SOCIETY.

Martha Copeland.

Friends in the city will be interested to learn of the marriage of Miss Nena Martin to Mr. William D. Copeland, of Clinton. The wedding occurred Thursday afternoon at five o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Cheatham. The home was prettily decorated and only the immediate families were present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Dr. J. R. Jester. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Copeland left for the mountains of North Carolina. They will make their home in Clinton where Mr. Copeland is in business.—Greenwood Index-Journal.

Stone-Cash.

A quiet home wedding was solemnized on Wednesday, June 16, at the home of Mrs. Jeremiah Stone, near Princeton, when her daughter, Felicia Agnes, became the bride of C. B. Cash, of Gaffney. Rev. N. M. Harrison performed the ceremony, using the ring service, in the presence of a few relatives and friends. The house was tastefully, but simply decorated in ferns and cut flowers, the color scheme being green and white. The bride wore a blue coat suit with accessories to match. Her corsage bouquet was of brides roses, lilies of the valley and ferns.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Jeremiah Stone and is an attractive and accomplished graduate of Limestone College. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Cash, of Gaffney, and is a promising young business man. He is connected with the Cash Mill Co., now under construction.

Immediately after the ceremony refreshments were served on the broad veranda after which the happy couple left by auto for a trip to the mountains of North Carolina.

Those attending from a distance were Mrs. B. B. Crisp, of Greenville; Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Cash, of Gaffney; Mrs. T. L. Moore, Miss Mozell Moore, and Mr. Coyle Moore, of Waterloo; Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Killingsworth, Miss Myrtle and Mr. Myret Killingsworth, of Donalds; Miss Ella Knight, of Ware Shoals; Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McMillan, of Honea Path.

Garrett-Rowland.

The First Presbyterian church of Laurens was the scene of a pretty wedding Wednesday evening, when Miss Edmonia Preston Garrett, daughter of Mrs. Guy S. Garrett, of this city, became the bride of Earle Rowland, of Sumter.

The church was beautifully decorated about the altar in pyramid fashion, smilax in large quantities being banked about the altar in pyramid fashion, making a striking picture under the glow of a myriad of soft lights. Preceding the arrival of the bridal party a musical program was given by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hudgens Roper, both singing solo selections, with organ accompaniments by Mrs. Martin Luther Roper.

With the first notes of the wedding march from Lohengrin, the ushers, H. L. McCoy, J. P. Booth, Jr., H. L. Elliott and Mr. Hood, entered and took their places at the front on the right and left of the altar. Then came the bridesmaids and groomsmen, entering simultaneously in pairs but in opposite aisles as follows: Miss Grace Garrett of Greenwood, cousin of the bride, and E. C. Dunn, of Sumter; Miss Wilma Prentiss of Greenville, also a cousin of the bride, and Dr. Robert W. McKay, of Sumter; Miss Hattie Gray of Laurens and Charles Wilson of Sumter; Miss Lula Dial of Laurens, and Irvine Richardson of Sumter. Next came the pretty little flower girls, Misses Annie Osteen and Mazie Clark, both of Sumter, and they were followed by the dame of honor, Mrs. Lawrence of Sumter, and the maid of honor, Miss Anna Prentiss of Greenville, the bride's cousin. The bride, a vision of loveliness in a wedding dress of duchess satin with rose point lace, her wedding veil arranged in cap effect, and carrying a bouquet of bride roses and orchids, came next, escorted by her young brother, Garrington Cabell Garrett, who gave his sister in marriage. They were met immediately in front of the altar by the bridegroom and his brother, George Rowland of Sumter, who acted as best man. Using the impressive ring service, the marriage ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles T. Squires, pastor of the church, assisted by the Rev. J. P. Marlon, D. D., of Sumter. As Mendelssohn's wedding march was played by the pianist, the bridal party in reverse order marched out of the church, and together with the guests, immediately repaired to the home of the bride's mother, on West Main street, for the reception, which was largely attended. The wedding gifts, of a varied and useful assortment were greatly admired by the callers and well wishers. Mr. and Mrs. George H. Rowland of Sumter, parents of the bridegroom, were among the out of town guests here for the wedding.

The bride, the only daughter of Mrs. Garrett, is a graduate of Winthrop college, and during the past year she taught in the Laurens city schools. Mr. Rowland, the bridegroom, is cashier of a bank in Sumter and is a prominent young citizen of that city. Mr. and Mrs. Rowland are on a bridal visit North.

Meares-Wood.

A marriage of much interest to the people of this county was that of Miss Essie Bennon Meares to Mr. John Wilbert Wood on Wednesday, June sixteenth, at the home of the bride, Nichols, S. C.

The ceremony was a very simple affair and was attended by only a few relatives of the contracting parties.

The bride wore a stylish coat suit of blue with accessories to match. Mrs. Wood is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmerson M. Meares of Nichols, and is a graduate of the Greenville Woman's College, of the class of '19. For the past session she taught school near her home. She is a very attractive young woman of the brunette type. Mr. Wood is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Wood of the Poplar Springs community and is a graduate of Furman, of the class of '17. He volunteered for service with Butler Guards and went overseas with them, but was transferred to 113th regiment, 29th Division. It was with this division that he won his commission as lieutenant. He received three severe wounds in the drive against the Hindenburg line. He is taking a special course in Textiles at Georgia Tech, where he will graduate in June, 1921. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Wood left for a trip of several days. Their destination was not revealed to their friends. After July the first they will be at home to their friends at Anderson, S. C., where Mr. Wood has a position for the summer.

For Bride Elect.

Miss Mary Belle Fuller, whose wedding to Mr. James Stout, is the chief social event of this week, has been the recipient of many parties. Miss Charlotte McGowan entertained at a large rook party at her home, The Elms, last week. The guests enjoyed a lovely salad course.

Mrs. R. Vance Irby, Mrs. Rice Nickles and Miss Lilla Todd entertained charmingly last Monday afternoon in honor of Miss Mary Belle Fuller. After an interesting contest, a delicious salad course was served.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our many thanks to the friends and neighbors during the sickness and death of our dear beloved husband and father, Mr. Warren M. Stephens.

Good Furniture is the Most Economical

Good Furniture renders a permanent and essential service. Furniture of character bought today will be as good fifteen or twenty years in the future as it now; and yet it costs but little more than that of the doubtful make. We will handle nothing but good Furniture, and whether simple pieces at a moderate price, or the more elaborate type, you may feel sure that it is of correct design and of a quality of material and workmanship that will endure years and years of service. We have never shown so large or so fine a line of Home Furnishings as we now have on exhibit. We will consider it a privilege to show you through our store at any time.
