

EXACT SCOPE OF STRIKE POLICY TO BE REVEALED SOON

Preparations for Legislative and Executive Action Appear to be Nearing Completion.

Washington, Aug. 27.—The exact scope of the administration's policy in dealing with the rail and coal strikes is expected to reveal itself within the next few days as a result of preparations for legislative and executive action which appeared to-night to be nearing completion.

Whether the emergency legislation to be definitely urged upon Congress will include a presidential authorization to take over and operate rail and coal properties was a question that still remained unanswered, but it was indicated that administration officials probably would make a final decision on the point in the very near future.

In some quarters it was believed that the proposal to arm the executive with these emergency powers would be finally threshed over among the leaders who are with President Harding on his week-end cruise down the Potomac and that definite announcement of policy would follow the return here of the presidential yacht Mayflower tomorrow morning.

Those in the president's confidence said before he left here for the cruise last night that although he still believed industrial peace would be restored without a resort to government operation, he was inclined to feel that as a precautionary measure he should be given full authority to act before congress begins its contemplated recess.

In addition to Secretary Hoover and Attorney General Daugherty, two of the cabinet members who have been particularly active in shaping the government's course during the strike period, the president was accompanied on the Mayflower by Chairman Cummins, of the senate interstate commerce committee, who already has drafted for introduction in the senate, a bill authorizing the executive to take over and operate any individual railroad which does not adequately perform its functions as a common carrier. Before he went aboard the Mayflower, Senator Cummins had indicated that his measure and a similar one relating to coal mines would be formally introduced early this week.

Majority leaders say they are confident that such legislation could be passed through both senate and house, if the president definitely requested it, but at the same time they concede that congressional approval would be by no means unanimous. Although many members in both bodies are demanding that the government take charge of the situation in the most emphatic manner possible, there is a recognized element of strength ranged against any movement that might approximate a return of the war-time government railroad administration.

Particular attention was given in congressional circles today to the public statement made last night by Chairman Winslow, of the house interstate commerce committee, declaring that in his opinion the coal fact-finding and distribution bills already pending would serve as a sufficient warning to the industries involved, and that more drastic legislation could safely be withheld for the present. It was pointed out also that President Harding's recommendation for a coal purchasing and selling agency had thus far not even resulted in any effort to bring in bills for carrying it into effect, and that even the fact-finding and distribution bills proposed had not encountered perfect sailing weather either in senate or house.

The senate having laid aside the Borah fact-finding bill entirely until the middle of the week because of prolonged attacks upon it, efforts to deal with the strike problem at both ends of the capital tomorrow will be confined to committee consideration of the respective distribution bills introduced by Chairman Cummins and Chairman Winslow.

In the house committee the Winslow bill will be made the subject of a five hour public hearing, at which all persons interested will be permitted to present their views. House leaders plan to call it up in the house on Tuesday.

The senate committee, with the Cummins distribution measure before it, has adopted no definite program of procedure, but it is expected an effort will be made by some members to delay action and hold hearings before it votes its approval or disapproval.

SIX PERSONS INJURED IN AUTOMOBILE WRECK

That Happened on the Road Between Anderson and Clemson College.

Anderson, Aug. 22.—Six people were injured near here today in an automobile collision. Mrs. Calhoun Harris was driving to Clemson college and had got about seven miles from the city when the accident happened. A car passed Mrs. Harris, who was driving her Scripps-Booth, and the cloud of dust that was raised kept her from seeing the approaching car, also blinding the driver of the Maxwell, who was a Mr. Gambrell, of Sandy Springs.

The door of Mrs. Harris' automobile was thrown open and her mother, Mrs. J. W. Morrah, of Mt. Carmel and little Alice Childs Harris were thrown from the car to the ground. Mrs. Morrah suffered a dislocated hip and it was thought that the child had also been seriously injured, but her condition is much better this afternoon. Both were taken to the Anderson county hospital.

John Harris, father of Calhoun Harris, was also cut and bruised considerably, and the young son of Mrs. Harris, John Gradley, was also slightly hurt, while Miss Alice Harris is suffering more from shock than actual injuries. Mr. Gambrell, who was driving the other car was not hurt, according to reports.

Both of the cars were badly torn up. The car of Mrs. Harris had the steering wheel torn completely off and the broken glass from the windshield flew in every direction.

Physicians are of the opinion that none are hurt very seriously, still it may be some time before Mrs. Morrah is able to leave the hospital and a still longer time before she will be able to walk.

BLIND BOY WINS SCHOOL HONORS

Employs Dictaphone and Raised Letter Books; Uses Memory.

Honolulu, Aug. 26.—Scholastic leadership at the University of Hawaii for the college year which has just closed goes to a blind boy, Henry Bindt, a third year student in the college of arts and sciences.

Besides attaining an average grade of 93 in all his subjects during the year, thus leading the entire student body in scholarship Bindt took an active part in college activities, being elected president of the student body for the ensuing year, president of the literary club, and president of his class. He was also one of the few students to be chosen as charter members of the newly organized student honor society.

Bindt does the studying by the aid of readers and a dictaphone, using also text books printed in the American Braille system of raised letter writing. He takes no lecture notes, depending entirely on his memory, which his instructors say is remarkably developed.

The honor system was adopted at the University of Hawaii during the last year largely as a result of Bindt's efforts in lecturing to students and faculty on the advantages of the system. The blind boy received his early schooling in the California School for the Blind at Berkeley, California.
