LAURENS, S. C., OCT. 22, 1919.

As a matter of record for readers of The Advertiser and also for placing in the archives in the Memorial Building to be erected in Columbia to honor the soldiers who gave up their lives during the World War, we desire to secure a list of all Laurens county men who were killed in battle, died of wounds or died of disease while in the service. Relatives are requested to send us the names of all such deceased men with their home address and, where possible, the date, place and cause of death. Please do not take for granted that we have the records of any case already. We prefer to have a new list made to avoid errors.

Considering it alone as a matter of justice between individuals, brain work is not entitled to higher remuneration than manual labor. No superior claim can be made on this world's goods for either brain or brawn, although it has been held in the past by many that a superior mind carried with it a superior claim on the good things of this life. The idea, no doubt, grew out of the ease with which it once was for the mentally alert to get the ascendancy over their brethren of the strong arm. Ability had been confused with rights. The reasoning, of course, was fallacious. Brains and industry will always be the key to fortune, however, not because brains have a superior claim over brawn but because it can outwit it and outmaneuver it. When we begin to admit the superior rights of one class of citizens over another we get on dangerous ground. All rights are equal, but ability and energy command rewards because they are superior faculties.

HONOR THE DEAD. At the last session of the Legislature the sum of $100,000 was appropriated to supplement a fund of $400,000 to be raised by public subscription, for the purpose of erecting a Half Million Dollar building as a memorial to the soldiers, sailors or marines who gave up their lives for their country in the World War. The building is to be erected on a site donated by the University of South Carolina, but is not to be connected in any way with the University. Besides being a building of dignity and beauty as a reminder to future generations of the valiant service rendered by those heroes and as a shrine to keep alive the spirit of devotion and loyalty to country which they displayed, it will also serve as a repository where the records of the war may be kept. The history of South Carolina's part in the war will be written in the future from the records kept in this building. The fund to erect this building, which is the only memorial to the state's body of heroes now jointly proposed, is the same fund which Mr. Abers C. Todd is trying to create interest in in this county. Is it not a worthy one and goes it not appeal to Laurens' citizens very strongly? Let us not forget so soon the sacrifices made by these men and let us raise the sum asked of us with a cheerful spirit.

Negro Man Killed. Deputy Sheriff Hicks Owings went down to Clinton yesterday to bring back Sallis Ferguson, colored, who killed a negro man by the name of Will Wright in the Duncan Creek settlement the same day. The shooting was done with a shot-gun.

Church Notice. Time changes and we are expected to set our clocks and watches back one hour when we retire Saturday night. By agreement, the services in the First Methodist, Baptist, Episcopal and Presbyterian churches will be as follows: Sunday School—9:45 A. M. Morning service—11:00 o'clock. Young Peoples Society—6:45 P. M. Evening worship—7:30 o'clock. Mid-week prayer meeting—8:00 P. M. Wednesday.

R. E. Boyd Hurt. Robert E. Boyd, a well known citizen who lives out near Ekem, had his right arm broken and badly lacerated in an accident at his ginney Friday night. It seems that he was soaping the belt near the main pulley when his hand was suddenly jerked over the pulley and broken and badly cut by the belt before the engine could be stopped.

To Be Federal Jurors. B. M. Cunningham, of Madden, has been drawn as a grand juror to serve at the November term of federal court which convenes at Greenwood November 4th. W. C. Byrd, of Laurens, R. F. D., and W. J. Bryson, of Ora, have been drawn as petit jurors. The jurors are drawn from all sections of the Piedmont.

GREENWOOD READY FOR PIEDMONT FAIR

Greater Attractions Than Ever for Events to Run Three Days. Greenwood, Oct. 20.—The Piedmont fair will open here Wednesday, October 22, with the largest and best collection of exhibits it has ever had and with greater attractions in every way. There will be some real live racing events, a midway feature and other things to entertain visitors to the fair. All officials of the fair association have been busy for days getting the grounds in shape and in arranging the exhibits which are coming in from every section of the county. All of the exhibits of the Four Corner fair, which was such a success as a community fair, at Kirikey last week, have been brought to Greenwood and will be a part of the Piedmont fair. The fair will open Wednesday and will last three days. The last day, Friday, will be educational day and all of the schools in the county have declared holiday for that day.

