

The Herald and News

ELBERT H. AULL, Editor.

ELBERT H. AULL, Proprietors. WM. P. HOUSSEAL, Jr.

NEWBERRY, S. C.

THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1891.

Newberry now has a savings bank ready for business. Interest paid on deposits, and deposits received as low as one dollar. Something we ought to have had long ago. They are good institutions. Every man who desires to put by a small amount each week and yet have it in reach when the demand may come, can now do so and receive interest on it. This ought to be the poor man's institution, and it ought to foster and encourage economy and the putting up of something. President Mcintosh and Cashier Wright are both good business men and the bank will succeed.

Do not forget the meeting called for to-morrow by the Survivors' Associations of Newberry County.

Mr. R. L. McCaughrin has declined to accept the offer of the presidency of the Piedmont Mills. It would have necessitated his removal to Greenville and his interests and associations in Newberry would hardly admit of that. His removal would have been a loss to Newberry, and it is gratifying news that he has determined to remain with us and has declined the tempting offer. There is no better financier in the State than Mr. McCaughrin, and with a pleasant gentleman to deal with.

The Herald and News has been giving for some years a column to the use of the teachers in the county, and at present it is conducted by School Commissioner Kibler. Why not let the county board of examiners order the trustees and teachers to subscribe for The Herald and News and make order on the county treasurer for the money. Of course the idea is absurd, but there is about as much reason in it as in the circulars issued by the editor and proprietor of the Palmetto School Journal ordering the school trustees to subscribe for that paper and make order on the county treasurer for the pay.

If the State and the Register would take up less of their editorial space in discussing the "leased wire" and the Associated Press and the United Press service, the people up this way who take the papers would be better pleased with both. The subscription lists of the two papers is the best way to judge of their respective merits as newspapers. The Herald and News, in all sincerity begs, to suggest to its cotemporaries that the great majority of the readers care nothing about these discussions. They are going to take the paper that suits them and that they want. Give us the news; that is what we want.

It seems a little queer to The Herald and News—the utter ignorance of the existence of that circular about the Palmetto School Journal, displayed by Superintendent of Education Mayfield. He says he knew nothing of the matter until he saw the circulars as published in the State. That hardly seems possible, but this is a strange error. Mr. Thackston is chief clerk for Mr. Mayfield. What action did the State Board of Education take in the matter? Mr. Thackston's reply is awaited with interest. Let us have all the light on this subject possible, and not sit in judgment until all the evidence is in.

The Herald and News presents its congratulations to Capt. V. E. McBee on his promotion. It is an honor worthily bestowed. Capt. McBee has risen by virtue of hard effort and intrinsic worth to his present position. His headquarters will be in Savannah.

JAMES N. LIPSCOMB DEAD. He Ends His Life in a North Carolina Town.

[The State, 16th.] Col. T. J. Lipscomb, the ex-superintendent of the penitentiary, yesterday received a dispatch from Mr. E. C. Stephens, of Bryson City, N. C., stating that his brother, ex-Secretary of State, James N. Lipscomb, was lying at the point of death there, being not expected to live but a few hours.

[The State, 17th.] The information of the critical illness of Col. James N. Lipscomb, the former Secretary of State and master of the State Grange of South Carolina, at Bryson City, N. C., was mentioned yesterday. His brother, Col. Thomas J. Lipscomb, was to have gone to his bedside on the early train yesterday, but a dispatch arrived in the meantime announcing Col. Lipscomb's demise at 4 o'clock yesterday morning.

Upon receipt of this young son, Milledge Lipscomb, who is residing in Columbia, left for North Carolina. The remains will, no doubt, be brought back to this State, but the arrangements have not been announced.

Col. Lipscomb was a native of Newberry and graduated from the South Carolina College. His first appearance into public life was in the South Carolina Legislature several years before the war. In the war he became a colonel of cavalry and proved himself to be a gallant soldier and true Southern gentleman.

After the war he was active in his efforts against the Radicals, and took deep interest in tax unions. He also took a deep interest in the State Agricultural and Mechanical Society.

Col. Lipscomb was a pleasant, genial, large-hearted man, and possessed deep and true friendship for all over the State, who will be grieved to hear of his death.

