

Local and Personal Mention.

Mrs. E. S. F. Giles and Mrs. Irving Coleman, of Clinton, were visitors in the city Monday.

Mr. John A. Riddle, of Rock Hill, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Jenkins Sunday.

Mrs. J. Y. Millam and children have been spending a few days with relatives in Newberry.

Miss Mary Ferguson left Monday for Columbia, where she will visit friends for several weeks.

Mrs. B. L. Gray, Miss Laurie Gray and Miss Madge Harris, of Gray Court, were visitors in the city yesterday.

Miss Margaret Wright, who has been with Minter Company for the past several months, has accepted a position at the freight depot.

Misses Fay and Nannie Kate Hudgens, of the Connie Maxwell Orphanage at Greenwood, spent the week-end in the city with relatives.

Col. J. H. Wharton, of Waterloo, was among those in attendance upon the public sales Monday. Though not yet himself again the Colonel is able to get about very well.

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Blackmon, who were married in Columbia last week, have arrived from their honeymoon and are at present taking rooms at the home of Mrs. S. D. Childress and meals with Mrs. B. K. Humphries.

EQUITY CASES HEARD.

Common Pleas Court in Session with Judge R. W. Memminger Presiding.

The fall term of the Court of Common Pleas convened Monday morning with Judge R. W. Memminger, of Charleston, presiding. The court's attention this week is engaged with equity cases, but next week jury cases will be heard.

An important ruling was made Monday morning in the case of T. M. Shaw against his wife, Mrs. Bessie Shaw, which is to be heard at this term. Attorney W. N. Graydon, representing the plaintiff, appeared before the court on a plea to have the case heard before a jury, but Judge Memminger ruled that the case should not go to the jury but should be heard before him. The case was set to be tried next Thursday.

Cotton Market Again Congested.

After several days of comparative freedom from the congestion which has marked the local cotton market for several weeks, the market became congested again the first part of this week and very little cotton could be handled by local buyers. As a result very few bales were stored and the staple became almost a drug on the market. Prices ranged around 37 cents Monday, but Tuesday morning the few bales that were handled brought better prices, the best bringing around 38 cents. The Greenville market was quoted at 33 cents Monday and the Greenwood market from 38 to 38.5-8. Embargoes still exist on several of the principal shipping points where most of the cotton is shipped.

New Buildings Going Up.

Mr. A. F. Teague, employee of Wilkes & Company, bought a vacant lot last week on Chestnut street from Mr. W. G. Lancaster and expects to erect a small cottage on it at an early date. Mr. Teague's house will be one of a number recently planned or already under construction in that section of the city. Mr. L. L. Moore's bungalow on South Harper street is nearing completion as is the bungalow of Mr. J. P. Tolbert on Farley Avenue. Mr. W. S. Power is building a home on the east side of Irby avenue opposite the Roper home, while Mr. Allen Bramlett is laying down material for his home on Farley Avenue.

Teachers' Meeting.

As announced last week the teachers' meeting will be held at the court house Saturday, Nov. 8th, beginning at 10:30 o'clock. After the regular business meeting, Miss South, State Home Demonstration Agent, assisted by Miss Fornly, dairy specialist, and Miss Daisy Harris, County Home Demonstration Agent, will discuss and demonstrate hot dishes suitable for serving with school lunches. Not only every teacher in the county, but also every mother interested in this subject, is urged to attend this meeting.

Attending Presbytery.

Rev. C. T. Squires and Mr. A. C. Todd, from the First Presbyterian church of this city, Mr. J. N. Wright representing the Lisbon Presbyterian church, and Rev. J. L. McClain are attending the meeting of the South Carolina Synod in Anderson this week.

Business Women to Meet.

A meeting of the Business Women's Club has been called for this afternoon at 6 o'clock in the Rest Room. All members of the club are urged to attend.

SOCIETY.

Announcement Party.

Miss Sadie Sullivan was hostess Friday evening at an original and entertaining Halloween party when announcement was made of the approaching marriage of Miss Virginia Agnew and Mr. R. Coke Gray on the 30th of this month. The house was darkened for the occasion while "shadows" moved among Jack O'Lanterns and joined in amusing games until they were called into the dining room, when the lights were thrown on and all unmasked to receive the surprise of the evening. In the center of the table was an improved wedding cake from which silken streamers spread, spelling the words "Congratulations November 20." At a given signal each guest pulled one of the streamers from the cake and found on its end a card bearing the words "Agnew-Gray". The happy couple were immediately surrounded by the guests and showered with congratulations, after which a delicious ice course was served.

