"GREENVILLE JOY RIDE"

Dear Advertiser Readers:

The "last chapter" in The Advertiser contest was written when Mr. and Mrs. Moorhead carried three of the would-be-winners of an automobile to Greenville to see the play that has a national fame "The Birth of a Nation." Promptly at the appointed hour, 10:30 a. m., the hosts met their guests at the Advertiser office and in a few moments the party, warmly wrapped in a jolly good humor, with the hearty good wishes of The Advertiser man and Mr. Hopkins who stood near, ringing in our ears, glided out of Laurens with our faces turned toward the mountain City.

"Aunt Kate" sat in the front seat with the man who held the wheel to keep him from speeding and to keep out of a ditch if possible. (I tell you readers here though, in strictest confidence, had anything at all happened there is no doubt in my own mind but what I'd grabbed that wheel and put us all in a ditch). Mrs. Moorhead and the two other guests, Mrs. Dial of Cross Hill and Mrs. Weathers of Pen Ridge were on the back seat.

Genial, likeable, boyish "Dick" Moorhead proved to be an ideal host and we had a merry trip.

Only one little near accident—Mr. Hopkins, just before we left Laurens, told us he had dreamed the night before that just before we reached Greenville in going up a little hill our car bucked and refused to go. Of course we kept on the lookout for that hill and equally of course just before getting to it the sound of the car told the owners that there was a little something amiss. "What's the matter Dick?" said the little madame from the rear. "To tell you the truth, Mabel, I don't know." Up spoke Aunt Kate, "That's the truth, Mrs. Moorhead. He doesn't. I can testify to the fact that he has pulled out and turned every lever and unscrewed every bolt on the wheel here!" The laugh was turned though when after the car responded and quickly made the hill the man at the wheel said, "We made it all right, thanks to the help Aunt Kate gave pushing. Didn't you all hear her grunting and pushing?" and I record I did!

We arrived at the Otteray and found our room awaiting us. After a short wait during which our good-natured host had his car looked over (and by the way he found out what the matter was) he returned and gave us a ride over the city. He carried us to his Alma Mater, also that of that Bud of mine—Furman University, and also round by G. W. C. Some of our party got into the 5 and 10c store and we began to think if their pocketbooks would just hold out we'd miss the show. I never wish I was plum rich till I go in Woolworth's 5 and 10c store, therefore I didn't go this time. No use to pray "lead us not into temptation" and then go deliberately in the way of it! We headed the young matrons off of a very enticing counter and got them back to the hotel. We had, therefore to dine in a hurry for "the watch that never varied" was ticking away the minutes and the curtain would rise on time of course. When we reached the opera house we found a crowded house and people were begging at the door to be admitted for standing room. Our seats had been bought in advance by our hosts. The first pictures were on when the usher led us, elbowing his way through the darkness and the crowd to where our seats were awaiting us.

"The world forgetting and by the world forgot" we leaned back in our places and prepared ourselves to weep—to get mad enough to fight and maybe to smile between the tears as our eyes beheld the scenes depicted so faithfully of "the days that tried men's souls", and in our next, dear reader, I shall tell you something of how I was impressed by the thrilling play, "The Birth of a Nation". Till then, Always lovingly, "Aunt Kate."

Big Lot of Cotton.

More than $50,000 worth of cotton was sold on the Greenwood market yesterday at an average of 11 3/4 cents. Mr. J. W. Simmons, of Cross Hill, assisted by Mr. F. B. Hipp, of Greenwood, made the purchases from a number of cotton holders. The lot consisted of 800 bales, bought by the Piedmont Manufacturing Company. Landed in Piedmont the average price will be about 12 cents.

Mr. Simmons has purchased several large lots on the local market since the first of January.—Greenwood Daily Journal.

For a Bilious Attack.

When you have a severe headache, accompanied by a coated tongue, loathing of food, constipation, torpid liver, vomiting of partly digested food and then bile, you may know that you have a severe bilious attack. While you may be quite sick there is much consolation in knowing that relief may be had by taking three of Chamberlain's Tablets. They are prompt and effectual. Obtainable everywhere.

Government Supervision of Warehouses.

Chairman Lever, of the house committee on agriculture, has introduced in the lower chamber of congress a bill providing for the licensing and inspection of warehouses by the agricultural department at Washington and specifying the conditions under which commodities stored in such licensed warehouses may be weighed, graded and classified by federal officials. The purpose of the measure is to improve the facilities of farmers in the matter of obtaining loans on crops in storage, and the theory upon which it is based is that, with warehouses under government supervision and issuing receipts under terms and conditions proscribed by federal authority, the farmer storing his cotton or grain in such warehouses will have a storage certificate which will be more acceptable as collateral by the banks than the receipts of warehousemen lacking the governmental stamp of approval.