MAKE NUTRITIOUS FOOD FROM AIR

Harvard Professor Says Sunlight, Air and Water can be Used to Make Foods. Is Synthetic Article. New York, Oct. 7.—That nutritious foods can be made from three elements—sunlight, air and water—is affirmed by Dr. Winthrop John V. Osterhout, professor of botany at Harvard University, fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, who yesterday gave some of the practical results of his recent experiments in synthetic chemistry.

Synthetic food making is as yet confined to the laboratory stage, Professor Osterhout said, but that is bound with most discoveries of this kind. Speaking of this method of producing food he said: "Analyzing food, we learn that the three chief components are sugar, fats and protein. Until recently it was impossible to manufacture sugar synthetically, but now we have solved the riddle in several different ways. Iron rust, exposed to the prismatic rays of the sun through water, makes formaldehyde, since the rays of the sun, acting upon the rust as a contact agent, mixed with the carbon dioxide of the air, and water, makes this powerful chemical. From formaldehyde certain forms of sugar may be obtained. Other ways of making sugar synthetically are through the employment of ultra-violet rays, radium and electricity.

Parts of our research work at Harvard's botanical laboratory has been to observe the process by which the plant transforms the carbon dioxide, gas and water together into sugar, and later into starch, either of which forms can be preserved. "So much for obtaining sugar. Protein is composed of certain acids. It has been found possible in the laboratory to take the carbon dioxide of the air, water and ammonia, which is also found in the air in small quantities, to form a simple kind of protein. Now, through the combination of sugar and protein, both of which have been manufactured in the laboratory, the necessary fat is obtained, with the resultant nutritious food. "Of course one of the greatest obstacles in the way of production of food by this method is the present cost of making sugar, which can only be manufactured as yet in small quantities. Our greatest competitor in this important field is the plant itself, which thus far undersells the synthetic method."

CHARGES AGAINST SHERIFF SANDERS

Governor Hears Accusations of Serious Nature Against Anderson Officer. Columbia, Oct. 18.—Charges of a serious nature against Sheriff J. O. Sanders of Anderson county have been brought to the attention of Governor Cooper. The alleged trouble caused the resignation of a member of the Anderson police force. Governor Cooper today communicated with T. Frank Watkins, state senator from Anderson, who recommended Sanders for appointment. The governor has taken no action, waiting to hear Sanders' side of the matter. Sanders was appointed sheriff of Anderson January 29, 1919, to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Joe H. Ashley.

Local and Personal Mention.

Miss Eleanor Miller returned home Monday after spending the week-end with relatives in Greenville. Misses Sarah Bolt, Annie Childress and Lola McPhail, who are teaching at Gray Court-Owings school, spent the week-end in the city with home folks. Mr. T. B. McDaniel, who has been with an engineering party at Bridge-water, N. C., is at home again, the work of the party having been about completed. Mr. Fred W. Wham, service man for the Palmetto Auto & Accessory Company, leaves November 3rd for Lansing, Mich., to take a special course in the Dodge and Oldsmobile factories.

Mr. W. E. Blakely, of Wrens, Ga., who has been visiting relatives in Ora for several days, was a visitor in the city Monday. Mr. Blakely holds a responsible position with a large lumber concern at his present abode. Miss Sue Dean, who had decided to give up her position with the Western Union Telegraph Company here, received a flattering offer to take up the work again and returned to the city Sunday to resume her duties. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Caine moved into their beautiful new home on South Harper street last week. The residence has been in course of construction for several months, being delayed by scarcity of material, but being completed makes one of the handsomest homes in the city.

Capt. W. R. Richey, who went up to Washington last week to assume the duties of the position recently offered him in the office of the Judge advocate general, returned home Saturday after finding that the cost of living in Washington was too high to justify his remaining there. Capt. Richey states that the prices asked for rooms and board in the capital city are enormous and that unless a man enjoys an exceedingly large salary he cannot afford to live there. He will resume his practice of law here.

A. R. P. Services. A change in the hour of services at the A. R. P. church has been announced, so that the afternoon service will be at 4 o'clock instead of 4:30. Services are held each 2nd and 4th Sunday.

Building Again Changes Hands.