THE PRIDE OF NEWBERRY.

NEWBERRY COLLEGE COMMENCEMENT.

The Speeches and the Sermons—The Prizes and the Successful Contestants—The Young Men and their Spectacles—A Flow of Learning.

What a relief from the everlasting round and treadmill of politics, its coil and commencement! And that, too, when it is our own college. What a relief from the everlasting round and treadmill of politics, its coil and commencement! And that, too, when it is our own college. What a relief from the everlasting round and treadmill of politics, its coil and commencement! And that, too, when it is our own college.

There is much earnestness in reporting college commencements, but it gives us pleasure to see the buoyancy of young manhood and young womanhood on these commemorative occasions, and the labor of the writing of them has its solace and joy in the life and the enthusiasm and the hope in young men and maidens as they step upon the stage of real life. It is a commencement that is fraught with momentous issues to them, but we would not mar their pleasure by its contemplation. Rather would we enter with them into the joy of their commencement, and with them build hopes and plans for the future.

The past session of Newberry College has been in an eminent degree, a successful one. The young men have done well in their studies, and the classes have been full and the outlook for the future is bright and encouraging.

The commencement exercises have all been up to the standard, and the friends of the college should be inspired with new zeal to begin their work anew, for the further advancement of the institution. It has now passed the period of experiment, and is no less a necessity than an assurance of success. This is a college issue of The Herald and News. We make no apologies for it. Newberry College is a home institution. The Herald and News is a home paper. All our home people have an interest in the college, and the home college, then let us put on record its commencement exercises, that our friends abroad may know what we are doing for the education of our sons.

On the 13th inst. the college exercises were held in the Opera House, and the large hall was filled to overflowing by the citizens of the community and their visiting friends. All the churches were closed, and the members and ministers of all denominations participated in these exercises. The weather was hot, but the rain had settled the dust and it was not disagreeable.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

Was delivered on Tuesday morning by Rev. W. A. Wright, of Chester, S. C. He was fittingly introduced by Dr. W. G. Houseal, president of the association. Mr. Daniel spoke on the subject "A Rationale among Surmises, and a Rationale among Facts, and a Rationale among Principles."

He was fittingly introduced by Dr. W. G. Houseal, president of the association. Mr. Daniel spoke on the subject "A Rationale among Surmises, and a Rationale among Facts, and a Rationale among Principles." He spoke of the origin of surmises and gave definitions of various names and how they came to be in use. His address showed a vast amount of study and research, and a perfect familiarity with his subject. Any synopsis of the speech would be utterly impossible. The Herald and News will, very probably, in a short time, publish the address. Mr. Daniel has a very close study of the subject, and now stands among the front ranks of the ministers of the Methodist Conference in South Carolina as a preacher and a scholar. He is the author of several books and will very probably issue a volume in the line of the address on Tuesday.

Immediately after the address the annual meeting of the association was held. It was one of the largest and best attended meetings the association has ever held. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. W. D. Scan, Newberry; Vice President, Robt. L. Tarrant, Newberry; Secretary, Dr. J. M. Kibler, Newberry; Treasurer, F. W. Wright, Newberry; Annual orator for 1892, W. J. Cherry, Esq., Rock Hill, S. C., with Rev. M. J. Epling, Newberry, alternate.

The committee on the Alumni House submitted a report. Provision for the payment for the building of this house was made except the $900 paid by synod. The house is a nice one and cost $1,600. The committee was reappointed to prepare suitable resolutions on the death of Rev. J. E. Berly, a member of the association who has died since last meeting was appointed: C. W. Welch, Geo. B. Cromer and J. Wilson.

It was decided that several reunions be held during the summer in the interest of the college. The whole matter of arranging these reunions was left to the officers of the association.

On Tuesday night one of the largest audiences of the week greeted Senator Wright at his address before the literary societies. Upon the rostrum sat a number of distinguished gentlemen.

Senator Wright was introduced by J. V. Culbreth, Esq., of Newberry, who in his preliminary speech spoke as follows: Ladies and Gentlemen: The pleasant duty has been assigned to me to introduce to you the Hon. Senator Wright, who is here to deliver an address before the literary societies.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION.

