CLEAN-UP WEEK IN CONGRESS AIM OF REPUBLICANS

Leaders Plan to Dispose of Important Measures During Next Two Weeks.

Washington, May 22.—A clean-up of pending important measures during the next two weeks is the aim of republican leaders in congress to pave the way for consideration of the permanent tariff and tax revision, two of the major subjects for which the extra session was called.

The permanent tariff bill is expected to be reported by the house ways and means committee early next month.

Prominent among measures scheduled for completion in the next fortnight, are the Knox peace resolution, the temporary tariff, the army and navy appropriation bills, the Good-McCormick bill for a federal budget system, and the deficiency appropriation measure.

The peace resolution is to be taken up by the house foreign affairs committee early this week, but Chairman Porter does not expect a house vote before next week. House leaders are leaning toward amendment of the senate measure by declaring merely state of peace instead of repealing the German and Austrian war declarations. Negotiations with senate leaders are scheduled this week preliminary to committee and house action.

The conference report on the temporary tariff bill is to be taken up by the house tomorrow, with its adoption a foregone conclusion. President Harding is expected to act on the measure before the week-end. The report was adopted last Friday by the senate.

Disposal of the three remaining appropriation bills largely rests with the senate. The house is expected to pass the $100,000,000 deficiency bill tomorrow or Tuesday and the senate will resume consideration tomorrow of the $495,000,000 naval budget, with the principal controversies remaining over the proposed naval base at Alameda, California, and the committee proposals to increase the navy personnel by 20,000 over the 100,000 men authorized by the house.

Economy advocates will continue their attacks on the naval bill tomorrow, with an extended address planned by Senator LaFollette, republican, Wisconsin, on "big interests" in armament. The senate also has to act formally on the Borah amendment for a disarmament conference, but its adoption was virtually assured last week when administration leaders came to its support.

The army supply bill, with committee provisions increasing the regular army from an average of 150,000 men, authorized by the house to a minimum of 170,000 at any time during the next fiscal year is to follow the naval bill in the senate.

On the program awaiting the first opportunity for consideration in both the senate and house are separate packer control bills.

Agricultural advocates on both sides are pressing leaders for keyway for the packer measure with prospects of action in a few weeks. Another agricultural measure, on which hearings are to begin next Friday before a senate committee is the bill to regulate future trading in wheat. There is a movement to include cotton within its scope through a senate amendment. The senate also has pending the longest resolution for a joint congressional commission with powers to make an exhaustive general agricultural survey.

Another session on the Ford-Newberry case is scheduled by the senate privileges and elections committee Tuesday. Senator Townsend, republican, Michigan, in behalf of Senator Newberry, and Alfred Lucking, counsel for Henry Ford, are to discuss whether the supreme court dismissal of charges against Senator Newberry should quash further senate proceedings.

Several other committee hearings are to continue this week, including the house inquiry into the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, draft evader, A. H. Smith, of the New York Central Lines, and Howard Elliott, representing the Northern Pacific Railroad, are to appear tomorrow in connection with the senate interstate commerce committee investigating of railroad conditions. Hearings also will be continued on the Townsend $200,000,000 good roads bill and on revision of federal employees salaries.

The nomination of David H. Blair of North Carolina, to be internal revenue commissioner, which Senator Johnson, of California, is fighting, is to come before the senate this week, with confirmation predicted even by opponents.

"And There Wasn't the Slightest Smell From Dead Rats"

Writes John Simpkins, farmer of Annandale, N. J. "Rats were costing me hundreds yearly: tried dogs, ferrets, poison, could not get rid of them. Bought $25 pkg. of RAT-SNAP (5 cakes). Used half net a live rat since. Dead ones aplenty. I like RAT-SNAP because after killing rats it dries them up—leaves no smell." Three sizes, 5c, 15c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Laurens Hardware Co., Putnam Drug Store, and C. E. Kennedy & Son.

WOMEN HIKERS START ON GLOBE TROT TOUR

Dr. Emma Curtiss Tucker and Miss Myrtle King Off to Walk Around World. Carrying Camping Outfit Which Includes Four-Pound SHK Tent to be Used by Roadside at Night.

