VARIOUS AND ALL ABOUT.

The cold wave came last week and still lingers.

Mr. W. P. Harris offers a reward for a lost dog.

Corner lots sold well in Newberry on Monday. Newberry is on a boom.

The early gardener hasn't got in much work so far this season.

The books of subscription to the capital stock of the Bank will be opened next Thursday, March 12.

The County Commissioners will let the contract for building the Vertz bridge over Little River on March 21. See notice.

Miss Gussie Kibler, of Newberry, has been elected teacher of the new school near Silver Street. She took charge on Monday last.

It has been two weeks now since we made inquiry about the Union depot that was to be built at Newberry. Will somebody please tell us when it is to be completed?

Capt. Jno. F. Speck has one of the best and completest lathes ever used in Newberry. It is a beauty and combines utility with beauty. He can now make any part of a watch.

The Newberry Building and Investment Company has purchased three lots near Silver Street. Persons desiring to secure good building lots would do well to consult the officers of the company.

The Future Progress Society of South Carolina will hold its annual session in Spartanburg this week. Eighteen delegates in attendance from Newberry. Reported rates were given on the R. & D. Railroad, tickets good to return until the 9th instant.

Something Delicious for Breakfast. Hecker's Sweet Corn Flour for Rolls, Grits, Cakes, etc. F. B. McINTOSH.

Persons. Gen. M. L. Bonham was in town last week.

Mrs. C. Mower left yesterday for the Northern markets.

Mr. J. D. Davenport returned last week from New York.

Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Baxter have returned from a visit to relatives in North Carolina.

Mr. W. A. Wallingford left Newberry on Tuesday for his home at Mexico, Mo.

Mr. T. J. Lamotte, representing the Columbia Register, was in the city yesterday.

Last week Mr. D. A. G. Ouzts, of the World, and Maj. E. P. McKissick, of the News and Courier, dropped in to see us.

Dr. Thos. W. Smith and T. J. Hunter returned from Louisville last week where they recently graduated in medicine.

Miss Kate Miller, who has been visiting her aunt, Mrs. M. A. Evans, returned to her home in Charleston on yesterday.

Suits worth $22.50 for $17.50; worth $19.00 for $14.00; worth $15.00 for $10.00. All to be had for the cash at L. W. C. Blalock's.

Skipped their Board Bill, Etc. We learn that two men who recently registered at the Lovelace House as Jno. B. Pittman, of South Carolina, and Fred. M. Clayton, of Virginia, have left the town with their board bills unpaid.

Pitman said he was traveling for Messrs. Jno. & Co., of Charleston, for the sale of cigars. He is said to be a stout man, clean shaven, and fluent of speech. He had neither baggage nor samples.

Clayton claimed to be traveling for a picture house. He wore a mustache. He is also a young man and, like his companion, had neither baggage nor samples.

We further learn that these men solicited and received several subscriptions to Harper's Bazaar, stating that, by a special arrangement, they were authorized to receive the subscription price, $8, to $1.

Helena Heraldizes. The Helena Sunday-school rarely fails to remember the Clinton Orphanage in an annual contribution. A few days ago the secretary, Mr. Julien, sent its little free-will and votive offering—$10.75. This is not a great sum, but was given willingly; moreover, the school has been reduced in the past few years by removals from the village.

About forty children have gone to make their homes elsewhere, and their places have not yet been supplied.

We have alluded to this matter not for the purpose of parading it, but simply for the purpose of exciting interest and sympathy in and with the noble institution so very near us, and which draws its maintenance, for sweet charity's sake, so largely from abroad.

There are about one hundred orphans in the Clinton Orphanage, and it costs dollars to feed, clothe, and shelter these little boys and girls; to light up and give warmth to their rooms; and to supply them with books and stationery, etc., together with medicines and medical attention when needed.

Mr. Jacobs is wedded to this work of love, and is making a beautiful home for the children—a home of refinement and culture and care, and likewise of earnest practicality and with the best of things.

The possibilities of the Clinton Orphanage are not limited. We hope the Executive Committee will be generous in their aid.

