

The Herald and News

Local and Special.

THIS PAPER may be found on the at the office of the Newberry Herald and News, at the corner of the Main and Market streets, Newberry, S. C.

THE FIFTIETH CONGRESS.

Result of the Elections in the Several States.

There are in the present Congress 183 Democrats, a majority of 43. The States in which there was thought to be likelihood of a change were Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Connecticut, California, Missouri and Tennessee.

The changes as far as shown are: Virginia, a Republican gain of four; North Carolina, a Democratic gain of one; New York, a Republican gain of one; Ohio, a Republican gain of two or three; Louisiana, a Democratic gain of two. Quite a number of districts are still uncertain.

In Missouri the Democrats gain one. There was a tight vote in this State. The only opposition to the regular Democratic ticket was in Berkeley and Chesterfield, and to Col. Elliott in the 7th district. Berkeley and Chesterfield have gone Democratic, and the probability is that Col. Elliott has defeated Smalls for Congress in the 7th district.

Robertson's Fever and Ague Cure is the only certain cure for chills and fever. Come and buy a bottle at his Drug Store opposite the Post Office, and quit your shakings.

A large supply of school books just received at Caston & Hunt's.

Secretaries of societies call on J. W. Chapman for Record Books.

A fresh supply of strong Apple and White Wine Vinegars for sale cheap at Robertson's Drug Store opposite the Post Office.

Handsome Photo, and Autograph Albums at Chapman's.

Splendid lot of Blank Books at J. W. Chapman's, and cheap too.

Go to Wooten & McWhirter's and see something exquisitely beautiful.

Nice Papeterie ranging from 15c. and upward at the Friend St. corner, where a friendly call is solicited.

Old Iron, taken from the jail cells, as good as new, for sale cheap by J. S. Russell.

Caston & Hunt will give you the very lowest figures on text books. Don't buy till you see them.

No rent, no clerk hire enables me to sell at bottom prices.

Full line School Books just from the publishers at Chapman's book store, sold at publishers' prices.

A large supply of glass ware and crockery were cheap at J. S. Russell's.

If you wish school books, slates, school bags, school stationery, &c., at rock bottom prices, call on Caston & Hunt.

The Best.
Swift & Company's Parlor Matches, Coat's Spool Thread, Mason's Blacking, Campbell's Baking Powders, Choice Vinegar, N. O. Syrup, New Mackerel, Land Sugar, Rice, etc. A new lot of Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes at J. S. Russell's.

The State Ball.

Mr. J. T. Barron, Secretary of the South Carolina Club, asks us to say, that owing to the repairs going on at the State House, the club will hold its annual ball in a smaller hall, which will not accommodate their usual attendance, consequently gentlemen, residents of the State, not members of the club, cannot purchase tickets. Applications for membership will be received up to the evening of Wednesday, November 10th, when there will be a meeting of the club to elect members.

J. W. Chapman can please the most economical buyer of Books and Stationery. Try him.

Caston & Hunt keep the largest stock of small and family bibles, gospel hymns and all kinds of song books in the city. Give them your order.

Quinine, Compound Cathartic Pills and other Family Medicines at J. S. Russell's.

For blank books, composition and exercise books, pocket memorandums and account books of all kinds, call on Caston & Hunt.

Hot for the State Fair.

The following rates for round trip to the fair of the South Carolina Agricultural and Mechanical Society will be put on sale at the following low rates to Columbia and return. Tickets on sale November 8th to 12th, inclusive, good to return until November 15th, inclusive: Dyson's, $2.45; Chappell's, $2.45; Saluda, O. T., $2.15; Silver Street, $2.15; Helena, $1.90; Newberry, $1.90; Prosperity, $1.60; Pomaria, $1.25 and Hope's, $1.15. Articles intended for exhibition (race horses excepted) will be transported free. Prepay freight at shipping point, and upon presentation of receipted freight bill, and certificate of the secretary of the fair association that the article has been exhibited, money will be refunded on article returned. For further information, address D. Cardwell, A. G. F. & P. Agt., Columbia, S. C.; J. H. Drake, G. F. Agt., Washington, D. C.; Jas. L. Taylor, G. P. Agt., Washington, D. C.

