VARIOUS AND ALL ABOUT.

The election next Tuesday. Miss Mattie Sloan is visiting friends in Clinton.

The weather has been exceedingly hot for the past several days. They say the candidates for mayor are already actively in the field.

Mr. J. E. Norment, of the News and Courier was in the city yesterday. Mrs. J. W. Hum-sort, of Yorkville, is on a visit to relatives in Newberry.

The Sunday-School convention of the Lutheran church is in session at Colony. Miss Corrie Bell Codbold, of Clinton, is spending a while with friends in Newberry.

Impure blood is an enemy to health, and may lead to serious disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla conquers this enemy and averts danger.

Mrs. A. Coke Smith and children, who have been on a visit to Newberry leave today for Sumter county. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy always affords prompt relief. For sale by W. E. Pelham.

The Congressional candidates reached Newberry on Wednesday night and spoke yesterday at Longshore. Rev. J. B. Fox has returned from his summer vacation and will fill his pulpit at the Lutheran Church next Sunday morning.

Rev. J. L. Williamson returned last night and will fill his pulpit at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Prof. Geo. B. Cromer has returned from a trip of a couple weeks in Barnwell and Georgia in the interest of Newberry College.

What about severage? We have not heard of it in several days. We would like to hear from somebody who is in favor of severage in Newberry. The congressional and county candidates will all appear on the hustings today at Pomaria, and at Prosperity the congressional candidates will speak tomorrow at 10.30 a. m.

Mr. Lucius Cuthbert Roach, of Charleston, President of the W. C. T. U., was in Newberry this week and addressed the ladies and children of the local organizations. Miss Bessie Riser, of Newberry, is in town with friends. She has been spending her vacation in the mountains of North Carolina, and is on her way back home.—A. R. Presbyterian.

Col. C. J. Purcell, paid 5 cents a pound for a bale on Tuesday and he will be in the cotton market this fall and will see to it that Newberry always pays the top of the market whatever that may be. The mineral spring at Jalapa of which we wrote some time ago is already getting to be popular. Many people are going there from Newberry to see it and drink the water. Next season we expect it to be one of the popular resorts of the State.

We had the pleasure of meeting Mr. E. H. Aull, of the Newberry Herald and News, the other day. Mr. Aull is a man who has helped to dignify journalism and who has been very successful in his work. It is profitable for younger scribes to meet with such men.—Greenwood Index.

Misses Mary Emma and Iney Carlisle, of Newberry, are visiting their cousins, the Misses Mars at Calhoun Mills. The Misses Carlisle have visited there before and have many warm friends who are glad to greet them. Newberry is famous for her pretty women and these young women are of the prettiest of the pretty ones.—Abbeville Medium.

"Let me give you a pointer" said M. F. Greig, a popular conductor on the Missouri Pacific railroad. "Do you know that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy cures you when you have the stomach ache? Well, it does." And after giving this friendly bit of advice, the jolly conductor passed on down the aisle. It is a fact that thousands of railroad and traveling men never take a trip without a bottle of this Remedy, which is the best cure for bowels disorders in the world. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by W. E. Pelham.

Send the Returns. The Herald and News will keep open house next Tuesday night and hopes to have arrangements perfected by which we will be able to get returns of the result of the election in the State as fast as the returns come in. We would thank the managers in this county to fill out the blanks we have sent them and return them to us as promptly as possible. We put a blank and an envelope addressed to the county chairman so that the managers would have little or no trouble in making returns to the county chairman. There will most likely be some one coming to town the night of the election from every precinct in the county and we ask the managers to look out for this and send us the returns direct to The Herald and News office by the first one coming. We have in most cases made special arrangements to get the returns and feel sure we will hear from the entire county on Tuesday night, but no harm will be done if we get two returns from the same box. Chairman Hardy requests those managers who bring in boxes and returns for him on Tuesday night to leave them at The Herald and News office as he will be there and will make that his headquarters during the evening.

Win your battles against etc. use by acting promptly. One Minute Cough Cure produces immediate results. When taken early it prevents a common cold. And in later stages it furnishes prompt relief. W. E. Pelham.

CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES

ADDRESS THE CITIZENS OF NEWBERRY IN THE OPERA HOUSE.

About Two Hundred and Fifty Citizens Turned Out in the Even to Hear the Candidates for Congress from the Third District Address the People.

The meeting appointed for the congressional candidates to address the people of Newberry was held in the opera house last night, and considering the rain, the attendance was fairly well—about 250 being present, a few ladies being in the audience.

The meeting was uneventful and the speeches were good and pitched on a high plane. Mr. Latimer was severe and rather personal in his criticisms of Mr. Johnstone and his past record in Congress.

The meeting was presided over by County Chairman Hardy, who asked that each speaker be accorded a respectful and attentive hearing, stating that each would be allowed only 30 minutes in which to speak. He introduced as the first speaker,

HON. J. E. BOGGS, OF PICKENS. Mr. Boggs began by stating that he was almost in a stage fight, not being accustomed to speaking in such a large and elegant hall and hardly knew what to say. He thought that the chairman would have announced that he was a candidate for Congress, but suppose he forgot it and hoped that the people would not forget it next Tuesday. If I was not a candidate I would not speak here tonight. Nothing draws like a free show, while I do not know what my opponents have gotten out of this thing yet, I can say that so far with me it has been free. Few issues can be discussed in 30 minutes, but I suppose you would like to know why I want to go to Congress. Mr. Johnstone is a Newberry man and you have honored him greatly—and Pickens has honored him also. But, I have heard of a play—never saw it—called "Too much Johnson," and if you keep on you might get too much Johnstone. Mr. Latimer has been in Congress six years. I told a man the other day who inquired about him that he was large, fat and good looking since he had been up there and the fellow said yes and before he went there he had to walk twice in the same place to make a shadow. Congress has helped him wonderfully. The greatest gift that this district can confer on any man is to send him to Congress. He, Latimer, is all smiles now, but when he gets up to speak his face gets as long as a horse collar and he tells the people how he has sent seed over the district—but never tells them that they are their seed. I tell you now that I am just as "seedy" as he is. He has introduced a bill on the seed question that I like—I am in love with—and if he or I are elected the seed business will thrive. There is a special reason why I should go to Congress. At the close of this campaign Latimer said to me: "Boggs if you are nominated for Congress and you will come to Washington during my expiring session, I will introduce you to all I know, carry you around to all the departments and put you onto the ropes—do all I can to help you." I told him I was an apt scholar, and now if you elect me you will have the best equipped Congressman this district ever had—you will have the advantage of all Latimer knows and all Boggs can find out—two in one. Both of my opponents want to go back to Congress—that's going backward—send me and it will be going forward. Both of these men say you ought to send a farmer to Congress. I venture the assertion that I have lost as much money as either of them farming. I do not want to attack Mr. Latimer's record, he's my friend. I have pitched this campaign on a high plane and if I have to get this office by trading him I will not go to Congress. Both are my friends—there are things more sacred to my heart than the emoluments of office. The time has come when questions to be considered by the national legislature are now—far beyond anything that has yet presented itself to America. We plunged ourselves into a war and are making history. Want outside the constitution to have war with Spain; pass an iniquitous war revenue bill; and many questions will confront us as a result which will require much to be met successfully. The Northern soldier is side by side with the Southern soldiers and we are one people cemented with the blood of brothers, and we will be swept on to a final success of which nothing but history can tell. I am running for Congress. It's a laudable ambition. One that surprises both of my opponents. Pickens county sends greetings to Newberry and asks you to help her son. She has helped both of my opponents in the past. Pickens county is the only county that has had nothing since the war. I have had to tell my opponents that I was running for Congress and I will show them by the time the race is over that I can run some too.

The next speaker introduced was HON. GEO. JOHNSTONE, OF NEWBERRY. Mr. Johnstone was received with applause and began by stating that he would not attack the record of his opponent. He spoke in part as follows: It is now some eight years since Newberry County, in upwards of 40 years, was accorded a representative in the National Legislature of this country. He was scarcely warm in his seat, after frequently being called to the Speaker's chair and taken into the councils of the leaders of the Democratic party; scarcely given time to look around and see what measures would be for the interests of his people and district and familiarize himself with his surround-

ING, BEFORE HE WAS SWEEPED OUT AND NEWBERRY COUNTY LEFT IN THE LURCH.

