

FORMER EMPEROR SAWS MORE WOOD

William Breaks Own Record in Number of Logs, Excited Over News.
Amorezen, Holland, March 14.—The tidings of the German counter-revolution caused a great stir and much tension in Bentinck where former Emperor William resides and the people in the castle stayed up until a very late hour Saturday night awaiting further news.

William Hohenzollern spent part of the day in the garden where he paced up and down, seemingly absorbed in deep thought. His excitement found utterance in the energy with which he sawed wood. The correspondent learns that yesterday he beat his own record in the number of logs in twain.

The news of the counter-revolution which did not reach the people of Amorezen until Saturday evening did not serve to rouse the peaceful village from its usual state of Sunday rest.

Except for the fact that three or four military police from the neighboring village of Veenendaal were added to the ordinary guard, consisting of 20 constables, no special measures have been taken here. Military police are patrolling along the moats of the castle. As far as the correspondent has been able to learn, the former emperor is free to pursue his usual routine.

Wieringen, Holland, March 14.—Former Crown Prince Frederick William, on hearing of the counter-revolution in Germany became very much excited. He motored several times into the village in an endeavor to learn if Burgomaster Pereboom had later news from Berlin.

The Hague, March 14.—The Amsterdam Telegraaf today says:

"With the evening boat today there arrived a bosom friend of former Crown Prince Frederick William, Freiherr Zoebelitz, who stayed with Frederick William during the first months of his exile. He comes straight from Berlin. The former crown prince went to meet him in the harbor. The adjutant of Frederick William says this visit has nothing to do with present occurrences."

Again, Swat the Fly.
The number of bacteria capable of being carried by one house fly varies from 550 to 6,000,000. Hence a crusade against this pest which is most numerous during the season of the year when epidemics are likely to occur will play a great part in prevention and spread of any malady.

Allies' Unity Means Peace Exceeding All Guarantees Put on Paper.

If Great Britain, the United States, Italy, Japan and France remain united, there is a guarantee of peace which exceeds all those guarantees which can be put on paper. If one day these nations are separated I dare not think of the misfortunes which may result.

We arrived here somewhat disconcerted by the gravity of the problems set and the difficulty of settling them. When fighting the enemy all necessarily were in agreement, each joyfully giving his life for his country. But it is not necessarily the same when one meets to calculate and realize the fruits of victory and to settle each one's share. We have all defended what we believed to be the interest of our countries, but never has the necessity of a common understanding been lost sight of. I further believe that we are all agreed today to say that the special interests of each nationality must be considered and respected; there cannot be a tranquil Europe if the rights of each one are not recognized.

I have been sometimes reproached for making too many concessions. The same reproach has been made against other heads of governments, but I am calm in the knowledge—and I am sure you all are—of never having been guided in stating my opinions or in the conclusions we have reached, except by the single idea that the nations who shed so much blood had the right, first of all, to have their national claims satisfied and then to have those claims reconciled each to the other and embodied in one great peace inspired by common interest.

I shall not lose sight of the peace we are completing and shall continue to follow its progress until my last breath. I shall try by all good wishes at least to do all in my power for the solidity of that peace, for, indeed, if by misfortune the elements of discord should arise among you, how terrible the thought that the best blood of the civilized world, the blood of our soldiers, should be shed in vain for hopes that would not be realized.

MRS. ELIZA L. COOK.Widow of the Late Abraham Cook Died at Her Home Near Fountain Inn Saturday.

Mrs. Eliza L. Cook, widow of the late Abraham Cook, died at her home near Fountain Inn on Saturday, and was buried Sunday at Bethany Baptist church of which she was one of the founders and charter members. Mrs. Cook was in her 76th year and had been in failing health for some time, but she grew rapidly worse last week and the end came quietly on Saturday at 3 p.m.

Before her marriage, Mrs. Cook was Miss Eliza Glenn of Spartanburg county, where she had a large connection of relatives, including two surviving sisters, Mrs. T. B. Snow and Mrs. Victoria Elmore, of Greer.

Most of Mrs. Cook's life was spent in the community of her home, in Laurens county, where she devoted a large share of her time and thought to her family and neighbors. She was active in church and Sunday school work and was much beloved for her optimistic and charitable disposition and deeds. A large gathering of relatives and friends, from Greenville, Laurens and Spartanburg counties, at the funeral, gave evidence of their esteem and affection. The exercises were conducted by Rev. J. P. Colterman.

Mrs. Cook is survived by the following children, who were present at her death: J. B. Cook, Fountain Inn; J. G. Cook, Hopkins; Mrs. O. B. Martin, Washington, D. C.; and Mrs. Sallie M. Stewart, of Fountain Inn.

If Constipated, Bilious or Headachy, take "Cascarets"

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, or sour, gassy stomach—always trace this to torpid liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels. Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep.

That's Warm Enough.
An astronomer has come forth with the belief that the temperature of the center of the sun is not more than 10,000 degrees centigrade.

NEW CHALMERS MODEL

A forecast of the future is the Chalmers, the car with the hot spot. In its ideals which seemed intended for fulfillment only at some distant time have become realities of the present. The chief aim of its builders has been to be first in its superior design, to lead the way to future improvements by changing staid tendencies and quickening the pulse of motordom to faster progress.

Coming as a distinct department, the Chalmers has struck a chord of broad appeal.

Individuality has been its dominant note.

Originality has found expression in its classic contour and its mechanical advancements. It is as gifted in performance as it is radiant in beauty.

A few minutes of time in a sand bar or on a hill will convince you we are correct.

Striking in personality, sound in principle, THE CHALMERS marks a climax in a career devoted to creating the new.

It is the herald of an advanced make—a determining influence in establishing the snappy, lowswung body on a mechanically perfect Chalmers chassis which is the vogue in motor cars for 1920.