The Cheapest Blank Books, days, journals, ledgers and records, at the friendly store corner of Friend & Caldwell sts., you will be your own friend as well as the proprietors friend if you buy these books.

Young ladies and gentlemen want the most ornate, the prettiest, and at the same the finest and best Papeterie made. They are invited to call and see the beautiful specimens at the store of Mrs. Corrie Greener.

Hughes' Lung Cordial is a first rate thing to keep in the family. Children as well as adults are subject to Coughs, Colds and Sore Throat. They may take this medicine without harm and with most beneficial results. Price 75 cts. a bottle. Your druggist keeps it.

Bullets.

The game law expired last Monday.

A slight shock of earthquake was felt here Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. R. F. Pyles and son, of Spattanburg, are visiting in Newberry.

Several parties from this city expect to attend the State ball on Thursday.

See Gen. Hunt's new winter advertisement of fish, oysters, coal, etc.

Mord, Foot offers some splendid bargains this week. Go and see him.

C. F. Jackson, Columbia, says he is undoubtedly the "leader of low prices."

Mr. Haskell Wright killed a wild white rabbit in the woods near Jalapa last week.

The midwinter dancing club will have a dance at the Crowell hotel to-morrow night.

Mrs. F. J. Fant has a notice in this issue, being executor of the estate of Dr. S. F. Fant.

Mr. J. P. Pool went up to Greenville last Saturday and J. H. Green followed him on Tuesday.

Mr. John Donahue has just erected a handsome new sign at his grocery store, near the court house.

Christmas goods are arriving. Confield & Lyons already have in a handsome case, which is well worth a look.

Mr. Clark Smith's gin house caught fire twice last week, but it was extinguished before doing any damage.

The first annual sale of Jersey cattle will be held at the fair grounds in Columbia on Thursday, the 11th inst.

Ben Cline says this week that he has some of the handsomest Jerseys and other winter goods that you ever saw.

M. L. Kinard says this week that he is in it for you for the State ball in first class style, as he has a full line of dyke suits.

The Lottin Club received an invitation to the departure of one of its members, who is going to join the ranks of the Benedicts.

We were recently shown a curiosity in the way of a batch of white and red sweet potatoes both growing on the same vine.

Michael Strogoff at the opera house Friday night. As this is the first real good show of the season, we ought to give them a good house.

Mr. J. C. Bowles, of Newberry County, who has been living in Georgia for some time past, has returned. He says Newberry County is the best country he has been able to find.

Miss Annie Nolan, who has been spending some time in the city, visiting at Mr. Geo. McWhirter's accompanied by Miss Blanch Gage, of Union, went to Florida one day last week.

Not to be behind the drummers, the numerous S. C. postmasters, among whom we notice the name of Mrs. E. S. Hebert, have issued a call for a convention of third and fourth class postmasters, to be held in Columbia, November 10th.

The shooting season opened on the first inst., and numerous hunters in Newberry have already begun to take advantage of it. Mr. Thos. W. Keitt reports that at nine o'clock Monday morning several guns were popping away in his neighborhood.

Hon. O. L. S. Hunter, of Newberry, one of the leading lawyers and most accomplished gentlemen of the country, is in the city to-day, stopping at the hotel Jerome. Col. Schumppert is on his way to Augusta, whether he goes to argue an important case in the Georgia courts.—Columbia Register.

A splendid spectacle—"Michael Strogoff" at the Opera House Friday Night.

