Newberry County Institute.

Newberry is one of the few counties in the State that has a permanent organization among its teachers, with regular meetings at which are discussed educational matters in general, and particularly those bearing directly on their own interests. That these meetings are considered helpful by the teachers of the county is clearly proven by the fact that more than fifty per cent. of them attend each month, although it puts them to considerable expense and trouble. The way to get good positions is to qualify for them, and to do this, teachers must avail themselves of every opportunity to gain experience and broaden their views. Newberry is taking the proper step to obtain a high rank as an educational county.—Carolina Teacher.

The Reception.

The commencement exercises of Newberry College closed last Wednesday night with a reception at the college in honor of the graduating class, and as usual it was a very pleasant affair, as was evidenced by the fact that they did not disperse until the "wee sma' hours."

The Ball.

The ball, under the auspices of the Mistletoe Dancing Club, on last Thursday night was a big success; although in the afternoon there was many a sad heart and disappointed look in the city, as a heavy cloud rolled up, and it was feared that we were going to have a repetition of the big rain that we had for commencement ball two years ago, but soon the moon and stars came out and we all knew that we would not be disappointed. The Newberry Hotel dining room was just comfortably filled with the club and its guests, and it was the opinion generally expressed that it was as enjoyable and pleasant affair as was ever held in our city. Refreshments were served about 1 o'clock by our able caterer, Mr. Sam. B. Jones.

MT. TABOR.

And still it rains. Mr. Monroe J. Epting will hold services at Mt. Tabor next Sunday in the absence of the pastor.

Quite an amount of sickness in the neighborhood—mostly dysentery. Drs. Wyche and Sease are quite busy administering to the sick.

Next Tuesday, the 29th, is the day fixed by the commissioners for the railroad election in No. 9. Don't forget the day or let the busy season prevent your voting, but step right up to the polls and give such a rousing majority in favor of the road as to leave no doubt in the minds of outsiders that the people of No. 9 know a good thing when they see it. Remember that when you vote the small amount that is asked in this township, you are investing your money to realize at least 100 per cent. interest.

Messrs. Sheely & Boland are doing up this section with their threshing machine. Grain crops are unusually poor.

Rev. J. A. Sligh left on Monday for Roanoke city, Va., as a delegate to the general Synod South. This meeting will perhaps be the most interesting that this body has ever held, in view of the fact that during the meeting a diet will be held with delegates from all the Lutheran Synods South, with a view of uniting into one body. The proceedings are looked forward to with much interest.

Sam Jones said in one of his sermons in St. Louis: "If you see a fellow running and hallooing, you know that is a hit dog. Let him alone. If he is not hit, what is he hallooing for? This language seems to me to be applicable to a certain newspaper correspondent who signs himself "Quiver." If he and some of the other farmers that he speaks of as being bored to death with the gimlet of advice is not hit, why does he keep up such an eternal whining and hallooing. I had thought at one time there was some hopes of his obtaining a high position, but since the college board met last week, and in their deliberations forgot to mention his name, that hope has faded into oblivion. No one now, since his description of himself, pretends to doubt his ability as a physiognomist, and it looks as though he may become a phrenetic if he keeps his brains overloaded much longer.

Now, Mr. "Quiver," if you will pardon me for boring you with a gimlet this one time, I want to tell you that there is a placid contentment in not knowing too much. That is why I am so quietly happy. When the dazzling flash dashes upon you that this world has upwards of a hundred thousand people in it, and is a little over one hundred and fifty years old, is a little over ninety-one miles wide, and has one mountain a size larger than Little Mountain in it, and men, while they may not be any bigger than Goliath, are still able to carry more slings, perhaps you will be content to continue planting cotton and the "goose-pod" bottom in corn, and making the West your smoke house and crib, like a good practical farmer that don't like the gimlet bored too deep. L. C. B.

JALAPA.

More rain, more grass, makes the negro hoe fast.

Farmers this year have their full share of grass, and some, it seems, have more than they will be able to get through with. The rains still continue, and on Monday we are having an East wind with a chilly rain which is very much against the growing crop.

