

"AUNT KATE" ON PEACE.

Dear Advertiser Readers:

A new date in history has been fixed for future school children. The 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month, of 1918—what happened? The armistice was signed which stopped the world war and which practically spelled Peace! Yet us all rise and sing "Praise God from whom all blessings flow". I don't think I ever felt any more like it, surely. In the quiet farm homes there was no great parade made when the good news came, but a great gratitude welled up in the heart, a chokiness in the throat, a mistiness in the eyes, while upward went the fervent prayer, "Thank God!" "The world will never see such heroism as was displayed by the boys in gray from 61 to 65," I used to hear memorial orators say. They will have to modify that now. The sons have proved worthy of their sires. My heart and your heart glows with patriotic pride as we read day after day of the vallant deeds of the 30th Division in France. Our own Co. D (known to us as Traynham Guards) was in that unit and we are looking forward to that good day when the remaining ones shall march up the street back to the old armory—heroes every one. To the ones who found a resting place in sunny France, in song and story

"We will bid their deeds live on forever, And their souls to find a peace with God".

It was a pathetic picture painted when on July 4th, 1917, Pershing's army first marched through Paris. Women wept as they cried "They come—the brave Americans". To one another they said, "How long can this little army hold against that horde?" Days passed by and silently the boys in khaki from over the seas came, a steady, never-ending stream. The time came and the hour when they should prove what was in them. Possibly it was the saddest hour of the whole war to the French. Their morale was slowly ebbing away. When that great offensive started the last of June and the first days of July, the Americans were placed on the road that led to Paris—Chateau-Thierry. "What place is this, Pard, we're going to take and where does this road lead, which we are going to hold?" asked a long, lank soldier in khaki, when the orders came. Call it the psychological moment, call it whatever you please when the khaki lads from America proved their valor—when Chateau-Thierry was taken, when the Germans were stopped on the road to Paris—the joy of the French knew no bounds and from that moment no one doubted (if they did before) what manner of soldiers the laughing Americans were going to be!

The allied cause is victorious and thank God for the part played by American valor. Pershing knew what the words meant when he stood by the tomb of that illustrious Frenchman as he bared his head and solemnly said, "Lafayette, we have come."

The heroes have not all been facing guns, however. Back home are ones who did everything in their power to back the soldiers. Laurens county is full of such men. It takes the highest kind of courage to be the leaders in different patriotic activities, such as the Red Cross, Liberty Loans, W. S. S. and now the United War Workers. Our district has had two such men, J. H. Powers and Sam Dorroh. They have worked like Trojans in any and all drives. An automobile horn sounded at the farm house and I went to the door the other day. The voice of neighbor Powers greeted me, "Will you let the two United War workers come in?" "Sure, and gladly," said I. I hope by the time this is in print that all the needed sum has been raised. But, dear reader, if you have failed in this, get busy and hunt up the chairman in your district and do your part. If Wilson did not think it necessary he'd not sanction it. Do your part and be happy with the rest of us. We are all glad and deep in our hearts we sing the words "The boys are coming home."

One of the most common causes of insomnia and restlessness is indigestion. Take one of Chamberlain's Tablets immediately after supper and see if you do not rest better and sleep better. They only cost a quarter.
