In Honor of Mrs. Christopher. Another delightful affair in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Christopher was the dinner party given Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. N. B. MRS. IDA OWENS BABB. A pall of sadness fell over the entire Rabun community early Saturday morning June 23, when the sad news went out that Mrs. T. F. Babb had passed away. She had been in declining health for over a year, and bore her affliction with great patience. Her faith in the Saviour was ever manifest and did not shrink during the last ordeal of sickness and death. No clouds obscured her bright vision of divine glory. Mrs. Babb was born July 16, 1862 near Rabun Creek Baptist church where in her early girlhood days she became a member, for which we can truly say she gave herself to Christ, and the extension of his kingdom. years she was secretary and treasurer of the W. M. S. of her church of which both sustain a great loss by her death, as a Christian she was impressive by the quiet and repose of her faith, the earnestness of her motive, the sincerity of her purpose, the purity of her life, and the steady tenacity of her efforts to do good. She was a faithful wife, and a devoted mother. The funeral service was held at Rabun Creek church June 21 at two o'clock, presided over by her pastor, Rev. George Hopkins. Beautiful flowers expressed the love of friends far and near, and the presence of a large company told of the large place she occupied in the hearts of her friends. She is survived by her husband, Mr. T. F. Babb and three children, Mrs. Smith J. Martin, Miss Allie Babb and Mr. T. Houston Babb. She is also survived by her mother, Mrs. Nancy Owens and one brother, Mr. W. D. Owens, all of this community and a number of relatives and friends to mourn her death. GOOD NEWS. Many Laurens Readers Have Heard of and Praised Them. "Good news travels fast," and the many had back sufferers in Laurens are glad to learn where relief may be found. Many a lame, weak and aching back is had no more, thanks to Doan's Kidney Pills. Our citizens are telling the good news of their experiences with this tested remedy. Here is an example worth reading: R. J. Franks, prop. grocery, 429 Fleming St., Laurens, says: "The first symptom of kidney trouble in my case was backache. When I stopped to pick up anything, a sharp pain darted through my back and I had to brace myself in order to straighten up. I had to pass the kidney secretions too often and the flow was scanty and painful. I suffered from dizzy spells and almost toppled over when I was walking. I had suffered off and on for six months when I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Posey's Drug Store. After using one box, I felt better, and two boxes cured me." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy--get Doan's Kidney Pills--the same that Mr. Franks had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

"Pride" in "Pelle" Now Fighting in Italian Trench. When motion picture audiences go to the Opera House on Tuesday to see "Pride," the second play of the Metro-Grey series, Seven Deadly Sins, in which Hilbrook Blinn is to star, they will see Le Conte de Fraix and La Baronne d'Arbez moving through the play with all of the dignity necessary to their noble roles, but the players who created these parts, Guido Colucci and his wife, Lena D'Avril, will be over-seers, doing their bits for the Allies. Mr. Colucci is an Italian reservist, who before his connection with Metro-Chure Pictures, appeared in Metro-World and Ivan Pictures. Recently he was featured by Edison in a five-reel feature "The Tell-Tale Ship." Just as he was completing his work in "Pride" he received word that his class had been called to the Italian colors, and he stepped out of his role of Count to serve as a common soldier in the ranks. His wife, whose stage name is Lena D'Avril played La Baronne d'Arbez in "Pride." She is a French girl, and was well-known in Paris as a dancer before coming to this country. When he Guido marched away, the wife realized that a place near her husband in that shell-swept country was better than the fascinations of studio life in peaceful America with her spouse away, and so she went with him to become a Red Cross nurse.