Was delivered on Tuesday morning by Rev. W. A. Wright, of Chester, S. C. He was fittingly introduced by Dr. W. G. Houseal, president of the association. Mr. Daniel spoke on the subject "A Rationale among Surmises, and a Rationale among Facts, and a Rationale among Principles."

He was fittingly introduced by Dr. W. G. Houseal, president of the association. Mr. Daniel spoke on the subject "A Rationale among Surmises, and a Rationale among Facts, and a Rationale among Principles." He spoke of the origin of surmises and gave definitions of various names and how they came to be in use. His address showed a vast amount of study and research, and a perfect familiarity with his subject. Any synopsis of the speech would be utterly impossible. The Herald and News will, very probably, in a short time, publish the address. Mr. Daniel has a very close study of the subject, and now stands among the front ranks of the ministers of the Methodist Conference in South Carolina as a preacher and a scholar. He is the author of several books and will very probably issue a volume in the line of the address on Tuesday.

Immediately after the address the annual meeting of the association was held. It was one of the largest and best attended meetings the association has ever held. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Dr. W. D. Scan, Newberry; Vice President, Robt. L. Tarrant, Newberry; Secretary, Dr. J. M. Kibler, Newberry; Treasurer, F. W. Wright, Newberry; Annual orator for 1892, W. J. Cherry, Esq., Rock Hill, S. C., with Rev. M. J. Epling, Newberry, alternate.

The committee on the Alumni House submitted a report. Provision for the payment for the building of this house was made except the $900 paid by synod. The house is a nice one and cost $1,600. The committee was reappointed to prepare suitable resolutions on the death of Rev. J. E. Berly, a member of the association who has died since last meeting was appointed: C. W. Welch, Geo. B. Cromer and J. Wilson.

It was decided that several reunions be held during the summer in the interest of the college. The whole matter of arranging these reunions was left to the officers of the association.

On Tuesday night one of the largest audiences of the week greeted Senator Wright at his address before the literary societies. Upon the rostrum sat a number of distinguished gentlemen.

Senator Wright was introduced by J. V. Culbreth, Esq., of Newberry, who in his preliminary speech spoke as follows: Ladies and Gentlemen: The pleasant duty has been assigned to me to introduce to you the Hon. Senator Wright, who is here to deliver an address before the literary societies.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

By way of application the preacher said that self-culture was a duty of the college graduate owed to himself, to his family, to his community, and to his country. He was to be a man of honor, a man of integrity, a man of faith, a man of courage, a man of truth, a man of justice, a man of mercy, a man of peace, a man of love, a man of hope.

The Newberry Cotton Seed Oil Mill and Fertilizer Company.

THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE STOCKHOLDERS OF THE NEWBERRY COTTON SEED OIL MILL AND FERTILIZER COMPANY WILL BE HELD IN COUNCIL CHAMBERS, NEWBERRY, S. C., ON WEDNESDAY, JULY 1st, 1891, AT 3 P. M. A full meeting is desired.

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA, COUNTY OF NEWBERRY—IN COMMON PLEAS. W. B. Aull and Sidney H. Aull, Survivors etc., vs James H. Aull et al.

THE CREDITORS OF THE partnership of Aull Brothers are hereby required to render and establish their respective demands before the Master at his office, on or before the 10th day of July, 1891. SILAS JOHNSTONE, Master. Master's Office, 10 June, 1891.

Notice of Final Settlement and Discharge. ON THE 7th JULY NEXT I will make a final settlement, before the Probate Court for Newberry County, on the estate of Sarah Thomas, deceased, and immediately thereafter apply for a final discharge as administratrix of said estate. FREDERICK E. GLEN THOMAS, Adm'r of Sarah Thomas, dec'd. June 1, 1891.

THE NEWBERRY Savings Bank. NOW OPEN FOR BUSINESS. Deposits in sums of one dollar and upwards received and interest paid on same at the rate of four per cent per annum if left exceeding ninety days. Money loaned on easy terms on Personal, Real Estate, Stocks, Bonds, Collaterals, etc. Office at Wright's Bookstore for a few days. JAMES MCINTOSH, President. R. H. WRIGHT, Cashier.