Miss Agnew has been teaching in the local schools and at Watts Mills for several years while Mr. Gray is one of the leading young business men of the city. The marriage will take place at the home of the bride in Due West and will be a quiet home affair.

Rev. L. P. McGee to Wed.

Announcement of the approaching marriage of Rev. L. P. McGee, for four years pastor of the First Methodist church of this city, was read in The Columbia State with much interest Monday. The announcement was made at a party given by Miss Jessie Patterson, in Columbia, the bride-elect, Miss Mildred Pagett, being a close friend. Miss Pagett taught in the public schools here for a short while several years ago and is pleasantly remembered by many in this city. An account of the announcement party was as follows:

Miss Jessie Patterson, who is a teacher in the Columbia city schools, gave a delightful party yesterday afternoon at her home in Lykesland to announce the engagement of Miss Mildred Pagett of that community to the Rev. Loring P. McGee, pastor of the First Methodist church of Rock Hill.

The house was decorated in yellow chrysanthemums and other autumn flowers and during the afternoon a salad course was served. The guests included for the most part the members of the Lykesland Thursday Book club, all mutual friends of the hostess and the bride-elect. Miss Pagett was presented by Miss Patterson with a beautiful bit of lingerie and a souvenir of the afternoon.

The wedding will take place in Lykesland on November 27th, Miss Pagett having recently resigned her position as a teacher in the Rock Hill school to come home and make ready for the important event.

you care to take that responsibility. But we insist we are entitled not to have it smothered; we are entitled to a fair attempt to bring about ratification."

After entering a formal objection to Senator Lodge's proposal, Senator Hitchcock presented a new request which had been drafted by the minority members of the foreign relations committee. This called for the final vote on the Lodge resolution at 3 o'clock on Thursday of this week, and contained the further provision that if the Lodge resolution failed to receive the necessary two-thirds vote, the senate should on Friday and Saturday of this week consider reservations to be proposed by the democratic minority.

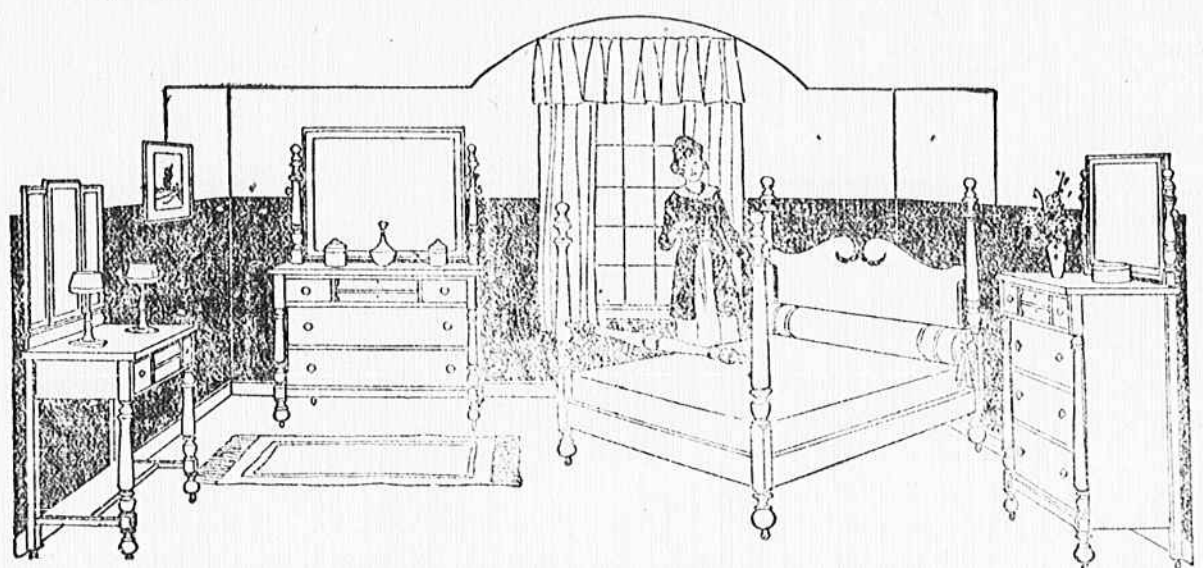

Senator Lodge objected to this upon the grounds that it would be writing a new rule for the senate to agree that after the resolution failed consideration should be given to alternative reservations. He contended that the only way this could be done was by passing a motion for reconsideration.

IT'S A SURE FRIEND

Did you earn that money? Well you worked for it, didn't you? Why can't you put some little piece of it in the bank each pay day, so that some day it can work for you?

You won't always be able to work, even if you are well. Then it will be a fine feeling to have the money you banked, while you could work, which is now. Bank it.

We add 4 per cent. interest.