How sad it is to see the daily page of self-destruction. To read of the mournful procession of those who, weary of life, are going down beneath the Plutonian shadows of despair! What is the cause—or what are the causes? Of one thing we are quite certain, and that is, implicit belief in the providences of God—particularly his general and special providence—would lead to more hopeful and brighter lives. We would live more for others and less for ourselves. The affections would be cherished and passion give place to patience! Then would there be more of self-control, sympathy, mercy and magnanimity. Fingers and tempers controlled would lead to new truths and beauties in social and ethical life. Nor dare we disbelieve God's permissive providence. Care, suffering, adversity and consequent self-denial are essential to a rounded and useful life. It is a life that will await the grand secret and the mystery that envelops it.

Big Sale of Real Estate.

On last Monday the executors of Jacob Singley, deceased, offered for sale and sold some real estate in Newberry. The way that property was disposed of for some people, and yet it did not bring more than it is worth, for real estate in Newberry is worth a good deal more than it was a few years ago. We are keeping up with the progression if we are not making as much money as in some other places.

The corner store on Mollon Row, now occupied by Summer Bros., was sold for $7,225. The one on Pratt street, now occupied by O. H. P. Faut & Son, was also bought by Summer Bros. for $4,730, making nearly $11,000 for the two stores.

The store on Pratt street, and at present occupied by Todd & Davenport, was also sold, and bought by C. Mower for $5,275.

On the same day at private sale Mr. Jas. J. Lane bought the store on Pratt street, and now occupied by J. W. Kibler & Co., for $11,000. Mr. Mower, paying $5,500 for it.

Real estate, it will be seen, is not depreciating in value in Newberry.

Another Deal. The new schedule on the C. & G. railroad by which the Anderson train is to effect next Monday. The run from Columbia to Greenville will be made in six hours. The train leaves Columbia at 6:30 a. m. and arrives at Greenville at 12:30 p. m. Returning it leaves Greenville at 3 p. m. and arrives in Columbia at 9 p. m., passing Newberry at 7:15. This will be quite a convenience to Newberry and the traveling public. It gives us daily passenger trains between Columbia and Greenville, and will deliver the Columbia daily papers at Newberry at 8 o'clock on the morning of publication.

The report that the Laurens passenger train between Laurens and Columbia would be discontinued is incorrect. It will be run as heretofore.

A new schedule will likely be put on the C. & G. L. R. by Anderson on the 15th of this month. Just what that schedule will be we are not informed, but there will probably be a morning train from Columbia making connection at Clinton with the train on the C. & N. W. going West. This train will pass Newberry about ten o'clock in the morning.

On Wednesday, December 31, we met to clear off the graveyard, which was a sight to behold, and I might say a disgrace to us who had neglected the resting place of our forefathers. It was a perfect wilderness—all grown up in briars, bushes of all kinds and even good sized trees, so that it was a difficult matter for one to get through it. We did some good work there, and the place looks quite different.

Now if you are interested in it, it will only give me your aid I will put the graveyard in such a condition that you will no longer be ashamed to visit it. It is his wish that I give me the better I will have put there; and as soon as possible after I receive money sufficient I will have the work done.

I thought of writing to every one interested that I could hear of, but after finding that I would have to write scores of letters I have resorted to this plan of sending my message.

I neglected to say that the titles of this property have, since the visit of these friends, been transferred to the Friends Yearly Meeting of North Carolina by the heirs of Judge O'Neal, in whose name the titles have been for a long time.

WALTER I. HERBERT, Trustee. Utopia, S. C., Feb. 21st, 1891.

Freight Train Derailed. On Wednesday morning the night freight train on the C. & G. Railroad, going west, was derailed just beyond Bush River, about three miles west of Newberry. Eight box cars were wrecked and three on both sides of the track complete wrecks.

The engine and eight cars next to it kept the track. The conductor's cab also kept the track. No one was injured. The track was torn up for nearly 75 yards.

The Anderson train was kept at Newberry all day yesterday and the Columbia and Greenville passengers transferred at the wreck.

The track will be in condition for trains to pass over to-day.

It is supposed that a broken rail caused the accident.

The damage to the railroad will be considerable.

500 Men's Suits below cost for the cash at L. W. C. Blalock's.

When you are constipated have headache, or loss of appetite take Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Pills; they are pleasant to take and will cure you.

