Politicians counting on using the governorship during the next two He was educatend at Furman Universiyears as a stepping stone to the senatorship now held by Senator Dial may find when the time comes that the steps are not quite high enough.

Reports are reaching the city of the early arrival of the boll weevil in this county, many fa mers having already found them on the mall cotton plants. It will be recalled that the government experts predicted that this would happen in view of the mild winter and other favorable boll weevil conditions. The same expert knowledge that enabled the government experts to predict defintely the early arrival of the weevil this year is at the service of the farmers in making the fight on the weevil. GOVERNOR COOPER

During the past week one of Laurens' favorite sons, Robert A. Cooper has resigned the office of chief execu tive of the state to accept the office of director of the federal land bank Governor Cooper has served one full term and part of a second term.

In Governor Cooper South Carolina has had a faithful executive. We know of no higher tribute than that. He has erred, we believe, in some things. All men are fallable. But, taking his nearly four years of service, we believe that few governors of the state have acted as conscientiously and with as an unswerving fidelity to duty as he. In no official act can the taite of selfishness be found. In going to a field of wider activity where possibilities of great service are cess and count on him to perform his a member of the state board of educafound, his home people wish him sucduties there with the unflinching loyalty to the whole people that has characterized his public service to this

Of paramount importance among the many problems the commission is facing is the source of the city's water supply. Considerable time and attention is being given by both the superintendent and the commissioners for improving the water supply.

Mr. McCuen stated that the commission plans to ask for a bond issue of $65,000 for the improvement of the water system. An important change in the electrical system in the city that is also necessary, according to the commission, is the removal from the main streets of the city of all high voltage lines.

The motto: "Safety-Service and Efficiency" has been adopted by the commission of public works. The high standards that are set forth in the meeting Friday night. the motto can more easily be maintained, it is stated by the commission, FREE MOVING PICTURES TO if the people of Laurens will give the commission all the cooperation it deserves.