The lavishly scenic display and wonderful realism of Jules Verne's thrilling romance, "Michael Strogoff," will be seen on the stage of the Opera House Friday night. Few dramas now on the stage give the scope for scenic splendor that is found in this powerful representation of the romantic career of the courier to the Czar. The pomp of the imperial forces, and the picturesque of the frontier stations on the Steppes of Russia, and the grim-side of battle, all pay tribute to its splendor, and are presented with a fidelity and realism that surpass anything of the kind ever seen. The music on scene revels in the glint of despotic display, the richness of barbaric color and the delights that come only with lavish expenditure and careful study of the effects of masses. This is especially evident in the wonderful tableaux that close the various scenes, and leave on the retina of the spectators pictures so vivid and life-like that it is several seconds after the halcyon fall of the scene that the eye is able to see these things disappear. Aside from these general excellencies, there is much to hold the closest attention of the audience. The drama is one that not only appeals to every admirer of the sturdy patriotism of the Slavonic race, but is strong in interest to every one. Like the novel on which it is founded, it is thrilling from beginning to end, and the rapid succession of its exciting episodes gives it an absorbing character, which even a knowledge of the plot and denouement does not impair. In fact, the absorbing character is intensified by the somewhat florid treatment it has received in dramatization. The painter's art, as well as the costume's ingenuity, have been brought into prominence in the scenic illustrations that assume a marked distinction seldom seen in stage productions. These pictorial features are especially remarkable, but are rivalled by the scenes showing the battles of Kolyvan and Irkutsk in flames. The characterizations are all of them strong.

Death of Little Lucy Fair.

This bright interesting little girl, after an illness of several weeks, died of Pneumonia, at the residence of her father, Mr. W. Y. Fair, near the city on this Wednesday morning November 3rd, and will be interred at the Cemetery on to-morrow (Thursday) afternoon at 4 o'clock. Funeral services at the family vault.

Meeting of Stewards.

A meeting of the Stewards of Newberry Circuit will be held at the parsonage on Monday the 6th day of December next, at 10 o'clock in the morning. A full attendance is absolutely necessary.

Good Results in Every Case.

D. A. Bradford, wholesale paper dealer of Chattanooga, Tenn., writes that he was severely afflicted with a severe cold that settled on his lungs; but tried many remedies without benefit. Being induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, did so, and entirely cured by use of a few bottles. Since which time he has used it in his family for all Coughs and Colds with best results. He has the experience of thousands whose lives have been saved by this Wonderful Discovery. Trial bottles free at Confield & Lyons' Drug Store.

A Very Plain Statement.

The publication and circulation by Mr. Walter C. Robertson of the correspondence which recently passed between him and myself, with the addition of a statement, recently made by suppression of truth, actual falsehood and the suggestion of falsehood, induces me to issue this circular, not to defend myself, but to place him in the pillory of public shame, where he rightly belongs.

Over a year ago I was forced to the conclusion that Mr. Walter C. Robertson, with whom I had previously been on friendly and social terms, was a coward, habitual and cowardly slanderer of women, and for this reason a creature unfit to be recognized by gentlemen. My conclusion was based on the facts in several cases, in none of which I had the right to call him to account. The desire to do so existed, but if it had been indulged, greater publicity would have been given to the slanders which, from malice or from a morbid vanity, he had perpetrated in corners. There was only one course which I could pursue to emphasize my detestation of his character, and my belief in his unfitness for decent society. This was to "cut" him forthwith, and to let others understand my reason for doing so. From that time, despite his repeated and spiteful efforts to secure recognition from me, I ignored him. On numerous occasions when his name was mentioned I gave my opinion of him freely, and never in the line of confidence. For fully four months before I was placed under a peace bond I pursued this course, and had reason to believe, from the sudden and final stoppage of his attempts upon my society, that Mr. Robertson had heard, as I intended that he should, my comments upon him.

