You must have Health, Strength and Endurance to fight Colds, Grip and Influenza. When your blood is not in a healthy condition and does not circulate properly, your system is unable to withstand the Winter cold.

SCIENCE MAKES THEM DURABLE

So—These Soles Save You Shoe Money

"I have been wearing my shoes with Neolin Soles nearly a year, and they are apparently in as good condition as when I bought them."—written August, 1918, by W. H. Cooke, Officer, A.E.F., France.

Only Neolin Soles could endure a test like this. That they do so is because of the tough durability built into them by a scientific process. To cut your shoe bills down, buy shoes with these long-wearing soles. They come in many styles for men, women, and children.

Remember—Neolin Soles are flexible and waterproof, too, and are available everywhere for re-soles. They are made by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels—guaranteed to outwear all other heels.

DIALS NEWS.

Dials, March 17.—The people of the community were treated to a surprise marriage recently when Miss Jewell Curry and Mr. Conway Gray, both of this place were married. Thursday afternoon, March 6th, the young people motored to Fountain Inn where they were quietly married, thereby stealing a march on relatives and friends alike. Mrs. Gray is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Curry, and for over a year has been employed as clerk for Bolt & Co. at Gray Court, and is a young lady universally liked by all who know her. Mr. Gray is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Zack Gray and a farmer of much ability. For a few days the young couple are making their home with the parents of the groom, after which they will be "at home" to their friends at the Holder place, the home of the groom.

Mr. Marvin Harris, who has been taking a course of training as paymaster of the navy, at Princeton University, spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Harris, of this place, having received his discharge from the navy, before going on to Charleston, where he will resume his old position in a well known drug store in that city.

Mr. D. D. Brownlee spent last week in Laurens, where he was in attendance at court as a juror.

Mr. D. D. Harris and daughter, Miss Emma, and Messrs. Marvin and Pierce Harris were shopping in Laurens Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Gillespie and children have returned to their home in Greenville after a week-end visit with Mrs. Gillespie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harris Curry.

Misses Cecil Owings and Elleen Curry were business visitors in Laurens Tuesday afternoon.

Messrs. Joe Brownlee, Paul Abercrombie and Misses Fannie and Sallie Brownlee were among the number who motored to Laurens Tuesday afternoon from this place, to view the "Edith Cavel Case" at the Opera House.

Miss McDowell, of Fountain Inn, was the attractive guest of relatives and friends here last week.

Quite a number from this place are contemplating going up to the "Mountain City" during the week to take in the automobile and fashion show.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Brooks and little Sarah Belle motored to Simpsonville Sunday, where they were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gray.

The box supper at Dials school house came off as scheduled Friday evening, and was largely attended. A nice little sum was realized from the sale of the boxes, the auctioneer being Prof. Ralph Wilson, of Owings, who cried his wares in his best and happiest manner. It was the intention of the teachers, Misses Owings and Curry, to have some one recently returned from overseas, to lecture also. However, as Capt. Richey (the speaker in view) had an engagement for the evening that part of the program was given up, as it was impossible to get a substitute. Yet despite this disappointment, the evening was a success in every way.

Miss Mattie Simmons, of Greenwood, accompanied by her little niece, Eelanor, spent Saturday till Tuesday with her mother, Mrs. H. Y. Simmons.

Prof. Charles F. Brooks, of Bamberg, was the week-end guest of his mother, Mrs. I. S. Brooks.

Miss Jeanette Thomason had as her guest Saturday night Miss Laura Helms.

Mr. and Mrs. Conway Gray were Sunday visitors of Mr. Sam Curry and family.

After a siege of much discomfort and inconvenience to the traveling public throughout this and surrounding communities, the bridge which spans the creek at this place has been rebuilt at last, though still leaving much to be desired, as it is so elevated that to gain the bridge proper a running jump has to be made whether by a John Henry or Pudgeon Six, and as for a wagon or buggy, if the team is strong, the top is generally gained (not without a struggle though) where all is smooth sailing until one tumbles off into a hole (no telling how deep) on the other side. However, there is no condition that could be worse and the people are grateful that passing, though somewhat of an undertaking, is possible once more.

CAPT. VICTOR HEINTZ

Capt. Victor Heintz, Republican member of the house from Ohio, has been conspicuous in congress and the capital for some time with his Sam Brown belt and the overseas insignia. Both accessories are worn contrary to army regulations, but Captain Heintz has secured his discharge and asks: "Why should I not wear in the United States the insignia I wore in battle overseas? Why should any American soldier be stripped of the overseas insignia by the whim of the high command of the United States army?"

He Never Thought of That.

First Lieutenant Kennedy was instructing his platoon of rookies as to how they should make out their clothes slips.

"Now, men," said the lieutenant, "you will order your shoes two sizes larger than those you have worn in civilian life, because the long hikes will cause the feet to spread."

"Naw, suh," harked in a very large farmer from western Virginia, "not me."

The lieutenant was surprised at this remark, which made him a bit angry. Raising his voice he asked the farmer why he refused to wear his shoes two sizes larger.

"Because, suh, they don't make shoes two sizes larger than I wear."
