CHAUTAUQUA PROGRAM PLEASES THE PATRONS

Large Audiences Have Greeted the Artists and High Praise has been Given Every Lecture and Performance. Redpat's 1918 Chautauqua has fully measured up to its reputation gained here in the past, according to the comments of patrons, and the program thus far has met with praise and approval, although it is conceded that the best of the program probably remains to be given. The Chautauqua opened Saturday afternoon with a splendid concert by the Croation Orchestra and the evening consisted of a stular concert with a lecture by that veteran of the platform, "Col." Lou J. Beauchamp. Col. Beauchamp and the Croation Orchestra kindly assisted the Red Cross workers Sunday afternoon when a mammoth Red Cross rally was held in the Chautauqua tent. The second day's program consisted of a grand concert by Alfred Hiles Bergen with assisting artists, with a lecture on "Business and the War" by Frank Mulholland at night. The afternoon performance was interrupted by rain, but in the face of threatening clouds a large audience gathered in the evening to hear the artists and Mr. Mulholland. Mr. Mulholland gave a graphic account of his recent visit to France and made a stirring plea for united support of the government in the war.

Yesterday afternoon, following a delightful piano and violin concert, Chancellor Geo. H. Bradford lectured on "Rebuilding the World"; and this was pronounced by many as the feature of the program that far, but in the evening Miss Marnery Maxwell fairly captivated her audience with her voice of rare sweetness and her graceful manner on the platform. Miss Moore, in charge of the morning children's hour has already won the hearts of the little ones, and they are having a great time each day listening to her stories and preparing for "Circus Time in Fairyland" which comes Friday night.

The program for the rest of the week, each number of which has been praised highly in cities already visited by the Chautauqua, is as follows: Wednesday Afternoon, Baritone Recital—Knight MacGregor (Scotch Baritone with Pianist) Lecture, "Economics in the Home". Mrs. Christine Frederick Wednesday Night, Reital in Scotch Costume

Thursday Afternoon, Concert—Chocolate Soldier Orchestra Lecture, "In C. Men's Shoes" Onie Fred Sweet Thursday Night, "The Chocolate Soldier"—Light Opera Friday Afternoon, Concert—Chicago Orchestral Band Exhibition of War Posters of the Allied Nations. Friday Night, "Circus Time in Fairyland"—In charge of Children's Worker. Lecture, "A Soldier of the Sky" Capt. George Frederick Campbell Saturday Afternoon, Concert—Dunbar's Orchestra "The Man Who Stayed at Home" Clarissa Harrold (Thrilling reading of war play, showing ramifications of German Spy System). Exhibition of 100 Raemakers' War Cartoons. Saturday Night, Dunbar's Revue, featuring the Grand Parade of the Allies.