About the 1st of February, as one result of several personal encounters, I was bound over to keep the peace for a year and a day. The bond was $500, and the bondsmen were my friends. I have not considered that an obligation to keep the peace prevented me from expressing my honest opinion about any man. But I had entirely forgotten the existence of my bond when, on the 21st inst., referring to the invitations to the State Ball, distributed by Mr. Robertson as the Secretary of the South Carolina Club, I said to Mr. W. S. Reamer, that I considered Walter Robertson a disgrace to the club, and that he ought to be kicked out of it. This was not said in confidence. Mr. Reamer took no exception to the remark, but repeated it to Mr. Robertson. He assured me that he did not do so through malice. It does not, however, annoy me that it was repeated, whether through malice or inadvertence.

About 11 o'clock, on the morning of the 22d, I was aroused from sleep by a knocking at my door. Mr. M. C. Robertson, whom I liked, and to whom I had been a friend, requested admittance, as he wished to speak to me. I got up and admitted him. He asked me politely if I had made the remark attributed to me by Mr. Reamer. I promptly admitted its substantial correctness as reported. The following are the essential points of the conversation which ensued: He said that he was aware I was under a peace bond, and that that complicated the business, but that my remark was one which could not be borne. My brother, W. E. Gonzales, here said that he was not under a peace bond, and would be responsible for what I had stated. Mr. Robertson ignored this statement, but proposed that his brother should come into the room and settle the matter with me. I answered that I held myself responsible for everything I said, and that I was ready to give him such satisfaction as he desired. Mr. Robertson, who objected to a fight in the room at such an hour, naturally protested against it, as stated in Mr. Robertson's card. I reiterated my willingness to afford the satisfaction desired. Under such circumstances, Mr. Robertson's objection could not be considered a finality, but Mr. Robertson then proposed that I should go into his room and settle the matter. I declined, because it would compel me to take the initiative in hostilities, which I could not do under my bond. He then said that he knew that I was Walter's superior physically, and did not want to see him physically, and inquired whether I would accept a challenge to a duel. I said that I would not, and did not propose to disfranchise myself and subject myself to punishment for felony and further, because it would violate my bond to fight a duel. He left the room after remarking, "Well, I'll recommend Walter to challenge you, and I hope he will."

This report of the conversation is endorsed by R. E. Elliott and W. E. Gonzales, but I do not think that my substantial correctness will be questioned by Mr. Robertson himself. When I went to my office that morning, Mr. M. C. Robertson handed me the following note:

The following circular was printed and distributed by Mr. Walter C. Robertson of this city on Monday afternoon the 25th inst.:

Columbia, S. C., Oct. 22nd, 1886.

Mr. N. G. Gonzales, Sir: I have been informed, by Mr. Reamer, that yesterday evening, in his presence, you made use of some most highly insulting language in reference to me; I write to demand a retraction of said language.

W. C. ROBERTSON.

October 22nd, 1886.

Mr. W. C. Robertson, Present: Sir—I decline.

N. G. GONZALES.

October 22nd, 1886.

Mr. N. G. Gonzales: Sir—As you have refused to retract the offensive language used by yourself in reference to me, I now request that you accord me a meeting, at such a time and place as may be mutually agreed upon, to render satisfaction for such language. I am aware that you are under a peace bond, and am willing that you should fix the time to suit the requirements of your bond.

WALTER C. ROBERTSON.

October 23rd, 1886.

Mr. W. C. Robertson: Sir—As I stated in my first interview with your representative, that I could not accept a challenge to a duel, and as from your note it appears that you contemplate the adjournment of a hostile meeting until next February, when my peace bond will expire, I cannot regard your challenge as seriously intended. I need only reiterate what I said to your brother when he called upon me—that while I cannot take the initiative in hostilities, I hold myself responsible for all my declarations, and that if you feel sufficiently aggrieved to accept the risk of an assault upon me, I can be readily found at my place of business, or about the city. There is nothing in my bond to prevent me from defending myself, and you may feel quite easy on that score. I venture to suggest, that if you propose any action which could lead to an encounter, I shall be in due time advised of your determination.

