SOCIETY.

Darlington-Todd.

Marked with beauty and simplicity the wedding of Miss Claudia Irby Darlington and James Conway Todd was solemnized Wednesday evening, June 2, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. D. Darlington on Irby avenue. The Darlington home, splendidly adapted for entertaining, was a veritable bower of flowers—roses of every description held sway in the entire lower floor of the house. The large drawing room was converted into a chapel for the marriage ceremony. An improvised altar of stately white Ascension lilies and gleaming candles in crystal candelabra was erected in front of the mantel, and here the nuptial vows were taken.

Promptly at 8:30 o'clock Miss Julia Crouch of Salisbury, N. C., sounded the first strains of the wedding march from Lohengrin, which was a signal for the bridal procession to begin, and all eyes were turned towards the rose-bordered stairway. The two pretty little bridesmaids, Misses Laura Vance Jones and Harriett Todd, in fluffy pink organdie frocks carrying large bouquets of bride roses, were the first to enter the drawing room.

Miss Lucy Vance Darlington, the bride's only sister, was the lovely maid of honor. Miss Darlington was gowned in a becoming costume of orchid taffeta and carried pink roses.

John Charles McMillis' "Little White Bride" came to the minds of many as the beautiful bride descended the steps with her father, who gave her in marriage. In her soft satin wedding gown with rare old lace, tulle veil falling from a coronet studded with pearls, and carrying a shower of bride roses and valley lilies, she was a picture that will never be forgotten.

Little Miss Laura Vance Marion of Sumter, in a white organdie frock with pink ribbons, carried the bride's train and she performed this duty in the most approved fashion.

The bride groom's best man was his brother, Mr. John Wells Todd, and the officiating minister was the Rev. Preston Marion of Sumter, assisted by the Rev. Chas. T. Squires, pastor the First Presbyterian church of Laurens.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was given and many friends of the bridal couple came to wish them happiness. The receiving line was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Darlington, Mr. and Mrs. James C. Todd, and Mrs. John Wells Todd, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. J. Wells Todd, Jr., Miss Bessie Todd, W. R. Darlington, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Darlington, Jr., of Allendale, Dr. and Mrs. Marion of Sumter.

The many handsome wedding gifts were displayed in up stairs rooms and were greatly admired by the hundreds of guests who called during the evening. Delicious punch was served from a prettily decorated table on the porch by a group of attractive young girls. Ice and cake were served from the bride's table in the dining room. Mr. and Mrs. Todd motored to Greenville where they boarded a northbound train for Atlantic City and New York.

The out of town guests here for the wedding included Col. W. R. Darlington, Miss Lucy Darlington, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Darlington, Jr., and Miss Warren of Allendale; Miss Julia Crouch of Salisbury, N. C.; Miss Marion McFadden, Kingstree; Mr. and Mrs. John Barksdale and Capt. Arthur Lee of Greenwood; Mrs. Harold Rogers and Miss Elizabeth Lechridge of Atlanta; Mr. and Mrs. Young, of Union; Mrs. and Miss Ellesor, of Newberry; W. D. Copeland, Mr. and Mrs. John Spratt, of Clinton; Col. J. B. Calhoun, Chas. F. Matthews, John D. Matthews and L. H. Carter, of Charleston.

Linen Shower.

Porch Party.

Mrs. Jerome Christopher entertained a few friends at a porch party Friday morning in honor of her house guests, Misses Christopher and Lovingsood, of Atlanta, and the guests of Mrs. Darlington and Mrs. Ferguson for the Todd-Darlington wedding. After a number of games delicious refreshments were served.

Meeting of D. A. R.

The Henry Laurens chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will meet Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock with Mrs. J. McD. Moore on East Main street. As this is the last meeting of the year and officers are to be elected, a large attendance is expected.

Mr. C. B. Bobo has gone to Richmond to attend the annual meeting of the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

Hospitable and Attractive Living Room Suites

These Suites are most graceful in design, the frames are in Mohogany and made heavy enough to endure years and years of service. We feel that we were especially fortunate in getting such a beautiful selection of upholstery, the quality being the best we have had and the pattern and colors are especially good.

Just come in and see our large display—you won't be urged to buy and we believe you will feel fully repaid for the trip.
