The Farmers' Movement. We are in earnest about the farmcrs' movement. It made a good start. The reading farmers of the State were aroused. They felt the time had come for united and intelligent effort. Having suddenly got rid of human slavery they also desired to be emancipated from the slavery to factors and money lenders. They wished to become free indeed. But the farmers must remember that enthusiastic conventions, high-sounding resolutions, and the General Assembly, under the control of farmers, will not pay debts and lift mortgages on the farms. Even the repeal of the lien law will not fill the empty cribs with corn and the barns with hay. They may vote and pass resolutions and enact laws until doomsday, and the meal tub will be no fuller in consequence thereof. The fact is the farmers' movement got off on the wrong track. The ensiness. Instead of moving forward slowly and cautiously on the track of real reform and progress, which is advertising in American a steep up-grade, he dashed down the political side track that looked so inviting. Hence the derailment and the disaster worse than that of the Santee trestle. An attempt is made to rally the farmers again and that for the avowed purpose of con-trolling the General Assembly. If the real object of the farmers' movement is a political one and they are using all this talk about bettering their condition as a sham in order to coutrol primaries, conventions and legislatures, then the farmers' movement will scon resolve itself into a political machine. But the real farmers' movement has hardly begun yet. One of the dangers is that farmers will be taught to look to conventions and special legislation to help them in their daily work. They somehow think labor will be improved by repealing the lien law and that all farmers in the legislature would bring blessings untold. Such teaching as this is a delusion. If there are debts on the farm they have to be paid by individual effort. Window Shades, mounted on best If labor is not trustworthy, it must be improved by good example and good pay. If the crops are poor the soil must be deepened and enriched. There must be general improvement in every nook and corner from the pig pen to the parlor. If a convention or any sort of meeting offers you any help, if it teaches you better how to do work, then attend that convention. Do not be afraid to follow any "Moses" who will lead you to individual success, and you will not fail.—Carolina Spartan, August 17th. Prefers to Rustle on the Outside.

Capt. B. R. Tillman, the so-called Agricultural Moses in a letter to the Edgeneld Advertiser has withdrawn his candidacy for the Legislature as a representative from Edgefield County. This is just what we expected. Capt. Tillman has awoke to a painful realization of the fact that among discreet representative men, such as are usually found in a State Convention, he is an inconsequential cipher, and he knows that his position in the State Legislature would be no better. He prefers to remain on the outside as a rustling class agitator rather than go to the Legislature and be crushed by the weight of his own emptiness and self sufficiency .- Aiken Recorder.

Cancer of the Tongue.

My wife, some three or four years ago, was troubled with an ulcer on the side of the her tongue near the throat. The pain was incessant, causing loss of sleep and producing great nervous prostration. Accompanying this trouble was rheuma-tism. It had passed from the shoulders and centered in the wrist of one hand, she almost losing the use of it. Between the suffering of the two, life had grown burdensome. By the use of a half dozen small bottles of Swift's Specific, she was entirely relieved and restored to health. This was three years ago, and there has been no return of the desease.

Bradfield's Female Regulator

ATLANTA, GA., Feb. 20, 1884.

DR. J. BRADFIELD: Deur Sir—Some fifteen years ago I examined the receipt of Female Regulator, and carefully studied authorities in regard to its components, and then (as well as now) pronounce it to be the most scientific and skillful combination of the really reliable remedial vegetable agents known to science to act directly on the womb and uterme organs, and the organs and parts sympathizing directly with these; and, therefore, providing a specific remedy for all diseases of the womb, and of the adjacent organs and parts.

Yours truly,