That man stands here tonight—a Newberry man before Newberry people—asking you to send him back to the place from which, it is the proudest thought of my life to know, that they did not retire me. I come tonight as a candidate, but not to speak of myself—as individuals blot us from the face of the earth. What concerns you is the interests of the country and the people. It is now more than 20 years since you called me forth and asked me to guard your interests and help in wrenching this country from the hands of the alien and negro, and in all my life I have never put self before the interests of my country. The past should remain in the past—we are to live in the future. What are our interests in the present and future? We have just emerged from a successful war, which is the initial of a series of wars, for which a war measure has been passed to meet its demands that is a burden on the poor of our country. The poor man has to pay 2 cents to draw one dollar of his money from the bank while the millionaire has to pay only 2 cents to draw his millions. This should be remedied. Asiatic commerce should be transferred from Northern to Southern ports through the Nicaraguan canal—making the Southern ports 3,500 miles nearer than England. The practical view of all questions is the best. An important question is the financial issue. Our currency should be elastic. It should expand and contract. What does a man in Washington know what it takes to run the enterprises, etc., here in Newberry? A system of State banks should be devised, allowed to issue a circulation equal to demand. This war has brought a new situation upon the people of America. I will not say with Mr. Boggs that we will have to camp outside the constitution to meet the situation. We must remain within its limits or amend the constitution. It brings us face to face with many questions which has to be met and wisely determined. My life has been spent among you. What it has been you all know. What I would have it been you do not know—but it has fallen far short of what I desired. I can and will say that through my career, whatever thought I have had, I have endeavored to be a patriot. I have an ambition which I express here frankly tonight, and that is to serve you in the National House of Representatives where I shall ever guard the interests and welfare of the people. Mr. Johnstone's speech was one of the best of the campaign and this synopsis does not do it justice.

HON. A. C. LATIMER, OF ANDERSON, was the last speaker introduced and his speech in the main was an attack on Mr. Johnstone and an explanation of what he had done in Congress. He spoke in substance as follows: I have been in Congress five years and have met you people only a few times. It is incumbent upon me to show you that I am competent to fill this office. You have watched my record for the past few years, and if you believe that either of my opponents can better serve you, it is your duty to send him there. I do not claim to have the experience that either of them has had. I ask you to take the record of Mr. Johnstone for the two years he was there and show me what he did—what bills he introduced to benefit the people of the third district. I have brought into this district since my election to Congress $223,000. What did he bring in? All he told you he did was that he was called a few times to the Speakers chair. That is not worth the snap of your finger. I have been offered that several times. That is only a courtesy shown when the Speaker desires to step aside and smoke a cigar. What you want is results. He was born and reared here and ought to have known that Newberry College was destroyed or damaged by Federal soldiers, and that the government was paying like claims to other institutions. Did he introduce a bill asking for the $15,000 for Newberry College? I went in there without experience, introduced a bill for this money and succeeded in getting it through the 54th Congress. I knew nothing of paying a lobbyist any part of it until after the bill had passed and they sent me to get the money and send it here. I introduced a bill to compel railroads in the hands of receivers to pay taxes the same as individuals and not allow them special privileges—and its law. In dollars and cents I have brought into my district or State, $223,000; established 75 new postoffices and 40 postal routes—and all done since Grover Cleveland went out of office. Your former representative, after being defeated by a majority of 1,300, went to Washington, and termed me a Populist—had me blacklisted—which it took me four years to outrive. Was he then working for his interests or yours? Stokes and I introduced a bill for rural free mail delivery. I introduced a bill to have seed grown at our experimental stations—Clemson College—so as to be suitable to the different climates, and give them the franking privileges. I introduced a bill to give to the original 13 States their pro rata of public lands for school purposes—one and a quarter million acres. My course has been along the line of the interests of my constituents. If you are satisfied with my record, vote for me, but if you think I am not worthy, I don't want it. I have observed, after a canvass of the district, that on the 30th of the people of my district will send me back to Congress. It appears to me, from letters I have received from different parts of this county that the Lutheran people want to show their appreciation of my services by voting for me on the 30th, but I want to tell them that I did what I thought was my duty. I thank you for what you have done in the past, and if you think me worthy return me.

