To the readers of The Herald and News will be pleased to learn that there is at least one safe in the State that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrh that will not be cured by this medicine. Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

A Negro Shot While Resisting an Officer.
Dave Moorman had been a fugitive from justice for some time. He was arrested at the door at which was Mr. Chief Bishop had been notified to be on the lookout for him. He fled from this country some four years ago, and we were surprised to see him in a penitentiary in the penitentiary from Union County.

On last Friday evening Mr. J. H. Cnappell was informed that he could be found in one of the tenant houses on Mr. Bow's brick yard place. Armed with a warrant for him, Mr. Cnappell and Mr. H. H. Franklin went out after Moorman. They found him at the house mentioned, and as they surrounded the house Moorman rushed out the door at which was Mr. Cnappell. As he reached the door he fired his pistol at Mr. Cnappell who was only a pace away, but happily missed his aim. Mr. Cnappell returned the fire, as he justed out of the door, striking him in the right hip. He undertook to run, when Mr. Cnappell shot at him again, this time striking him in the shoulder. Neither of the wounds is dangerous.

The second primary election to be held and the returns made as at the first, and the result declared by the Executive Committee as in the first election.

THE "SUGGESTION" DECLINES TO SUGGEST.

The Caucus Met but Did Not Put Out a Ticket—What Was Done.

In the report published in The Herald and News of the County Convention held on the 11th inst., it will be remembered that we gave some information of a caucus held that day by the Tillman men in the county. It was terminated to hold what might be called a preliminary primary election in the various Tillman clubs in the county on the 21st inst., to get the sense of the county on the advisability of having three Representatives and three Representatives would be held at Newberry on the 21st inst., composed of one delegate for every ten votes cast, to tabulate the vote and announce the result. The idea was entirely to be a candidate for the Senate and three for the House, who should be given the support of the Tillman men in the county.

The thing, however, seems not to have been done, and the voters did not turn out well. For instance, the Factory club in Newberry, had out only about 20 members out of 116. The Warehouse Club at Prosperity only had about 40 votes cast. At St. Luke's there were only about 18 votes cast. In No. 6 none of the clubs voted, and it was the same in No. 5.

Any way the Convention was held here last Friday to tabulate the vote and declare the result.

The caucus was held in the law office of Bleas & Bleas.

The Herald and News man made inquiry of several delegates as to whether they would be willing to be admitted and being assured by a delegate that the meeting was to be open, he went up stairs to the office in question where the delegates were assembled, but being told by a member of the caucus that the delegate by whom invitation he inquired thus far, to make further inquiry as to whether he would be a welcome visitor. While this delegate had gone inside to get the desired information, the representative mentioned very significant hint that he was not expected, by a delegate who was inside closing the door nearest to where The Herald and News man stood. The man who sought the information returned directly and informed the scribe, however, that none but delegates were to be admitted. That ended it, and the scribe had a hasty retreat. It might be stated, however, that another newspaper man, who was not a delegate, was invited in, and remained during the session. But "circumstances alter cases," you know, and we do not complain.

We did not climb a tree or put a telephone pole in the ground for information, but it is very difficult to keep a meeting of that kind entirely secret.

Mr. John B. Fellers, of the Ware-house Club, acted as president of the caucus, and Mr. Henry B. Beasley, of the Factory Club, acted as secretary.

There were some sixty or seventy delegates present and they did not all agree.

The total number of votes cast when they were first counted showed only 680, but one or two other small boxes came afterwards. That we presume was not taken as the strength of the Tillman men in the county.

It is a question here, raised by some delegate it was determined not to tabulate the vote, but it was read so that each delegate could hear how many votes each candidate received at the different polling places. Some of the delegates thought this action was not proper, and as they had come together to tabulate the vote, that it should be done, and upon motion this action was postponed until the next day after considerable discussion.

It showed that some eight or ten persons had been voted for by members of the House of Representatives, and a candidate for the Senate. The highest number of votes any candidate received for the House was 449; the next man got 412; the third man got 257; and the others were somewhat scattered.

Whether the result of the ballot was not altogether satisfactory to the delegates or not, or whether from some other cause, we are not informed; but at any rate, the delegates declined to be counted, and we are compelled to leave the matter free for every man to vote as he pleases for a Senator and members of the House of Representatives.

If we would be permitted, we would like to say by way of analysis, that this was a very sensible conclusion, for any free white man would be very foolish to allow himself to be bound to vote for any man that a caucus might select, when he has no choice or not. The very object of our Democratic primaries is to give every man the privilege to exercise his right to vote as he pleases. But this is off the subject.

Some delegate made a motion, and it was carried to that the caucus proceed to nominate a ticket for a Senator and three Representatives itself, regardless of the vote cast by the clubs.

Some of the delegates suggested that this had better be reconsidered as it was assuming too much power and going beyond the powers given the delegates for the caucus to nominate or suggest a ticket regardless of the primary election by the clubs, and it was reconsidered.

Several speeches were made, and at times the caucus was not altogether harmonious and of one mind, but we have not space for an abstract of the proceedings.

By the time the caucus adjourned everybody was satisfied, and everybody left in apparently good humor. Some of the candidates who did not get votes were indeed and could have possibly are not pleased with the results, but as the caucus declined to suggest a ticket a fighting chance is left and every man can make his fight for the people, and he is not to be considered the caucus candidate. Several persons received votes who are not yet announced as candidates. They should not longer delay but come forward and let their friends have a chance to give them votes.

But trouble seems to be that there are going to be more candidates on the Tillman platform than there are offices. How this is to be remedied we are not prepared to say. We have no remedy to suggest.

There was some talk of holding another caucus but we hardly think it will materialize.

We trust that our report of the proceedings of the caucus will be found by the friends of the cause to be fair and impartial. We will not mention the names of those who received the highest vote at the preliminary primary, inasmuch as the caucus declined to suggest a ticket, for it would not be fair to the others.

We have done the best we could to give a true report. It must be remembered that this was a secret caucus, and that it was not admitted, as he was not a delegate.

Another Caucus to be Held
We learn from the last day or two that the results of the caucus held here last Friday by the supporters of Mr. Tillman were not very satisfactory, and that another is to be held at Prosperity the last of next week or possibly on Monday, August 10.

The delegates are being notified to meet and hold another preliminary primary.

What is the necessity of voting for a Senator so long as we have one whose term is let out for two years yet?

The State nominating convention does not meet until September 10, and we presume we shall not know until then whether there is to be a vacancy, and our primaries will be over by that time.

But everything will be fixed up all right we suppose, and by and by all will be well.

On last Wednesday evening the marriage bells announced the approaching ceremony which united Mr. Hampton Kinard and Miss Callie Summers in the bonds of matrimony. The rite was performed by Rev. T. O. Keister in Grace church.

A foul rumor was committed about three and a half miles below here yesterday. A party of white and colored people were working the road, when a dispute about some trivial affair arose between Jim Huff, a colored lad about twelve years old, and a big buff negro man named Dave Page. The boy gave Page the lie, when Page struck him a deadly blow with a shovel, crushing in the skull. The boy lived about four hours. Page, like his predecessors, Lang Shingday and Doc Moore, made good his escape and has not since been captured. A coroner's jury, this morning, rendered a verdict in accordance with the facts.

She weighed less than seventy pounds, and her strength was fast fading. Her doctor, Dr. Kin, New Discoverer, and got a sample bottle. It helped her.