The building on the public square occupied at present by the Vincent Motor Car Company on the ground floor and by The Advertiser on the second floor and bought recently by the Vincent Motor Car Company from the Ball estate, was sold again this week for a price understood to have been around $14,000. Mr. A. L. Mahaffey bought the building and twenty feet more of the lot in the rear, while Wilkes & Company bought the remainder of the property in the rear, a lot about 30 x 100 feet. Mr. Mahaffey states that he will improve his part of the property at an early date, building a twenty foot extension to the present building. It is understood that Wilkes & Company will also erect a building on their property and join it to their present store by an archway.

SOCIETY.

Announcement Party. Last Friday afternoon Mrs. J. J. Adams and Mrs. C. E. Parker gave a very original announcement party at the home of the former announcing the engagement of their sister, Miss Elizabeth Richey, to Mr. Gilbert M. Tyler, whose marriage is to take place next Tuesday evening. A yellow and crimson color scheme was followed, the house being beautifully decorated in chrysanthemums and carnations. The game of Hearts was played, the scoring being made on dainty hearts and cupid. After the games were played, a tempting salad course and ice tea were served, on each tea glass being hung a pretty hand-painted butterfly from which dangled a cupid pennant bearing the names "Richey-Tyler". After the refreshments the bride-elect was presented with two silk houndoir caps by the hostesses.

An Engagement Announced. On Saturday afternoon Miss Harriette Simpson entertained a number of friends at a very pretty party out of which came a delightful surprise in the announcement of the engagement of two very popular young people of the city. After spending a pleasant hour in an amusing contest, the guests were called into the hall where the hostess had said she would "let the cat out of the bag" and, as she opened a large white bag, out jumped a black cat with a red ribbon around its neck on which was hung a white card bearing the legend "Miss Mary Wilkes and Mr. Henry Franks for November." After the excitement from the announcement had died down, a delicious salad course was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. J. D. Watts and Miss Carolyn Fleming. Lying on each plate was a little blue bird favor also carrying the announcement of the engagement.

Austin-Martin. Monday evening at the home of Rev. J. R. Miller, Miss Mamie Austin and Mr. Fred Martin were happily married. Rev. Williams officiating. The bride is the attractive daughter of Mrs. Mary Austin, of this city, while the groom is foreman in the garage of the Vincent Motor Car company.

Fowler-Barksdale. On Wednesday evening, Oct. 15, one of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized at the home of Mrs. M. H. Fowler, when her daughter, Esther Pitts Fowler, was married to Mr. Laurens Collyer Barksdale, Rev. J. D. Pitts officiating, assisted by Rev. Samuel Teapleman. The home was open en suite. The sitting room was simply, but artistically decorated in green and white. Against the south window an improvised altar was arranged. The curtain was covered with ivy and against this ferns were banded. At the top of this bank was tied a huge tulle bow, the streamers of which extended on either side to pedestals supporting large ferns. A large white basket filled with ferns and a shower of white roses hung from the centre of this improvised altar. Great bowls of golden rod carried out the color scheme of yellow in the parlor.

Before the ceremony a short musical program was rendered. Mrs. Luther Roper played a short selection. Following this, Miss Nannie Kate Armstrong sang "At Dawning" and Mrs. Robert Roper sang "For You Alone". Promptly at the hour of six to the strains of Mendelsohn wedding march, played by Mrs. Luther Roper, the bridal party descended the ivy twined stairs. First came the maid of honor, Miss Marie Philpot, cousin of the bride. She was followed by the bride on the arm of her brother, Mr. W. Clyde Fowler. They were met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. Robert Roper. There the beautiful and impressive ceremony was performed.

The bride was lovely in her suit of taupe tulle. With this she wore a chic taupe hat of velvet and plumes. Other accessories matched. Her only ornament was a bar pin set with sapphires and pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor was attractively attired in an afternoon frock of Belgian blue crepe satin, wearing a large hat of black pan velvet and plumes. She carried a large bouquet of pink tea roses.

After the ceremony the assembled guests were invited into the dining room where a pink and white ice course was served by the bride's music pupils. Pink carnations carried out the color scheme in the decorations. Punch was served in the rear hall. From here the guests were invited to the second floor where the handsome array of gifts was on display. Shortly after receiving the congrat-

Among the out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. John Norris, Vance, S. C.; Mrs. Fannie Winn, Clinton; Mrs. Tom Simpson, Clinton; Miss Nell Payne, Clinton; Miss Beryl Harrison, Jacksonville, Fla.; Mrs. Fred Albers, Waterloo; Mrs. Alice Fowler, Mount Pleasant; Miss Della McPherson, Mount Pleasant; Mr. J. C. Philpot, Columbia; Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Philpot, Boston, Mass.; Mr. Will Barksdale, Spartanburg, and Miss Minnie Wallace, Gray Court.