It is always gratifying to receive testimonials for Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and when the endorsement is from a physician it is especially so. There is no more satisfactory or effective remedy than Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Dr. R. E. Robey, physician and pharmacist, of Olney, Mo.; and he has used the Remedy in his own family and sold it in his drug store for six years, he should cordially know. For sale by W. E. Pelham.

Tramps from Various Quarters. Mr. Editor: I have been trying to hold in and keep from laughing out, but "Chips" has tickled me and I must "bile over." That man has seen wonders! Why in last Tuesday's paper he informs the readers of The Herald and News that he has seen houses fly, horses fly, sheep fly, and more than that I he has actually seen butter fly. Wonder if "Chips" has ever seen the Spanish fly? Say, "Chips," the undersigned watched that picnic movement with great interest and was quite sorry to learn that circumstances got in the way, but when Kay offered his "just as good" by suggesting that the correspondents meet at the Editor's home on Thanksgiving day and each bring a turkey. All sympathy for your disappointment vanished in a hearty laugh. What a pity the undersigned is not an artist, for if he were he would draw a picture after the following description and send it to The Herald and News for publication. In this picture we would have the correspondents—the lady correspondents excepted—march goose fashion down Main street, each about ten feet behind the other, and each leading a big fat turkey by a string about six feet long and fastened around the turkey's neck. We would put "Kay" in front and represent him with his hat setting square on his head and looking neither to the right nor to the left and walking with the air of a man who is aware of the importance of the occasion, who feels that he is making history for posterity, and that therefore the eyes of mankind are upon him. We would represent "Kay's" turkey as hanging back with its legs sticking forward and sliding along on its feet by reason of "Kay's" steady pulling. Next, and just behind "Kay," in the picture we would place "Chips" and his turkey. "Chips" leads his turkey with one hand and with the other he swings his hat to and fro above his head and cheers lustily and when he thinks of turkey for dinner at the Editor's he lets out in that high tenor voice of his and sings the following parody: "I'll be all smiles today, dear, I'll be all smiles today, Though my stomach may ache tonight, dear, I'll be all smiles today.

As for "Chips" turkey, well it trots along behind perfectly charmed, and perhaps as highly entertained by its captor's performance as the throngs of people along the sidewalks as they watch the procession moving down the middle of the street. As for the other correspondents we would place them in the picture, representing each one by some characteristic peculiar to himself. Beneath the picture we would write in great big letters, Behold Our Leaders! By the way Mr. P. W. Higgins, who is to be our next Superintendent of Education is a first class artist, so "Chips" if you want a picture just call on him and show him this article, and he will, no doubt, have it ready for you by Thanksgiving day. Don't suppose he could reasonably charge anything but his dinner on that day. JOSH TRUMP.

A Remarkable Cure of Chronic Diarrhoea. In 1862, when I served my country as a private in Company A, 167th Pennsylvania Volunteers, I contracted chronic diarrhoea. It has given me a great deal of trouble ever since. I have tried a dozen different medicines and several prominent doctors without any permanent relief. Not long ago a friend sent me a sample bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after that I bought and took a 50 cent bottle and now I can say that I am entirely cured. I cannot be thankful enough to you for this great Remedy, and recommend it to all suffering veterans. If in doubt write me. Yours gratefully, Henry Steinberger, Allentown, Pa. Sold by W. E. Pelham.

Good News.

Mrs. M. A. Hulet has received good news from a miner that she sent over to Saluda County, to inspect and report concerning the value of her mine. A full report has not been made, as yet, but enough information has been received to assure her that the mine is exceedingly valuable. Mrs. Hulet has charge of the Crotwell Hotel here, and has a host of friends who will be glad to hear of her good fortune. The Voice congratulates her, and hopes she will realize millions from her mine.—Voice of the People.