Baltimore Sun. Two brazened figures shouldered their packs at St. Paul and Thirty-fourth streets early yesterday, ready to leave Baltimore for a "round-the-world" hike.

With nothing but road and sky in sight, and nothing . . . to do . . . but go, softly quoted the elder one, with light hair and blue eyes.

Her sunburned face slightly flushed and brown eyes looking out upon the "road, winding mile after mile," the younger one answered: So, it's heat it, bo, while your feet are mates; Take a look at the whole United States.

And then "they beat it," these two adventure-loving women—Dr. Emma Curtiss Tucker, a New Englander and former professor at Goucher college, and Miss Myrtle King, of Washington, a native of Oregon, who was graduated from Goucher last year. They have set out to travel on foot across the continent first and then to go around the world.

Both wore rough walking suits. Dr. Tucker had on a khaki shirt and dark brown cloth trousers, with heavy woolen socks and cap and soft brown shoes. She carried a knapsack on her back. Though long at over of tramp, this is the first time Dr. Tucker has attempted to make a long trip.

Miss King, however, is a veteran walker. Last year she hiked with a companion to Florida, and has hardened herself to "roughing it" by long periods of farming on Western ranches. She is a born "tramp," she confesses, and as she set out, carrying a heavy rubber-covered "blanket roll," she looked as though there was little she could not endure. Her suit consisted of a dark blue flannel shirt, open at the neck, and brown corduroy trousers, woolen socks and stout, soft walking shoes.

In the "blanket roll" were sweaters, coats, swimming suits, a pocket camera and a 41-2 pound silk balloon tent, for the two hikers propose to make the fields, the woods or the side of the road their home night after night during their journey. The tent is provided with a rubber cover and waterproof floor covering.

No fluffy trills, "picture hats," powder puffs or other "requisites" of a girl's wardrobe are included in their packs. The clothes are the simplest possible. As Dr. Tucker explained: "We are taking only the clothes you see on us."

"I Never Knew You Could Keep Rats Out of a Butcher Shop."

What Ralph Watkins says: "Figured rats around store had enough to feed on; wouldn't touch anything suspicious. Heard about RAT-SNAP, gave it a trial. Results were wonderful. Cleaned all rats out in ten days. Dogs about store night and day never touch RAT-SNAP." Three sizes, 5c, 15c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Laurens Hardware Co., Putnam Drug Store, and C. E. Kennedy & Son.

"As in the greatest cities so in his own home town—the U. S. Tire user gets fresh, live tires of current production."

THE U. S. CHAIN TREAD
One of the few tires of which it may be said that they deliver economy year in and year out and tire after tire. The U. S. Chain Tread gives sufficient traction on all ordinary road surfaces. It is probably the handiest, and by all odds the most popular, of the whole U. S. Fabric Tire line.

"In every section, however remote, you find a dealer in fresh, live U. S. Tires."

Economy rides on U.S. Tires—

If you could get together all the car owners you know, you'd probably find that their tire experiences had been much the same.

Most of them have taken their fling at "job lots," "discontinued lines" and "surplus stocks." Soon or late, nearly all settled back on quality first as the one sound assurance of tire value.

As soon as a man forgets the cut-price tag, and comes to the dealer who concentrates on a full, completely sized stock of U. S. Tires—he learns what it means to get fresh, live tires—not once in a while but every time. Not merely in the big cities, but in his own home town.

Not merely for the heavy car, but for the medium and light-weight car—a full selection of size, tread and type.

Your U. S. Tire dealer can give you this service because of the service he gets from his neighboring U. S. Factory Branch. There are 92 of these Branches. Each gets its share of U. S. Tires, so that the dealer is always supplied with fresh, live stock.

U. S. Tires sell as fast as they are made. There is no over production. No surplus piled up waiting for a "market." Wherever you buy a U. S. Tire—you buy a tire of current production, as full of life and value as the day it left the makers.