N. G. GONZALES.

October 23rd, 1886.

Mr. N. G. Gonzales: DEAR SIR—Without discussing the seriousness of my intentions, will you be kind enough to appoint a day on which we can meet, with friends, either in Charlotte or Augusta to arrange for a hostile meeting under the provisions of the code duello. If this does not violate your peace bond, which seems your sole objection, and if it violates your bond, I will gladly wait until February. WALTER C. ROBERTSON.

October 24th, 1886.

Mr. W. C. Robertson: Sir—I cannot regard a challenge as seriously designed to induce a duel when it is presented with a full knowledge of the fact that the challenged party will not accept it. The reiteration of your challenge under such circumstances as I have indicated above, and your failure to respond to my suggestion that you take a short and easy method of securing satisfaction, can only be accepted as indicating a desire to place me in a position which I do not propose to occupy. Duelling is dead in South Carolina.

Beyond the fact that I am under a peace bond and cannot make a hostile demonstration, is the objection which I have to subjecting myself, at your request, to the penalties of felony, when the satisfaction you desire can be more readily, surely and legally afforded you in another way. My peace bond does not prevent you from attacking me, and if you do it, I shall be bound to shoot you if you make the attack. This is the only reply I have to make. Perhaps I had better add, that if I hear that my refusal to accept your challenge is made, by yourself, your friends or associates, the basis for any imputation upon my courage, I shall be compelled, reluctantly, but in justice to myself, to publish this correspondence.

N. G. GONZALES.

On Thursday afternoon, Oct. 21st, I was told, by Mr. Reamer, that Mr. N. G. Gonzales had made use of some very insulting language in his presence in connection with my name. I went to my room and related the circumstances to my brother, Mr. C. Robertson, who at once went to Mr. Gonzales' room, which adjoins that of mine. My brother then asked him if he had made use of the language charged, and if so, would he retract. He acknowledged having made use of such language and declined to retract. My brother then informed him that he would call me in and let me finish the discussion, and guaranteed that I should come unarmed. Captain Elliott, who is Mr. Gonzales' uncle, and rooms with him, immediately said that as an occupant of that room, he would forbid such an intrusion, and if it was attempted, would have the entire party arrested. Mr. Gonzales was then invited to enter my room to meet me under a peace bond, but he could not go there with hostile intent. Having refused to meet me in the manner I wished, I sent him the above notes and received the answers appended.

Entrenching himself behind his peace bond he insults with impunity, but when called to account he calmly points to his "peace bond." When I endeavor to obviate that difficulty he falls back on the duelling law, and suggests a mode far more criminal, both legally and morally. In view of the fact that he has, behind my back, used most insulting language of me, and refused to meet me, to render satisfaction, I denounce him, before all brave men, as a coward.

I have mailed a copy of this to Mr. Gonzales.

WALTER C. ROBERTSON.

October 25, 1886.

Knowing that if he talked of "backing me out" I would publish the correspondence, showing that he was the delinquent, Mr. Robertson risked a publication in which he could combine with the letters a false fragmentary and misleading statement. I would have published the letters after sending my last note, but for the fact that it would have placed me in the position of reporting his challenge to the officers of the law. For this reason I sent the warning to him, while I felt that in the publication of the letters lay my own justification. With a view to immediate publication if I should prove to be slandered yesterday morning requested several of my friends to notify me instantly if they heard any imputation upon me.

I offered the insult. It was Mr. Robertson's part, not mine, to take the initiative in the matter of satisfaction. When I expressed my readiness for a duel, Mr. Robertson's representative turned to a duel. After I had said that I could not fight a duel, Mr. Robertson's representative announced that he would recommend him to challenge me. I suggested an easy method for a genuine fight. Mr. Robertson fell back on his impossible duel.