OUR Summer Announcement! WE STILL HAVE ON HAND A SPLENDID ASSORTMENT OF SPRING AND SUMMER CLOTHING, SHOES, HATS AND GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS WHICH WE WILL SELL CHEAP FOR CASH. OUR STOCK OF THIN GOODS, CONSISTING OF ALPACA, SICILIAN, DRAP D'ETE AND SEBERSUCKER COATS AND VESTS IS IMMENSE! ALL THE DIFFERENT CUTS—LONG, SHORT, MEDIUM. NEGLICE SHIRTS IN PROFUSION IN ALL QUALITIES FROM THE PLAINEST AND CHEAPEST TO THE FINEST AND MOST BEAUTIFUL PATTERNS. Our Straw Hat Trade Has Been Immense, BUT WE STILL HAVE A NICE VARIETY TO SELECT FROM. TO THE LADIES WE WANT TO STATE THAT OUR LINE

ZIEGLER BROS. OXFORD TIES ARE THE HANDSOMEST LOW CUT SHOES IN THE COUNTY. WE HAVE THEM IN PLAIN TOES AND PATENT LEATHER TIPS IN OPERA AND COMMON SENSE TOES. We will close out our entire stock of Boy's and Children's Clothing at prime cost from now on. Call early and get your choice before they are all gone. Yours sincerely, SMITH & WEARN. Grand Clearance Sale! SPRING CLOTHING AT BLALOCK'S CLOTHING HOUSE, NEWBERRY, S. C. THIS SALE WILL LAST FOR 30 DAYS. Now is Your Opportunity. THE BARGAIN STORE OF MINTER & JAMIESON. NEW GOODS. Our second Spring purchase of NEW GOODS, consisting of CLOTHING, SHOES, LADIES' NEWPORT TIES, AND DRY GOODS, is now open and ready for inspection. Our Spring trade has been so much better than we expected that we have been compelled to order largely in all our departments to supply the demand. These goods were bought at

Extremely Low Prices, and owing to the scarcity of money we now offer our ENTIRE STOCK OF GOODS at prices to suit the hard times. OUR MOTTO, Make the Prices Right. Sell Good Goods, And the People Will Buy. We wish to call special attention to our line of CHILDREN'S NICE CLOTHING which we will sell at cost. Suits $3.50 to $6.50. Regular Price $5.00 to $8.50. JUST RECEIVED, a case of those STANDARD PRINTS, which we still sell at 5c. SHOES. If you need Shoes, you know we are headquarters for them. Respectfully, MINTER & JAMIESON, Leaders of Low Prices, NEWBERRY, S. C.

At this juncture in the exercises came the awarding of prizes and medals and the reading of the honor roll. President Holland announced the degrees conferred upon the graduates and the names of the graduates. He also announced the names of the graduates who had been elected to the honor roll. The honor roll was as follows: 1st Honor Roll: S. J. Derrick, R. L. Gunter, E. B. Setzler, R. L. Jones, W. E. Varn, S. J. Wheaton, C. E. Wheeler, J. D. Wheeler, G. S. Andrews, D. D. Wallace. 2nd Honor Roll: J. D. Kinard, J. S. Wheeler, R. M. Mottz, J. H. Harns, E. A. Carls, G. S. Andrews, J. O. Wells, J. W. Wessinger, S. A. M. R. Chant, J. H. Frick, H. A. McCullough, J. L. Coughman, J. W. Black, J. G. Setzler, E. L. Luther.

The following paper submitted by the President of the Greek was read by Senator Butler. It shows a fine record by the seniors as a requisite to graduation. The medal is the gift of Mr. Edward Scholtz, of New York. The subject for the medal was "The Greek and Why?" The medal was won by Mr. D. M. Varn, of Colleton County, honorable mention being made of Mr. A. S. Healy, of Newberry County.

The medal in Greek was given to a member of the Junior Class who shall stand the best examination in mathematics was presented by Rev. Dr. R. C. Holland, to Mr. E. B. Setzler, of Newberry County, so that the medal to the best member of the Greek was presented by Senator Butler. The Greek contest was an exceedingly interesting one and the faculty could not decide between Mr. E. A. Carls, of Newberry, and Mr. J. H. Harns, of Savannah,