This is not punctuated as above in our dictionary of familiar phrases, but most of our readers will perhaps recognize the superior truth of our corrected reading, if they compare its philosophy with their own experience.—Columbia Record.

The Cold.

On last Friday morning we had a considerable fall of snow which was followed by a rain and late in the evening wind began to blow and it was stormy during the night. On Saturday morning everything was frozen and the wind still blowing. No thaw took place during the day Saturday. The thermometer on Saturday stood from 12 to 14 all day. On Sunday morning it was said to have gotten as low as 3 degrees above zero. On Monday morning it stood 6 degrees above zero. The branches around town were frozen over all day Sunday and Monday. It is said to have been the coldest weather known here. It is too cold to do anything, and in fact business has been on a stand still here for several days. It is death to printers. The type in this office were frozen together on Monday. It is too cold for the editor to leave the stove, but the paper must come out. The water froze in the bucket in the Judge of Probate's office, something that our present Probate Judge says has not occurred since he has been in the office.

Mr. A. G. Maybin lost a fine Jersey calf from the cold.

Our Exchanges. Quite a number of changes have taken place in the State press with the new year.

THE CHURCH RECORD, Edited by Rev. W. D. Kirkland, has been discontinued, and Mr. Kirkland assumes editorial control of the Southern Christian Advocate.

Mr. J. R. Gossett retires from the EASLEY MESSENGER, and Mr. T. W. Condon succeeds him.

THE ORANGEBURG TIMES AND DEMOCRAT has been enlarged to an eight page paper, and MARION STAR has also been enlarged in the same way.

THE BAPTIST COURIER comes out in a new type, and Mr. J. M. Scott retires from the MORNING ADVANCE. And there are other changes that we have failed to note. We hope all are for the best for all concerned.

Not the Oldest. We would say to our esteemed contemporary, the HERALD & NEWS, that while Mr. James Gaunt has lived to be an old man, he is not the oldest in the County.

Mr. Abram Moore, who resides near Prosperity, is now in his 90 or 91st year. In speaking of the venerable Dr. Ruff and Mr. James Gaunt reminds us of our boyhood days, when we used to visit their families. We have known these gentlemen ever since we were a wee little fellow.—Prosperity Reporter.

At the time we made the statement we had in mind Mr. Abram Moore, but were not sure about his age, but were under the impression that he was 81 or 82. We yield to him the palm of being the oldest man in the county, and hope he may live to see many more years.

All ladies who value their appearance use Wood's Ointment to preserve and whiten the teeth. It keeps the gums healthy and renders the breath pure and sweet. 25c. a box at Dr. Fant's, Robertson's and all Druggists. 1-13-14

Effects of the Cold. The extreme cold has had a most disastrous effect upon the managerie of Master Eugene Greener. Saturday morning last he discovered one of his pets, a beautiful little Guinea Pig, frozen stiff and dead. Fearing a like result to another of the same kind, he removed it to the house and carefully bestowed it away. On examination Sunday morning it was found that this one also had succumbed to the cold, and was dead. On Monday morning, to his great grief, his pet alligator was also found stiff and stark. Thus in the lapse of three nights three of his pets have found the weather too cold for them, and have gone to the happy hunting grounds. It will be some time ere this youthful Baruaum will be able to recover his losses.

A Mean Thing. A great newspaper reader was out hunting recently, and a storm coming up he crept into a hollow tree log for shelter. After the storm abated he endeavored to crawl out, but found that the log had swelled so that it was impossible to make his exit. He endeavored to compress himself as much as possible, but with indifferent success. He thought about all the mean things he had ever done, until finally his mind reverted to the fact that, instead of buying his paper like a man, he was in the habit of borrowing from his neighbor. On this he felt so small that he slipped out without an effort.—Columbia Record.

Pelham's Pectoral Syrup. This invaluable household remedy is worth its weight in gold. It stands unrivalled as an expectorant remedy. So long as everybody uses it and is willing to testify orally as to its real merits, what is the use to publish certificates? We don't recommend it in place of any practicing physician, it cannot, nor can any remedy supplant the doctor, but when the doctor is absent, nothing acts so well for coughs, colds, croup, &c. Price 25 cents a bottle. 1-13-14

Ask Dr. Fant or Robertson if Wood's Ointment is not one of the best selling tooth powders on the market; this evidence of its merit is incontrovertible. 25 cts. a box at all Druggists. 1-13-14
