THE SALUDA BRIDGES.

The Saluda Advocate figures down to a nicety the conditions on which it will favor the building of some steel bridges across the Saluda.

It wants the citizens who are directly and immediately interested and near the river to subscribe three-fifths of the amount, and then it will favor helping out of the county funds for the erection of the bridges, Saluda's por-

We understand that a good private subscription has already been raised for this purpose.

But why should the citizens who re ceive immediate and direct benefits from these bridges be asked to contribute out of their individual pockets?

There are no doubt some bridges in other parts of the county built out of the public funds, which are of direct benefit to the citizens who live near them and which in all probability will never be used by the people who want the bridges over Saluda. These citizens were not asked to help build these bridges out of their private pockets Then why should the people near Saluda river be asked to do it?

It is alright if the people who want the bridges across Saluda are willing to help pay for them, but there is no no sense or reason or justice in laying down a condition precedent that they must put up a certain proportion before the county will do anything to help

There are bridges on Enoree river and Indian creek in this county that were built out of the general fund and that are no immediate benefit to the p ople on the Saluda side, but the Saluda people did not object to the building of them.

It is true this is a line bridge, but what matters that if each county bears is proportion of the cost.

The bridges should be built and we hoje the County Commissioners of both counties will not lay down any specified amount to be raised by private subscription without which the counties will not build them.

The convenience and expense of ferriage of these people who want these bridges should be considered as well as others, for they pay their proportion of the taxes and help to keep up and build bridges in other parts of the counties.

Get what private subscription you can but go ahead and build the bridges and remove the barrier which separates the two counties and bring us closer together, socially and commercially. It will help the people of both counties

THE O. P. HOUSES.

All the railroads in the State have refused to receive whiskey from the original package dealers unless it is put up in wooden boxes. Bluthenthal and Bickart, of Atlanta, brought suit before Judge Newman in the United States Court to require the Southern to receive such freight. The final hearing of the case will not come up until 9th of October.

The Southern lays down two requirements. It must first be an original package and then it must be securely packed so as not to be subject to break-

One O. P. dealer in Newberry received his first lot in wooden boxes. Two got them in paper easings and the other fellow hauled his lot through from North Carolina in a wagon. The others will likely hauf-future supplies in wagons. They say they can do it very nearly as cheap as the freight

It is only a few months until the Legislature meets when something will have to be done with the law. As we said before, however, the members of the Legislature have as widely divergent views as there are members, but possibly out of the multitude of counsellors something good may come. Let us hope so. The State is now in better frame of mind to look at the matter sensibly.

A NECESSITY. The Newberry Herald and News in advocating sewerage for Newberry refers to the sewerage system of Greenville and comments on the fine water of Greenville. No town in South Carolina has water and sewerage systems which compare with those of Geenville and Greenville's fine reputation spreads. Money for sewerage is money well spent. Indeed, a good system of sewerage is a necessity to any well regulated town.-Greenville News.

We submit this from a town that tried to get along without sewerage. It is a necessity to the health of any town that has reached the size of Nowberry. We should have it and have it as soon as we can get it.

There is no use waiting. We had just as well make arrangements to go to work and build the system.

THE STATE FAIR.

The authorities are making big preptrations to have a first-class State Fair this year, and though the price of cotton is low we should all arrange to spend a day at the Fair. We will thus meet old friends and have a good time generally, and for the time being forget the low price of cotton and not hear or listen to the cry of hard times. Let everybody get ready to attend the President Cromer says the prospect for a good opening at Newberry Col logo on Friday are very good. Every thing is in readiness and he very much nopes that students who expect to en ter the college will be present at the beginning. A great deal depends upon the student getting a good start, and a few days absent at the opening of the ession might cramp the student all the year. Let all students who can be on hand Friday.

The County S. S. Convention Held its thirteenth annual convention in Lebanon church Thursday and Friday, September 23 and 24, 7897. The convention was called to order at 11 a. m. by the president, Prof. Geo. B. Cromer, who led in the devotional exorcises, reading as scripture lesson a portion of the 20th chaper of Acts.

On account of the inclemency of the weather there was not a large enrolment Thursday. During the two days there were present 6 ministers, 9 superntendents and 30 delegates.

Mr. Howell M. Henry delivered the address of welcome, and in the absence of Mr. G. J. Johnson, the secretary The fir & topic discussed was home

Rankin. The claim of the Sundayschool on the congregation—Opened by Rev. M. W. Rankin, followed by Revs. W. K. Sligh, G. A. Wright and Messrs. J. J. Long and Jefferson Quattlebaum. Query box opened containing four questions, as follows:

1st. Is it worth while to hold a ses sion next year?—Answered yes by E. P. 2nd. How can the pastor be induced to take more interest in the Sunday-school? By giving him the work to do. Answered by Rev. W. W. McMorries. 3rd. What should be done with a eacher who is careless and habitually tardy? He should be admonished and f continued careless, dismissed. Anwered by Rev. G. A. Wright. 4th. Should questions in the helpers be asked in class recitation? Answered no by Rev. W. K. Sligh.

The following resolution was offered by Rev. W. K. Sligh and unanimously Resolved, That the executive committee be instructed to arrange for a two days' meeting of this convention next year and that the programme be arranged along the line of normal work. The old officers as follows were re-elected for next year: President, G. B. Cromer; 1st vice-president, E. P. Cromer; 2nd vice-president, E. H. Longshore; secretary, C. F. Boyd; treasurer, W. H. Hunt.

An invitation from Bush River church was extended to the convention for next year and it was unanimously accepted by the convention. The time for meeting was fixed for Thursday after the third Sunday in July of next

The hearty thanks of the convention were tendered to the congregation of Lebanon and community for their most hospitable entertainment, and also a vote of thanks tendered the choir for the excellent music given.

There is more cata rh in this section of the ocuarry than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a gr.at many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarra Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohi is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teasponitul. It acts directly on the bisod and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred tollars for any case it falls to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials, Address, F. J. Now they are out with a method of curing dyspepsia by resting the stomach. Their remedy is known as the Shaker Digestive Cordial. It supplies food in an artificially digested form and at the same time aids the digestion of other foods in the stomach. In other words, by the use of the Shaker Digestive Cordial, a dyspeptic virtually gets along without the use of his stomach until it is restored to its natural strength and vigor.