The penalty for challenging to a duel is deprivation of suffrage, disability from holding any office of honor or trust, and imprisonment in the penitentiary for a term not exceeding two years. The penalty for delivering a challenge or assisting in a duel is the same, with the addition of a heavy fine. If a duelist kills his adversary it is murder.

The "mode, far more criminal, both legally and morally," which I suggested, and which Mr. Robertson ignored, is either (1) assault and battery, fine not exceeding $100, imprisonment, in jail, not exceeding 30 days, or (2) aggravated assault and battery, fine or imprisonment without hard labor, at the discretion of the court. Of course killing in such a case is murder.

I am quite willing that those who read this record should form their own conclusions.

N. G. GONZALES.

Columbia, Oct. 26th, 1886.

Wedding Bells.

At the residence of Mr. J. W. M. Simmons, in this city to-day, (Wednesday the 3rd), Mr. Samuel A. Booser and Miss Bertie Cook were married by the Rev. C. P. Scott, of the Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. J. S. Cosby, pastor of the Presbyterian Church. Only members of the family and near relatives of the happy pair were present to witness the ceremony. They left on the down train for Augusta and Charleston, to visit Mrs. Bowles and Mrs. Johnston, sisters of the groom. They have the best wishes of a host of friends and of the HERALD AND NEWS for a safe journey and return home, and for every success in life.

Hewitt, Democrat, Elected Mayor of New York.

The following message was received by Mr. W. H. Stapleton at 9:40 a. m., to-day:

To W. H. Stapleton, Newberry, S. C.

New York Nov. 3rd, 1886—9:15 a. m.—Hewitt ninety thousand, George, sixty-seven thousand, Roosevelt sixty thousand. Ridgeway elected.

PETER J. O'BRIEN.

Mr. A. S. Hewitt was the nominee of the Democrats of the city of New York, for Mayor. Mr. Theodore Roosevelt, of the Republicans and Henry George, of the laboring class, Mr. Ridgeway is the Democratic District Attorney elect for Kings County. George's vote shows that the Knights of Labor have considerable power even in wealthy New York.

THE LATEST RETURNS.

Hewitt's vote 90,296
George's " 67,099
Roosevelt's vote..... 60,392

A New Move on the Part of the Prohibitionists.

For some time the friends of prohibition have been feeling their way for a contest on this question during the present fall and winter. The sentiment is said to be growing in all parts of the county. A few days ago a blank petition was sent to the patrons of this city by Dr. J. W. Langford Jr., with the request that they circulate them for signatures, before deciding what they would do in the matter, they agreed to call a meeting of the ministers and representative laymen of the county to discuss the question and then determine what course they should pursue. About fifty responded to the call and met at the Methodist Church on Tuesday afternoon and organized by electing Col. J. R. Leavell, Chairman, and Rev. J. D. Hugless, Secretary. Revs. McClintock, Christberg, Scott, McMackin and others were present. The question of petition was discussed and approved.

"The petition to the General Assembly of the State of South Carolina: The undersigned citizens of the County of Newberry would respectfully show that the prohibition of the sale of intoxicating liquors has for some years prevailed throughout their county except in the City of Newberry; that a very great public benefit has resulted therefrom; and that they feel assured that greater and more permanent good would result from such prohibition throughout the entire county."

Wherefore, they most earnestly petition your honorable body, by all the urgency of the public welfare, to enact such laws as will prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors throughout the entire county of Newberry."

The object of those interested in this move is to secure a majority of the voters for the petition, and to carry it in this shape to the General Assembly through their Representatives, and ask that a law to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors in this county be passed. They believe this to be a better plan than an election in the county, as an election would get up considerable feeling and excitement, and yet would not accomplish any more than the plan they have adopted. At the same time they seem to have no doubt as to a favorable result if carried to the polls. The persons who have in charge the securing of names to the petitions are expected to meet some time to place them in the hands of the Representatives before they go to Columbia.

Cannon's Creek Church.

