HISTORY REPEATING ITSELF.

A Great Many Things Done in the Name of Religion for Which Christianity Will Suffer.

Atlanta Constitution.

Many things are done in the name of religion and by men who pretend to be extremely religious, that tend to injure rather than advance Chris-

The religion taught by our Savior has been of immense benefit to the human race. It has spread civilization, made man happier and better, elevated woman, and purified and redeemed millions. But many things have been done in the name of Christianity that have brought great misery and suffering into the world.

We must expect to see history rewar that followed the strife between the puritan and the cavalier in England, and the contentions between the Catholic and the Protestant, in various forms in Europe, involved great nations in a war of thirty years' duration. This carnival of blood brought pestilence and famine, and men were reduced to the extremity of cannibalism as the result of a strife originating in religious differences. It is unnecessary to mention similar calamities and excesses. They stain the records of every Christian nation.

The devil was abroad in the land when our Savior set up His kingdom on earth. He was found frequently then in the company of religious people. He wanted Christ to attempt many things, and he succeeded frequently in getting Christ's followers to do many things that were wrong stitutional or international questions. and productive of evil.

When our Savior performed the miracle of the loaves and fishes He found the devil in the congregation and quietly withdrew and went away from the multitude. They followed him and our Savior told them plainly that many of them were following Him for the loaves and fishes. It takes a poor judge of human nature to fail to recognize the devil in many alleged religious manifestations at the present time. He is abroad in the land, and nothing pleases him better than excesses of any kind. He preferred a place on a high mountain, more than eighteen centuries ago, simply because he wanted to pass the world in review. He has been at it ever since. He sends his evangelist into the great cities, not to preach the gospel, but to say sharp have a Holy Ghost of a time at his next meeting." He will run into any excess and deceive the people by telling them that he is fighting himself.

It is sure to come, as it has in the tion in the City Hall Park not far past, and we will have only to refer from the scene of his execution and back to the history of English speak. near the spot where American prising people to see what these excesses oners were kept during the Revoluled to shortly after the reign of James | tionary war. the First. It will be recollected that just before the wave of licentiousness, is conducted by Henry George when virtue had no reward and everything was debased, when the word hypocrite was synonymous with religious zeal, just such actings and doings were witnessed. "Praise-God Barebones' was a name that marked the era we allude to. This crowd had their evangelists, a man who said funny things, and took up collections, and cut many queer antics. He had peculiar ways of making himself conspicuous. There were many such false leaders, and they succeeded in disgusting the good and sensible. It was a fruitful text for the infidel and -it retarded Christianity.

There is but one form of religion, and it is the pure and simple one taught by our Savior. It fits the rich and the poor alike. It is based on love, not money; meekness, not ligion seems to have a queer effect noise; purity, not fun; truth, not jokes; forgiveness, not reviling. The simplest minded man in the world right or they may be wrong in the cannot fail to understand it, and because it is so simple the devil at- thing should be done, and must be tempts to counterfeit it. Even Paul done, to take a few of our big monopmarveled that the people were so olies by the throat and teach them soon removed from this gospel to an- decent manners is as plain as the other, "But there be some that trouble you and would pervert the gospel of Christ."

It is not uncommon in this day to hear the expression from Christian lips that it is right to fight the devil with fire. This is the natural sequence to another famous saying, that the end justifies the means. When men take up fire to fight the devil they are apt to get burned. Their next step is to regard anybody who fails to approve their course as a devil, and then somebody else is burned, and so it goes, regardless of consequences.

We have no right to judge men's motives. But we have our preferences, and one is that we prefer to ences, and one is that we prefer to the motives. But we have our preferences, and one is that we prefer to ences, and one is that we prefer to the motives.

"A point," as the term was used frequently in connection with the recent coffee flurry, is one one-hundreth part of a cent, this being the smallest fraction in which dealings options are permitted on the New York Coffee Exchange.

Bancroft, the historian, is now busy at work on a history of the Polk Administration, during which he was secretary of the navy. He has not reached that point in his history of the United States, but for personal reasons, and particularly because he thinks Polk has not had justice done him by other historians, he will pay particular attention to

In answer to an inquiry concerning the business of the Supreme Court, Justice Field said the other day: "The condition of the calendar could not be worse. An intimate friend of the tattooed man from Maine in a recent conversation said: "Mr. Blaine will not return until after the National Republican Convention. His absence will relieve him from the embarassment of saying whether he would accept the nomination for President again. Of course, if in his absence his friends should insist upon re nominating him he could hardly do less than accept the responsibility Mr. Blaine, I understand, will make a circuit of the globe. When he lands in San Francisco next summer he will probably receive the news that he has been renominated for President by the Republican party."

own Fault. MODERN COOKING AND MOD-ERN LIVING have brought it on. It comes upon us unawares. The patients have pains about the chest and sides, and sometimes in the back. They feel dull and sleepy; the mouth has a bad taste, especially in the morning. A sort of sticky slime collects about the teeth. The appetite is poor. There is a feeling like a heavy load on the stornach; sometimes a faint, all-gone sensation at the pit of the stomach which food does not satisfy. The eves are sunken, the hands and feet become cold and feel clammy. After a while a cough sets in, at first dry, but after a few months it is attended with a greenish colored expectoration. The patient feels tired all the while, and sleep does not seem to afford any rest. After a time he becomes nervous, irritable and gloomy, and has evil forebodings. There is a giddiness, a sort of whirling sensation in the head when rising up sud-The bowels become costive; the skin is dry and hot at times; the blood becomes thick and stagnant; the whites of the eyes become tinged with vellow; the kid ey secretions becomes scanty and high colored, depositing a sediment after standing. There is frequently a spitting up of the food, sometimes with a sour taste and sometimes with a sweetish taste; this is frequently attended with palpitation of the heart and Asthmatic symptoms; the vision becomes impaired, with spots before the eyes; there is a feeling of great prostration and weakness. All of these symptoms are in turn present. It is thought that nearly one-half of our population has this disease in some of its varied forms. Of my immense stock of Spring Clothing for men, youths and boys. The magnitude of my stock has never before been equaled. My steadily increasing business and the liberal patronage upon me in the past has justified me in selecting this large and well assorted stock of Spring clothing. The fancy and plain Cheviot made in Square-cut Sacks, Cut-away Sacks, and the One and Fourbutton Cutaway Coat. You will also find Serges, Cassimere, Worsteds, Whipcord and Corkscrews made in the manner as the Cheviot, elegantly made and trimmed. These garments are guaranteed to fit, and made equal to any merchant tailor garment. I have taxed my best efforts in securing this class of goods from the best manufacturers in order to compete with custom work, and to sell you these goods at one-half their price. Many who have had their clothes made have been patronizing the Emporium of Fashion. "Why?" Because they get as fine a suit, and will fit as well, and better trimmed, and equally as well made, and at a considerable less lost. The most important feature is that they can keep trying on until they can get a satisfactory fit and run no risk, as they This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength and wholesomeness.
