most reverence and affection. Lee and Jackson and the other heroes most efficiently did their part. But it was left for Jefferson Davis to suffer long after the cares and troubles of the others were ended. He was the pecul-

Known to the medical profession s quinine, the base of which is the Calisaya bark of commerce. This bark is gathered by the natives of South American countries and exported to all parts of the world for the manufacture of quinine. "The servant is not greater than his master," and it stands to reason that the extract has not the curative powers of the original. There is no more effective remedy for malarial disorders known to the world than Dr. Westmoreland's Calisaya Tonic, which and all disorders of the system arising from a diseased liver readily succumb to its influence. This great medicine is for sale by Robertson & Gilder. tf

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, December 8, 1889.—The Hon. James A.

Shakespeare, Mayor, New Orleans, La.: Your telegram informing me of the death of Mr. Davis is received. In refraining from any official action thereon, I would not, and hope I do not, add to the great sorrow of his family and many friends. It seems to me the right course and the best one for all. You will, I am sure, understand that its adoption is prompted also by a sincere wish and purpose to act in that spirit of peace and good will which should fill the hearts of all our people.
