THE STRIKER OF BILLY PATTERSON

The Question Likely Settled and Two Georgians will Get the Reward of $1,000.

[From the Globe-Democrat.] CARNESVILLE, Ga., March 21.-The public mind has been in doubt as to who struck Billy Patterson ever since that wonderful document, his will, was made and put upon the record, in which he offered $1,000 for the man who committed the assault.

The facts, in brief, are as follows: Many years ago when this country was fresh and there was less law and was raised in which a number of parties took a hand, and a number of Boonville Republican. fights followed in which blood flowed freely. After the fuss was somewhat settled, Billy Patterson, the rich Balthe large crowd, and was at peace with all mankind and had no ill will toward any one. Very unexpectedly to him and every one else, some one dealt him a fearful blow, from which he was felled to the ground and lay for some taken, and it remained so.

his power to find out who struck him. his will was probated, in which the item offering $1,000 for the man "who struck Billy Patterson" is found. The will is a remarkable document and contains much sound advice. There have been, perhaps, one hundred claims for the money made here to the ordinary and clerk of the Superior Court, but none of the claims has been acing the proper showing to get it.

The parties have been found, it is safe to say, who can give the name of the assailant and get the booty. The parties who saw the assault and knew who struck the blow were three small schoolboys, who were always on hand, as schoolboys are, when there was any fighting going on. The reason assigned for no one ever telling who the party was before is that he was a very large and stout man, and was of undoubted courage, and it would have been death to the informant to have told on him, and, as Mr. Patterson was his equal and perhaps his superior in point of manhood and courage, he never admitted hitting the lick, and it has remained a secret until a short while ago, when it was noised around that one of the oldest citizens of the town was one of the kids who was present at the time and saw the blow struck; and that a prominent citizen of Toccoa was with him, and that they could give some light on this much talked of mystery.

Prof. A. J. Morris of Bowman, who was raised here, and was visiting relatives here last week, and your correspondent sifted the matter to the bottom and found that Prof. Morgan H. Looney, now of this place, and, perhaps Major John H. Freeman of Toccoa and B. F. King, deceased, then of this place, were the school-boys who were present and saw the lick struck and Mr. Patterson fall. It was surmised blow, and from the best information poria. we can gather he was the party. Mr. Stovall died several years ago near this place, and was known to many of older citizens. He was a brother of Mr. Ab Stovall of Dores Creek, Ga., and Mr. Job Stovall, of Elberton. This will, perhaps, give to two of our prominent and worthy citizens $500 each, as it looks as if the matter is clear and the proof ample as to "who struck Billy Patterson.

The Merriest Girl that's Out. "Bonnie sweet Bessie, the maid of Dundee," was, no doubt, the kind of a girl to ask, "What are the wild waves saying," or to put "a little faded flower" in your button hole, she was so full of vivacity, and beaming with robust Every girl in the land can be just as full of life, just as well, and just as merry as she, since Dr. Pierce has placed his "Favorite Prescription" within the reach of all. Young girls in their teens, passing the age of puberty, find it a greet aid. Delicate, pale and sickly girls will find this a wonderful invigorator, and a sure corrective for all derangements and weakesses incident to females.

The Irish Ether Drinkers.

[From the London Times.] The Committee on British and Foreign Spirits dealt with the question of ether drinking in Ireland a few days ago. Mr. Carter, the Prostestant rector of Cookstown, was the first wit-

He stated that the practice of ether drinking had prevailed in his district which comprised an area of nearly forty square miles, for about thirty years. The people preferred ether to whisky, because it was cheaper and more effective. They first of all took a small quantity of water, then a modicum of ether, holding their noses ! while they drank it, and then they drank water afterward. They did not take it by inhalation, but by actual drinking. An ordinary dose was about two pennyworth, which would be nearly half a glass, and intoxication would be produced by that almost immediately. It aroused combative instincts, and also produced a high state of exhilaration accompanied by shouting and singing and the use of provocative words. A great many people would come to market and make themselves drunk the whole day for six days. They would take a dose of ether at They would take a dose of ether at 10 o'clock, another at 1 o'clock, and ក្រ another perhaps at 4 o'clock, two pennyworth each time, and that would keep them in a state of intoxication the whole day. Beggar women carried about ether in their pockets, and exchanged it with the country people exchanged it with the country people for eggs. The children were so much accustomed to it that they were not repelled by its unpleasant taste. They frequently came to school smelling of ether, and it was found that they got it in the way described. In his district ether drinking was not a rarity, but a common practice, and It was on the increase. It is not true to say that ether drinking prevailed most among Roman Catholics.
