LAURENS, S. C., NOV. 2, 1921

Speaking of cigarettes, as a friend of ours remarked the other day, the government has placed its stamp of approval on them. Have you seen it before? Eh?

IT DIDN'T COME.

The strike of the railway men did not materialize. Maybe it was well that it didn't, but the union heads lead us to believe that the relief is only temporary. The result of the negotiations with the labor board preceding the cancellation of the strike is claimed as a victory for the unions. In other words they gained more than the executives and the labor board were willing to peacefully grant them. The will for a nation-wide strike seems to remain with them yet. Possibly, however, saner leadership will prevail and railroad workers may come to a realization that the country must have cheaper railroad transportation or no railroad transportation at all.

DISARMAMENT—WHY NOT?

In more than one recent communication the President has made it plain that the forthcoming conference in Washington is not in fact expected to affect the degree of armaments sufficiently to usher in the plow-share and pruning-hook period but only that, by intelligent consultation followed by mutual consent, some arrangement may be arrived at to stop the mad rush toward over-armorment and ruinous taxation.

If all the nations were as rich in available resources as this one, the pessimists might be right in agreeing wholly with the late Senator Ingalls when he said "the purification of politics is an iridescent dream."

But, fortunately for the peace of the world, most other nations are already taxed to the limit of their resources. So that, even though the world may not be getting abstractly better any too fast, there comes in the practical question of ability to pay; and no administration of any government can be expected to be so blind to its own interests as thus to miss an opportunity to materially decrease the tax-rate by subscribing to an agreement which, at least on its face, is highly humanitarian.

Allowing, therefore, for all the usual procrastination due to diplomatic delays and international suspicions, we are of those who insist upon believing that the so-called "disarmament" conference will in the end be far from a failure.

COTTON PRICES

AT SLIGHT GAIN

Advanced Over Closes of Previous Week Were Maintained.

New Orleans, Oct. 30.—The price of cotton was maintained last week at moderate advances over the level of the close of the preceding week, except at times during the first two sessions. At the lowest the trading months were 20 to 23 points under the close of the preceding week. At the highest they were 123 to 137 points over, the market moving over a range of 145 to 165 points. Closing prices were at net gains on the week of 36 to 62 points. December traded as low as 17.55, as high as 19.20 and closed at 18.19 cents a pound. In the spot department middling lost 50 points in the net result at 18.75. A year ago middling closed at 20.50.

The main influences of the week were small ginning returns and large mill takings. The hurricane which crossed Florida during the week caused moderate buying for a while. After the middle of the week selling pressure was increased somewhat, apparently coming mainly from outside sources, but sellers were made cautious by the large spinners' takings. For a while the threatened rail strike was a selling argument.

The ginning report, issued during the week by the census bureau, showed 5,177,297 bales ginned to the 18th of October. This figure indicated production for the period of only 2,554,270 bales, the smallest output on record for the third period. Late in the week the trade was commencing to give serious consideration to the figures relating to the fourth ginning period, which ends with the close of business Monday and the report on which is due around the end of the first week in November.

The fourth ginning report is of unusual interest, because, along with the third report, the department of agriculture confirmed its final tentative crop estimate of only 6,537,000 bales and the census bureau stated that its reports indicated that the crop was nearly picked.

By some traders it is claimed the greatest market possibilities are to be found in the ginning outlook.

IN MEMORIAM

"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord, for they rest from their labors and their works do follow them." Musgrove Mill Chapter D. A. R., has for the second time, been called upon to mourn the death of one of its cherished daughters. Mrs. Laurens Glenn Davis, wife of W. W. Davis, leaving been a loved and honored member of our chapter for years, her demise has left a vacancy in our hearts and ranks, felt by us—not only as D. A. R.—but as personal friends.

Her devotion to church, home and country was never questioned; so fully did she fill and grace her place in each.

Loyal, efficient, and unassuming, this charter member served her Chapter as member and officer with womanly dignity. Mrs. Davis came of ancestry distinguished for just such qualities as were found in her. May her children measure up to their heritage, "marrying on" as did this mother.