A Newberry Sub-Alliance Resolve. Whereas an unfortunate controversy has arisen between our friend and fellow citizen, C. E. Keitt, and the honored President of our State Alliance, Dr. J. W. Stokes; we deem it proper to express ourselves as follows:

Resolved 1st, That Col. Keitt does not express our sentiments or opinions.

Resolved 2nd, That we deem President Stokes a true and honorable brother and officer, true to the best interest of the Alliance, his constituents, his State and his country, worthy and competent to serve us in the highest positions of honor and trust.

Resolved 3rd, That we deem the attack upon our United States Senator elect, J. L. M. Irby, unkind, unwarrantable and unjust.

We further say that if there be due any consideration or charity toward a reformed brother, that Col. Irby deserves the greatest consideration for his model life and sobriety during the last six years. 'Tis a hero who conquers self.

THE QUAKER GRAVEYARD.

This Long-Neglected Resting-Place of the Dead Cleared of Its Briars and Rubbish—An Effort to Have It Properly Enclosed.

Mr. Editor: I will ask those who have subscribed money to help in putting a fence around the Quaker Graveyard, and have not handed in to me a check, or a note, or a deposit, to do so at the earliest convenience, and all those who are interested in the graveyard and have not subscribed to give us their aid in this important work, and send in the money at an early date.

To some it may be necessary to make an explanation, as the question may arise: By what authority do you do this?

Some of us have for some time been trying to get this matter stirred up, but were unsuccessful until Major L. J. Jones, by much correspondence with some friends (Quakers) of North Carolina, had this matter (the neglected church property and graveyard) brought up before the Yearly Meeting of the Friends of North Carolina. Mr. E. M. Meeting place of the Friends, in company with Rev. Mr. Jones, was sent here to look after this property.

On December 1st a meeting was held in Major Jones' office and was very well attended by those interested in the graveyard. It was decided that a local trustee should be appointed to look after this property and see to clearing off and fencing in the graveyard with some good wire, and the following was copied from the minutes of the meeting taken by the Rev. Mr. Jones of North Carolina:

"Walter I. Herbert was appointed by the Yearly Meeting, committee of the Friends of North Carolina, to take of Bush River Friends church land and graveyard."

Prof. E. M. Counts, who is well known as a first class teacher, will fill the place just vacated by Prof. Dreher, and all will be happy and serene.

Yours truly, F. B. McINTOSH.

To Those Desiring. Something choice, I would recommend my beautifully white Saur Kraut just received.

For Sale. A first class Chickering Piano. In good repair and well tuned. Terms good. For particulars apply to The Herald and News Office.

Dead Fall or String Town Ghost Story. As the most of our friends have never heard of the story, we will try to tell it, and try to stick as close to the truth as circumstances will permit. Doubtless the many readers of this county know the parties we shall mention, and also the place. Deadfall is the place; or rather that is the ancient name, but the rising generation have given it the name of String Town. Well, the story goes that there was a ghost to be seen at the old Deadfall every night, (there was no one living there at the time) and various were the tales as to what was seen and heard. So Frank M. Dan I and Newt B. with his little son Lawrence, made up a party of investigation. Frank M., armed with a pitchfork, assured the party of no danger as he was a medium and could materialize the ghost, but as it turned out, things materialized too well. When the party got on the spot and was walking around the house to the well, every one stopped. Frank M. was the first to see the ghost, and he quick. The party got scared and started to run, some going on one side of the house, some on the other, and all getting around about the same time, and seeing each other, every fellow started to run. Frank M. was the first to get off in every direction. Frank M. happened to start across the old field, and making a speed that would astonish Maud S. Nobody ever did know where he took up, but he got home very late that morning at scratched up, no hat, and that pitchfork never has been found, and he never has explained to the satisfaction of the women why he never got home any sooner; and Newt B. Dan I, who was the most frightened of the party, was the first to get up and grab him by the coat tail and Newt thought it was the ghost, and he spread himself with the boy holding on for his life, and when he got to the house there was a short turn in the road, and when Newt made the turn his coat tore, and when the boy saw he was left he began to yell, and that only made the old man get better, and every fellow started to run and out to Moll's wife, to open the door. He soon got home, and the little fellow came along after awhile, but the old man was so scared to let him in for a good while.