The protracted services conducted at this church for several days closed last Sunday. Three persons united themselves with the church. On Sunday dedicatory services were held in the new church building. Rev. H. T. Sloan, D. D., of Due West, and Rev. J. C. Boyd of Prosperity preached sermons suited to the occasion, and remarks were also made by Revs.—Luther and W. W. McMorris.

The new building which takes the place of a small structure more than a hundred years old is large and neatly finished, being painted inside and out. Our A. R. P. friends of this county are to be congratulated on the zeal and church love which characterizes them as descendants of the noble old covenants of Scotland and which have resulted in numerous improvements of this kind during the last few years.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The Best Salve in the world for Cuts, Sores, Bruises, Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Fever Sores, Tetter, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns, and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures piles, or haemorrhoids. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Confield & Lyons.

Married.

At 2:30 o'clock P. M., on Wednesday November 3rd, at the residence of Mr. J. W. M. Simmons, at Newberry, S. C., Mr. Samuel A. Booser and Miss Bertie Cook, by Rev. C. P. Scott, assisted by Rev. J. S. Cosby.

Died.

Mr. W. B. Thornton died in this city on the morning of the 2nd instant. Aged 65 years.

New Advertisements.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold at such a low price by the multitude of low test, short weight, adulterated or phosphate powder. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., 100 Wall St., N. Y. 11-12-13.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, NEWBERRY COUNTY.

By Jacob B. Fellers, Probate Judge. WHEREAS, J. L. C. Davenport hath made suit to me to grant him Letters of Administration of the estate and effects of Dennis A. Senn, deceased.

There are, therefore, to cite and admonish all and singular the kindred and creditors of the said Dennis A. Senn, deceased, that they be and appear before me, in the Court of Probate, to be held at Newberry Court House, on the 16th day of November next, after publication hereof, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any they have, why the said administration should not be granted.

Given under my hand this 30th day of October Anno Domini 1886.

J. B. FELLERS, J. P. N. C.

11-3-26.

NOTICE.

Parties holding claims against the County of Newberry, funded or otherwise, will please present the same for payment on or before Monday, the 15th inst. By order of County Commissioners.

J. K. P. GOGGANS, Clerk.

Nov. 2nd 1886-2t.

Opera House

Friday, November 5

CHARLES L. ANDREWS'

MICHAEL STROGOFF,

AND MINUET CARNIVAL CO.

Part 1, two years; London over one year; New York, nearly 200 nights; United States, four seasons.

Powerful dramatic company; new and dramatic scenery; rich and characteristic costumes; European specialty stars; beautiful minuet ballet, by Signorina Gorski and a remarkably drilled company of richly costumed and handsome young ladies.

Wonderful dancing! entrancing music! Startling pictures! Intense acting! Phenomenal transformations! Lightning Zouave drill! Funny situations! Prices: first eight rows parquet and sides, $1.00; remainder of parquet and sides, 75 cents; seats in gallery fronting stage and first row on sides, 35 cents; remainder of gallery, 25 cents.

FRESH FISH & OYSTERS

Arriving daily by express at

HALLETT ICE HOUSE.

Orders promptly filled for families and delivered to any part of the city free of charge.

COAL

Also on hand, and sold at reasonable prices, either by the ton or barrel.

We will also keep on hand a sufficient quantity of ICE to supply the town and the surrounding country.

Terms cash.

W. H. HUNT, Agt.

Newberry, S. C.

NOTICE.

All persons having demands against the estate of Dr. S. F. Fant, deceased, are hereby notified to present them to the undersigned, on or before the first day of January, 1887.

All persons indebted to the same, either by note or account, are notified to come forward and settle.

F. J. FANT, Executor.

Nov. 2, 1886.

1886, Nov. 9th. Nov. 9th, 1886.

STATE FAIR.

No doubt the Fair this season will be more successful than in the past. Extensive preparations on a large scale are being made to entertain the visitors