Are these resolutions the result of the political light and who have been doing missionary work and four-fifths months, but the term in and around Oconee? Are our farmers in favor of any such scheme as is No. 1083? This is a great scheme. We wonder if Burns' Mills Alliance No. 1083 has thought what proportson of this fertilizer manufactured under this scheme the railroads, factories and corporations and people living in cities and tows would get. They pay State taxes. But then Burns' Mills Ailiance No. 1083 is not serious. It is only funning. Here are the resolutions: Editor Oconee News:-I am requested to furnish you for publication the following preamble and resolution adopted by this Alliance No. 1083, at its last meeting, to wit:

WHEREAS, Nature has bountifully blessed South Carolina with rich and inexhaustible deposits of Phosphate State-from which can be manufactured the highest grade of fertilizers for enriching the soil, thereby increasing four fold its productive power; and whereas, there is from 900 to 1,200 convicts in the State Penitentiary, who can not be profitably employed on the State farms, neither can they be hired or leased out advantageously in competition with free labor, therefore be it Resolved, That we, members of Burns' Mills Alliance No. 1083, urge, and hereby ask, the assistance of all subordinate Alliances in the State of South Carolina to demand of our State Legislature, to enact such laws as will Fertilizer Manufactory, to be owned by the State, and to be operated by the Penitentiary convicts, all such expenses so incurred to be paid from the State Treasury, and that the product of such manufactory be apportioned to the tax payers of the State in propor-tion to the amount of State taxes paid by each, free of all charge, except railroad freight charges from manufactory to tax payer's nearest railroad station.

This resolution is published to bring this important subject to the consideration of every farmer in our State. The cheapest and best way to obtain fertilizers for enriching their farming lands is of direct vital importance to farmers, and to all others, who, indirectly, are dependent upon them for support.

All law should be the crystallization of public sentiment or opinion. This Alliance would, therefore, like to hear an expression of Alliancemen and farmers, on the establishment of such an enterprise. Speak out, if a majority of our citizens favor it-our State Legislature dare not refuse to grant our demand.

MR. WATSON IN WASHINGTON. Mr. Mills Seems to be His Choice for Speaker, McMillan Next.

[Special to Augusta Chronicle.] WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 .- Congressman Tom Watson is here. This morning he had a long conference with Col. Polk, the president of the Alliance. Mr. Watson has about concluded the purchase of a house on the hill near the Capitol. He says no Allianceman can afford to pay rent.

Asked about his choice for Speaker, he declined to answer directly, but indirectly expressed a preference for Mills. Mr. Mills, he said, had buffeted the Alliance in a way he did not like, but he thought he embodied in his beliefs more of the Alliance Ocala platform than any other candidate. Anyhow, Mills, he said, was a tariff reformer, and wasn't afraid to speak out in

THE SCHOOLS OF THE COUNTY. An Interesting and Suggestive Report by School Commissioner Kibler.

EDITOR HERALD AND NEWS: Perhaps it may be of some interest to your readers to know something about the condition of our common schools during the year now nearing a close. I propose, however, to give only a brief statement as to their condition, and my idea as to how they may be improved. During the past year ninety-nine schools have been in operation, all of which have been supported either We find the following preamble and wholly or in part by public funds. In a good number of communities the patrons have helped considerably by private subscription to better the condition of their schools. The average than in others, due mainly to the small number of schools in the long proposed by the Burns' Mills Alliance term districts. It should be the aim of No. 1083? This is a great scheme. We trustees, therefore, to have as few schools as possible, otherwise the term will be short.

6168 pupils have been enrolled during the year, au increase over the session of 1889-90 of 763. This increase is gratifying, but we hope to see it larger still in the coming session.

The average attendance has been low and should have been as much as 75 per cent. The schools are open durthe weather is often so bad that it is impossible for the children to attend

One hundred and nineteen teachers have been at work, of whom 41 were males and 78 females; 65 held first grade certificates, 13 second grade, 4 Rock in the navigable rivers of the third grade, and 19 were licentiates. It will be seen from this that our schools are fast falling into the hands of the women of our country, and how necessary then is it for them to have educational advantages equal to those

During the year more school claims have been paid when presented to the treasurer than in any previous year. Of the twelve districts under the control of the County Board of Examiners, six are on a cash basis and pay their teachers at the end of each month. The remainder pay only a part in cash.
The total amount of claims approved and ordered paid by the school combecome necessary to establish a State missioner and chairmen of boards of trustees in the three special districts has been $11,090.55. The average pay of male teachers has been $20.62, that of females $21.06. The small monthly salaries are due to the number of low grade teachers employed.