Last Tuesday evening preceding Mrs. M. H. Fowler entertained the wedding party and a few intimate friends of the bride. The main feature of the evening was the cutting of the bride's cake. This caused much merriment among the guests. Mrs. C. M. Burgess cut the thimble, Miss Hattie Kate Easterby cut the dime, Miss Julia Henderson cut the button, and Mr. Tommie Owings cut the ring.

For Misses Riddell. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bramlett delightfully entertained a few of their friends last Friday evening in honor of Misses Lillah and Alberta Riddell, whose marriages take place today at high noon. The house had been prettily decorated for the occasion, with potted plants and cut flowers. A sumptuous three-course dinner was served the guests. They were then invited into the sitting room, where the brides' cake was cut. Miss Emma Shell cut the ring and Miss Blanche Shell the dime. The brides-elect were then presented beautiful hand-made gifts by Miss Emma Shell, Miss Olivia Riddell preside over the brides' looks and upon leaving, each guest wrote a wish for the brides.

Card of Thanks. We wish to thank the means of thanking our friends and relatives for their assistance and sympathy in our recent bereavement when our husband and father was taken by death. These attentions will ever be graciously remembered by us. Mrs. R. T. Dunlap and Family.

Card From Dr. Albright. I wish to thank the people, who have had dental work for me to do, for their indulgence during my illness and assure them that my inability to fill all my engagements is equally as disappointing to me. I hope to be able to resume work soon, probably in two or three weeks. G. C. ALBRIGHT.

Chairman of Roll Call. Mr. R. Rice Nickels who had charge of several war work campaigns, has accepted the chairmanship for this county of the third annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross. The campaign is to be conducted from the 3rd to the 11th of November and is to secure renewals and new members to the Red Cross.

THE COMING CIRCUS. Sparks World Famous Shows are billed to exhibit at Clinton Monday, Nov. 3, and from the newspaper reports preceding them their exhibition will be worth going many miles to witness.

Of the many features carried by the show this season, some of the Animal Acts are without doubt the most wonderful and thrilling ever presented to an American audience. The big group of fighting forest-bred lions, all full grown males, give an exhibition that is full of thrills, and the audience is left with a positive feeling of awe at man's wonderful mastery over the brute creation.

Another extraordinary feature with the show is Capt. Tiebor's troupe of educated seals and sea lions. These interesting sea animals perform the most seemingly impossible feats; balancing chairs, umbrellas and whirling brands of fire while climbing ladders, walking tight ropes and riding the backs of galloping horses. This feature baffles description and must be seen to be appreciated.

Many other wonderful things are to be seen with this mammoth show, and the main performance beneath the big tent will present a number of the most marvelous foreign acts of the century. The menagerie of wild animals carried with the show is complete in every detail, and contains rare and curious specimens of the earth's most interesting and curious animals.

A mile long street parade of dazzling splendor, beautiful women and handsome horses, interspersed with three brass bands and a steam calliope will traverse the streets shortly before noon, and this feature alone will be worth going many miles to see. Don't forget the date and the place of exhibition, Monday, Nov. 3, at Clinton, S. C.—Adv.

ATTENTION! TELEPHONE SUBSCRIBERS.

The Laurens Telephone Company had a new Telephone Directory sent out since the first of the month, and after sending some of the Directories out, we discovered two or three errors which have been corrected in the Directories sent out since the errors were discovered. On page 12, Mrs. J. Ran Little, residence should be No. 292 instead of 292. On page 16, J. H. Sullivan's store should be No. 19 instead of 319. On page 18, Dr. R. Walker, physician, residence, should be No. 235 instead of No. 225. We also discovered that pages 7, 8, 21 and 22 had been left out of some of the Directories. Please examine your Directory and correct these errors, or send to the Telephone office and get another one. If any subscriber has not received his or her Directory, please let us know and we will send you one. Laurens Telephone Co., W. R. Richey, Mgr. 14-11
