat then would mean defeat in the Senatorial race four years hence. It matters not whether Blease should go down before either Manning or some other candidate—say Cooper. Doubtless he would be in the second race with one or the other, but that he could win on the second primary against either is extremely problematical. At the same time to permit Manning to go back to Columbia would be to invite a very formidable contest for Mr. Blease in the 1918 race for the senate. It, therefore, seems on the boards that Blease is just as likely to keep out of the next campaign and throw his influence against Manning as that he will go in. His chief concern will be to defeat Manning because Manning represents the very antithesis of Blease and Bleasism.

But if both he and Cooper should come in? This contingency will present many complications. Blease would undoubtedly poll enough votes to go into the second primary—the others would be divided between the law and order candidates. There can be little doubt that Manning would have the advantage over Cooper for the force of tradition combined with the force of already complete organization would be difficult to overcome. It must be remembered that Cooper and Manning's platform must be the same. The question will be one strictly of men and not of issues. In this challenge Cooper has no advantage. Manning has played the part and acted the man.
Such mistakes as he has made have been mistakes of judgment and not of purpose. Cooper would, therefore, have to convince the people that he was the better man and this he cannot do.

The only hope for Cooper would be in the case that Blease should stay out of the race—then he would get the Blease influence (and be beholden to Blease in the Senatorial race in 1918.) But there would be another situation created by Cooper's and Blease's joint entrance into the lists against Manning. It would be this: If Manning should win over Cooper then having opposed Manning primarily Cooper's friends will logically go over to Blease. If, on the contrary, Cooper should win over Manning in the first go round there would be felt a great deal of resentment on the part of Manning's friends and the likelihood is that many would go to Blease thus increasing the possibility of his election over Cooper.

If then Mr. Cooper and his friends sincerely hope for and are patriotic enough to work for the final defeat of Blease and the triumph of the principles for which he stood so gallantly at Manning's side in 1914, he must sink his ambition and work to assure Manning's second term. This would strengthen Cooper's chances to be elected Governor two years later. If he refuses to do this he must play squarely into Blease's hand whether the former dictator concludes to enter the race or not.

Certain it is that the only man in whose hand the banner of law and order can be placed permanently on the rampart of the old State of South Carolina is that of the present Governor.—Florence Times.

The Habit of Taking Cold.
With many people taking cold is a habit, but fortunately one that is easily broken. Take a cold sponge bath every morning when you first get out of bed—not ice cold, but a temperature of about 90 degrees F. Also sleep with your window up. Do this and you will seldom take cold. When you do take cold take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and get rid of it as quickly as possible. Obtainable everywhere.

PRINCETON NEWS.

Princeton, Jan. 9.—Christmas holidays are with the past and school has opened here again. The teachers after spending the holidays at their respective homes have resumed work with renewed vigor.

The young people seem to have had a time, had many parties and some even tipped the "fantastic toe". The students from the different colleges have returned to their work after pleasantly spending Christmas with home folks. Among the number were Messrs Walter Davis, Elbert Freeman and Bramlett Wood to Clemson; Messrs Arnold and Ed Knight to Bally Military Institute, Miss Kate Bagwell to Coker; and Miss Jean Knight to Central High school.

The young ladies of this section who are teaching were with their homefolks during the holidays. Among the number were Miss Olive Knight who teaches near Darlington, Miss Kiddie Arnold who teaches at Moun-ville, Miss Mary Bagwell who teaches near Honca Path, Miss Hettie Stone near Kershaw and Miss Maude Sharpe near Columbia.

The members of the Y. W. A. society were very pleasantly entertained by Miss Estelle Taylor at her home near here on Thursday afternoon, Dec.
28th. Several games were played, after which refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Miss Ludie. Souvenirs in the form of miniature bells were presented to the guests by the hostess.

Mr. Allen Sullivan and family have moved to Simpsonville. Their many friends regret to lose them, but wish them success in their new home.

Miss Clara Traynham and Mr.
Charlie Davenport were happily married on Sunday afternoon, Dec. 26, by Rev. R. W. Burts at his residence.

IN FIVE MINUTES! NO INDIGESTION, GAS, OR SOUR, ACID STOMACH

The moment "Pape's Diapepsin" reaches the stomach all distress goes.
"Really does" put bad stomach in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspeptic gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach regulator in the world.

Miss Garlington Resigns.

Miss Jayne C. Garlington, who has been in charge of the canning work and the Tomato club work in Anderson county for the past year has resigned her position and has already discontinued her duties. Miss Gar-lington's move is quite unexpected and she explains the same by saying that she is going to New York city within the next few months for a course of studies.

Just what plans for the continuation of this work or its abandonment have not been announced, though it is not generally believed that another agent will be appointed.—Anderson Daily Mail.

DON'T SCOLD, MOTHER!
THE CROSS CHILD
BILIOUS, FEVERISH

Look at tongue! If coated, clean little stomach, liver, bowels.
Don't scold your fretful, peevish child. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with sour waste.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, indigestion, diarrhoea, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul waste, the sour bile and fermenting food passes out of the bowels and you have a well and playful child again.
Children love this harmless "fruit laxative," and mothers can rest easy after giving it because it never fails to make their little "insides" clean and sweet.

Keep it handy, Mother! A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Remember there are counterfeiters sold here, so surely look and see that yours is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.