There are about one hundred buildings in the county used for school purposes, and only eleven of these are owned by school districts. The condition of a great many of them, I might safely say one-half, is very poor, utterly unfit for school houses. I have urged trustees in many districts to better the condition of their school houses, and n several instances they have done so. They have only a limited amount of money at their disposal, however, and cannot do as much as they would like to. The people who send to the schools should provide comfortable buildings.

During the year we have had a fair corps of teachers in the schools, but there is room for improvement in this "espect, and this improvement is becoming manifest more and more every the people for whom they work, and when they get this support, when they find that their efforts are being appreciated they will work the support of the sup ciated, they will work the more diligently to prepare themselves better for wish to settle where they will be withthe schoolroom. Yes, we want earn- in reach of a good school-in a healthy est, energetic and progressive teachers in our schools, and the way to get them is to show them that by doing their date there will be liberally and the section, inhabited by a hard-working tend-to-their-own-business-sober-moral set of folks. their duty they will be interary supported. The County Teachers' Association, which meets monthly, has done much to improve our teachers, and the much to improve our done much good. The teachers are more interested in these meetings than Washington. He tells the Augusta ever before, and this is surely a sign of Chronicle that he will purchase a progress. The people of the county, other than teachers, are also becoming home at a cost of $10,000 to $12,000 interested in the association work, and

Board of Examiners adopted a list of text books to be used in the common schools. Before that time each school had a right to use such books as it might think best. The County Board could recommend, but this was about as far as 'hey could go. Since 1888, they he more authority, and can enforce the use of certain books in the schools. No teacher should be allowed to use books not on the State list, adopted by the State Board of Examiners in 1888. A result of this has been that the schools of the county, with few exceptions, are using the same text books. The books adopted in 1888 cannot be changed before 1893. There are a few difficulties with contend, and one of the greatest is that lessen the number is to make the districts smaller. Townships are now used as school districts, and the disception of the four special districts. The Board of Examiners would probably have redistricted the county his year, but they had no funds for County Board the authority to use funds for the purpose of dividing the whole county, or such parts of it as they may think best, into smaller school districts. These districts should school districts. These districts should We would direct special attention to be about four miles square, and should dren-to the exclusion of every propenhave only two schools each-one for white and the other for colored chil-dren. Smaller districts are desirable for several reasons: the trustees would school buildings would be more comfortable, the polltax would be in-creased, the enrollment of pupils would be greater, and more interest in the schools would be felt generally. Another serious drawback to popular education in our county, is the small amount of money collected for school purposes. During the year 1889-90 there was not as much as $2 paid for be at least $5 per pupil. If this much were appropriated, schools would run six or eight months each year, and a a shorter term than six months cannot meet the wants of the people. And right hore I would say that I believe that the day is not far distant when the common schools of the State will be run entirely by public funds. The present system is not efficient, and must, ere long, give way to a better one. Another drawback to effective work in our county schools is a coldness or in-difference in many communities on the part of the people. The patrons very often fail to support their teachers as they should, and if any class of people need the approval and sympathy school, and a failure to support the t eacher means failure to support the Our common schools in the country are beginning to suffer to some extent from a growing desire on the part of a good many people to move to the towns to educate their children. Notry's prosperity. It may be necessary him. His second choice for Speaker is to the town to be educated, but this is not often advisable or necessary. There are but few communities in our county common school, a school where the children can receive a good prepara-

common schools. To support and uphold the teacher means support of the

their children at home, and not depend on schools at a distance or this preparatory education. I hope that the time is near at hand when we will see that in the country schools the majority of the children must be educated. Not until then will the common school system, which is the "hope of our country," accomplish the purpose for which it was established.

Will the People Think!

STRAWS

show which way the wind blows. Watch them. When you see all sorts of Clothing patterned after Blalock's; when you see it imitated in appearance and make-up--in everything except price and merit; when you find THREE persons buying Clothing of him where ONE bought a year ago; then you may know the wind is blowing you towards Blalock's. And why not go? You are losing money by trying to head the other way; money and labor, time and patience. Go with the wise, and you stop losing, and begin to gain. Hundreds now realize that there is everything to gain and nothing to lose--with BLALOCK.