Cotton on sandy land has turned red, and dying out to a bad stand. The red land cotton is standing the wet spell very well so far, but don't seem to be growing or flourishing as it should be for so late in June. The corn crop is fine on red lands, but on sandy land it is turning yellow, and if the rains continue one week longer, it will be impossible for the sandy and low lands to make a crop of corn, for the low lands have been too wet to be replanted. Since the late freshet all those that were not overflooded have been too wet to be worked, and the grass and weeds have about become master of our most fertile soil. What will be the result, we will only have to wait and see what the near future will bring forth. Wheat and oats have been harvested, and they have been wet for the last two weeks, and in great danger of being lost by rotting and sprouting while in the field. This is one of the hardest years on the agriculturalist that was ever known. The farmer has only one thing that can console him at present, and that is, he is satisfied that no more grass can come up in his crop until he can get out what is already up and growing luxuriantly. I don't think that I ever saw grass come up thicker on land than it has since this wet and rainy spell commenced.

Tranquil Church has been re-covered which improves the looks considerably. I understand that one good christian lady of that church had it done and paid all the expenses, which was about $75 or $80.

Mr. J. Isaac Campbell's alligator that was sent to him by Dr. Folk from Georgetown, is now prowl on the banks of Beaverdam; so fishermen, you had better look out before you sit down to fish. George Glasgow is very sick. The early fruit is rotting, and the grape crop, which promises to be the largest for this country, is also rotting very fast.

The Tranwood school will have a picnic on next Saturday, 26th inst., at Mr. James Bowers' plantation which is near the school house. The editors are invited to be present and participate in the expected enjoyments.

Our Democratic club will meet on Saturday evening at 4 p. m. I hope we may have a good turnout, as business of importance will be submitted to the club for action. It is very important for every good and true Democrat to be present, so as to express his opinion as to what will be the most honest and true method of electing our Congressmen.

JAN. The editor of a Pharmaceutical Journal in Detroit makes the startling disclosure that fifteen thousand children are poisoned annually by the use of Soothing Syrups, containing opium and morphia. To facilitate the process of teaching nothing is safer than Norman's Cordial. Try it. Price 25 cents. For sale by W. E. Pelham.

VAUGHNSVILLE.

Misses Gollie and Susie Garrette, two of Vaughnsville's fairest daughters, have returned from Williamston, where they have been attending college. We are glad to see them back home in the bloom of health again.

Misses Eva Golden, Fannie Mathias and Maggie Atchison spent last Saturday eve with Mrs. C. A. Brooks.

Miss Mary Atchison is visiting relatives in Laurens.

Mr. James Larkin is quite sick, and it is doubtful if he will recover. Dr. A. N. Tally is attending him. Our young doctor is very successful and never gives up his cases as long as there is life. We hope he will raise our friend, Mr. Larkin. The Sunday school of Soul's Chapel meets every Sunday at 9 o'clock. Capt. J. N. Jenkins is superintendent. The Capt. makes a good superintendent. We trust this year much good will be accomplished by the Sunday school at the above place, and that many may be brought to the knowledge of the salvation of their souls.

Mrs. Gussie Keizler is spending awhile at her mother's.

Vaughnsville has one farmer who has enough corn in his crib to last him next year, besides what he will consume this year, and he has not an acre of bottom land on his place. Mr. John S. Brooks is the man.

Mr. C. W. Salter is teaching school at this place, and has 18 or 20 scholars. He will continue the school the entire year as the public school begins in October. The patrons are very much pleased with Mr. Salter. He opens and closes his school with singing and prayer.

We are having a great deal of rain, and some of the farmers say the grass will take their crop, others say let it rain at least two or three times a week. Upland corn is looking very promising, cotton and other crops are also looking well.

Miss Mollie T. Barr is now at Mr. M. M. Barr's, her nephew.

Miss Bettie Brooks is spending a few days at her cousin's, Mr. J. A. Hill.

Capt. J. G. Jenkins has the finest piece of corn, we venture to say, in Newberry County.
