

MADDER NEWS.

Madden, Sept. 26.—The date makes me think that the fall of the year draweth nigh and also the time to pay all those debts made so gladly in the glad spring time.

The fruit tree agent and the pecan man (alas! alas! how many fortunes were made on the beautiful representations of that pecan grove), and now the time for paying is here. May we all live to eat the healthful nut that is to become more and more the diet of Southern folks as the years come and go. See? I even learned the formula for quick selling but rest assured I did not try. It is always the "other half" that does that at our house.

We had a splendid crowd out to baptizing services at New Prospect Sunday. Since automobiles are the rule instead of the exception now, among farmer folks our congregations are larger. Ten candidates, 8 girls and 2 boys were baptised by the pastor, Rev. J. A. Martin.

We were glad to see the faces of our Beaver Dam friends, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Coleman, Mr. and Mrs. Will Teague, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Benjamin, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Benjamin with us Sunday.

Mrs. Sallie Madden of the Holly Grove section, worshipped with us Sunday and was the guest at dinner of her aunt, Mrs. Virginia Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinkscales of Laurens, who lived in our neighborhood last year, were here for the baptising Sunday and were pleasantly greeted by friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Martin and Messrs. Roberts and Morgan of Laurens were glad to see us Sunday.

Mr. Paul Finley of Anderson, is here on a visit to his grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Finley.

Today Uncles John Finley and Tom Langston leave as delegates for the Laurens Association convening at Beahabara. We all regret that Mr. J. A. P. Moore, our faithful treasurer is not able also to attend. Few churches have as faithful and loyal member as he is to Prospect and we all are concerned over his continued illness.

Mr. John Henry and Mr. and Mrs. Pitts Henry and daughter, who have been here for the summer, leave for Florida today. They will be accompanied back by the family and their kinsman, J. M. Dean.

The school opened here Monday with quite a large attendance. We are hopeful for a successful year.

We are glad to hear that our near neighbors for another year are to be Mr. and Mrs. John Brown, now of Cheraw. They are to live at the old Teague place latterly the home place of J. A. P. Moore.

Friends and relatives here were pleased at a recent editorial of one of our boys, Dr. G. Watts Cunningham in The New York Times and widely copied throughout the State, dealing with Bleasden from the viewpoint of a philosopher. The analysis in our humble opinion will be hard to beat.

Entertainment at Lebanon. There will be an entertainment at Lebanon Methodist church next Saturday night, Sept. 30. No admission fee will be charged but a fee will be offered for the Orphanage will be taken up. Very appropriate program has been arranged and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Going to Hodges. Mr. Percy Moore, the county demonstrator agent, states to the Advertiser that he is commissioned by the Department to go to Hodges next week to get some stalks of cotton for exhibit at the State fair. Weather permitting, he will make this trip next Wednesday, Oct. 11th. He will be glad to have at least a few farmers of the county meet him at the Court House about 9 o'clock to make the trip with him. If the farmers of Laurens county could see what has been done by some of the farmers at Hodges through growing crimson clover every winter on the same land, there would be no trouble in getting them to stick at it till they too succeed.

TRESPASSING CONTINUES. Many Persons Killed on Railway Tracks Last Year. Atlanta, Ga., September 26.—Death overtook 171 persons, while walking on tracks, swinging trains, or otherwise trespassing on the property of the Southern Railway during the year ended June 30th.

Despite all warnings of its danger, the practice of trespassing on railroad property seems on the increase. For the three previous years the number of trespassers killed on the Southern was as follows: 1913-155; 1914-126; 1915-146, making with 1916 a total of 601 lives sacrificed to carelessness.

Statistics show that the great majority of railroad trespassers killed are useful citizens. Wage earners, using the tracks while walking to and from their work, furnish a large proportion while fully a third are school boys, killed while "hopping" trains.

"COME-TO-SUNDAY SCHOOL"

Special Day Selected as "Come-to-Sunday School Day."

Spartanburg, S. C., Sept. 21, 1916. At a special meeting of the Central Committee of the South Carolina Sunday School Association, held in the office in the Chapman Building, September 20, February 11, 1917, was adopted as the State-wide "Come-to-Sunday School Day," for South Carolina.

The General Secretary, R. D. Webb, was directed to invite all of the Sunday Schools of all the denominations in the State to join in a co-operative campaign to bring to the Sunday Schools on that day the largest attendance ever recorded on a single day in South Carolina. "Go-to-Sunday School Day" was originated by the Kentucky Sunday School Association a few years ago as a state-wide interdenominational movement. Since that time, it has been adopted by other State Sunday School Associations and some of the denominations. The purpose of the "Come-to-Sunday School Day" in South Carolina is to get as many people as possible, not ordinarily in the habit of going to Sunday School, to come at least one Sunday; then make them welcome on this Sunday, inform them of the work, provide them with suitable classes and competent teachers, and use every effort to enroll them as permanent members of the school. As a result of the observance of this day in Kentucky, many thousands have been added to the membership of the Sunday Schools, and the average attendance has been greatly increased. Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina have agreed to observe Sunday, February 11, 1917, as "Come-to-Sunday School Day." All Sunday Schools of all denominations are invited to share in this concerted effort to reach the un-reached, enlist the indifferent, and to permanently hold up our Sunday Schools. The South Carolina Sunday School Association will gladly furnish all supplies free of charge.

Quiet Marriage. The marriage of Miss Louise Frances Copeland, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Copeland, of Laurens, S. C., to Holcolm Alexander McCue, of Bluefield, W. Va., was quietly celebrated Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the residence of Miss Constance Anderson, 291 East Franklin Street, Rev. Russell Cecil, D., performed the ceremony in the presence of a small company of near relatives and intimate friends. The parlors were decorated in palms, ferns and pink roses, a color scheme of pink and green being carried out in the decorations everywhere. Mr. and Mrs. McCue left later in the afternoon for a wedding journey.

Friends and relatives here were pleased at a recent editorial of one of our boys, Dr. G. Watts Cunningham in The New York Times and widely copied throughout the State, dealing with Bleasden from the viewpoint of a philosopher. The analysis in our humble opinion will be hard to beat.

Accepts Position. Miss Wynona Chaney has accepted a position as Cashier for the Virginia Life Insurance company and took up her work in the office last week.

DIALS NEWS.

The annual interdenominational Sunday school convention which convened at this place last Wednesday and Thursday, was a success in every way. Nearly all the churches of the county had representatives one or both days of the convention. A fine program had been arranged, and the large crowd that was present both days of the meeting learned some interesting facts regarding Sunday school work. The committee was indeed fortunate to secure such well known Sunday school workers to be present both days as Mr. Webb, Miss Agnes Ravenel, and Miss Millwee Davis.