In her passing, her family has sustained an irretrievable loss, and we, her co-workers and friends a staggering blow. Musgrove Mill Chapter shares with her loved ones the cross they bear, and extends sympathy to all who called her relative or friend. "I believe that in her death, she has reached a world where the mercy of God abounds, and I know that in the world of women, the sadness of her loss will be felt the most by those who knew her best," can in truth be said of Laurens.

"I can not say and I will not say That she is dead—she is just away; With a cheery smile and a wave of the hand She has wandered into an unknown land, And left us dreaming how very fair It needs must be—since she lingers there.

And you, O you, who the wildest yearn For the old time step and the glad return, Think of her faring on, as dear In the love of there, as the love of here.

Think of her, still as the same, I say; 'She is not dead—she is just away.' The committee recommends that this memorial, inadequate though it be, be spread upon our Minutes, and a copy of same be sent her immediate family.

Respectfully,
(Signed) Mrs. Jos. A. Bailey, Chm.
Mrs. J. I. Copeland,
Mrs. A. E. Spencer.

PERSHING SELECTS OUTSTANDING HERO
Sergeant Woodfill Will Represent Infantry at Armistice Day Ceremonies in Washington.
Washington, Oct. 31.—Examination of war records by General Pershing has resulted in the designation of Sgt. Samuel Woodfill as the American infantryman, who, through heroism in the world war, is most entitled to represent the infantry branch of the army at the Armistice day ceremonies for America's unknown soldier.

Sergeant Woodfill, whose home is given in army records as Ballview, Ind., but who now is stationed at Fort Thomas, Ky., arrived in Washington today in response to orders from the war department and, on being received by Secretary Weeks, was informed that his act of heroism was regarded by his former commander as "outstanding" among the exploits of all the infantry officers and men who saw service in France.

The act of Sergeant Woodfill, which caused General Pershing to place him—a virtually unknown hero—with Sgt. Alvin C. York of the Tennessee mountains and Maj. Charles S. Whitley of the "Lost Battalion," occurred October 12, 1918, during the Meuse-Argonne offensive when he as a lieutenant silenced three machine guns, killing 19 of the enemy, including one officer, and capturing three others.

For this act of heroism, Woodfill was promoted to a captaincy and, in addition to the congressional medal, was awarded the Legion of Honor (cavalier) and the croix de guerre (with palm) by France and the Order of Prince Danilo I (fifth class) by Montenegro.

NEW FRENCH LINER ARTISTIC

The Paris, Recently Launched, Has Eleven Decks and Is Like an Art Museum.

A writer in a recent number of Le Petit Parisien devotes nearly a column of most poetic prose to the new steamship Paris of the French Transatlantic company, launched recently at Le Havre for the New York run. The Paris is a little more than seven hundred and sixty-eight feet in length (not quite as long as the Mauretania), has 11 decks, 64 lifeboats and three stacks. Her weight is 35,000 tons.

While not palatial, the new liner is described as a work of art. She carries a crew of 664 and about 3,000 passengers. Among the features of her equipment are mentioned a terraced cafe and an elaborate children's playground. The vessel is an oil burner, and all the cooking and heating is done by electricity.

The French writer, above mentioned, observes that the Paris would do very nicely as a museum and is a "permanent, lasting salon of modern French art." In the grand drawing room, lined with mauve woodwork, the Painter Lalque has employed a design of butterflies representing the hours, while a symbolical canvas from the brush of Albert Besnard pays homage to France and America.

Citrus By-Products.

In co-operation with the citrus fruit growers of California, the United States bureau of chemistry has been trying for some years past to develop methods whereby profitable uses might be found for the enormous quantities of oranges and lemons which now go to waste because unfit for shipment. It does not pay to ship to market any fruit that is not first class and in prime condition. Of waste oranges, called "culls," there are 14,000 tons a year. What shall be done with them? A partial answer to the question is furnished by a score of factories which have already been put in operation for the production of marmalade and jellies. Also, a profitable market has been found for orange oil and lemon oil, orange vinegar, citric acid and dried orange peel. Fresh orange acid is used for the marmalade, while the oil is extracted by pressure from the skins. Up to the present time all of our orange oil and lemon has come from Italy and Sicily.