That this theory is well founded is indicated by the fact that the bill is reported to have the endorsement of Mr. Harding, of the federal reserve board, who has made a special study of loans on warehouse receipts. But no great familiarity with the subject is required to enable one to understand how the licensing and supervision of warehouses by the government would act in the nature of a government guarantee and so establish the confidence of the bankers, lack of which has heretofore operated to the disadvantage of the farmers in securing loans on warehouse receipts. In this connection it is pointed out by the New York Journal of Commerce that when the cotton loan fund committee was formed, shortly after the outbreak of the war, the committee deemed it necessary to issue a long list of specifications regarding warehouses, compliance with which was made a condition precedent to the advancement of any money. Again, in September of last year, when officials of the federal reserve board were preparing to take care of prospective demands for loans based on cotton warehouse receipts as collateral, a committee was appointed which, after investigating the warehouse situation in the South, issued a statement to the banks, advising them as to the character of existing warehouses whose certificates were considered safe as collateral. As the pending measure, as we understand it, is not compulsory, but leaves it optional with the owners of warehouses to operate or not, just as they may severally see fit, under government license and supervision, it is not easy to see how its enactment could work any particular hardship on anybody; while we can well understand how not only the farmers, but every other interest legitimately concerned, would be benefited by the general adoption of a system which would put the warehouse receipt practically beyond question as collateral for a bank loan.—Norfolk Virginian-Pilot.

A CHILD GETS CROSS, SICK AND FEVERISH WHEN CONSTIPATED

Look Mother! Its tongue is coated clean little liver and bowels.

If your little one's tongue is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative". Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs" which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

BEATS THE MOB TO IT.

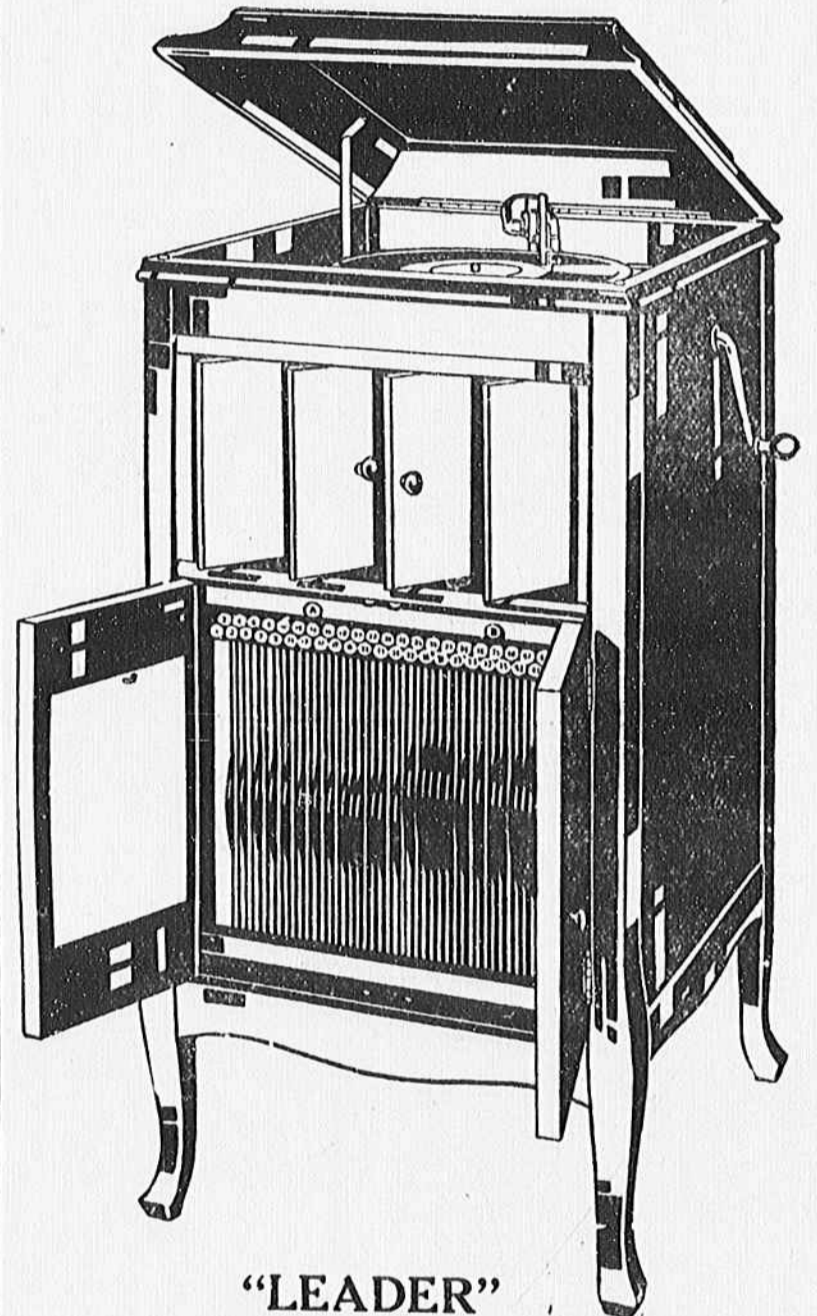

Negro Prisoner Takes His Own Life. Tunica, Miss., Feb. 9.—Rather than face the danger of a probable lynching Lave Hagen, a negro, committed suicide today by slashing his throat with a razor after he had been placed under arrest. The negro fell from the horse he was riding and died almost instantly. Hagen was captured today by a posse after he had shot and slightly wounded Cal Smith, town marshal here.

Something Good.

Those who hate nasty medicine should try Chamberlain's Tablets for constipation. They are pleasant to take and their effect is so agreeable and so natural that you will not realize it has been produced by a medicine. Obtainable everywhere.
