At the recent term of Court in Newberry Judge Klugh "refused to sign pay certificates for witnesses who have been bound over and compelled to attend Court at their own expense because they were not examined, or, when examined, were not, in his opinion. material witnesses to the issue trial." Judge Klr. h's decision would probably work hardship in some cases. as the Newberry Herald and News suggests, but he is working in the right direction and in the interest of a bet-ter administration of the law. About Sourt by suppressing the starting at the wrong place and applyfault. The point The Herald and News made was that it was not justice jail and then if it developed that they were not Klaterial with sees in the opinion of the presiding judge to refuse to pay them. They may have attended court at great personal incenvenience and actual loss and may have been forced to do so against their wil and even then it might appear to the judge they were not material to the is-

There is no doubt that frequently useless expense is put on the county by requiring the attendance of witnesses who know nothing of the case in which they are expected to testify and by binding over more than are necessary, but it is not the fault of the witness so bound over and he should not be made to suffer. There is need for reform in this matter but let the pruning knife be placed where the sore is and not make those who are not at fault suffer for the wrong of some one else.

sue and they receive no pay.

There is another view to take of this matter. The Judge, in signing the pay certificate for the witness, certifies that he was a material witness. If the witness is not examined or is not a material witness how can a conscientions Judge say he was a material witness.

Then, again, if you carry the matter to that point you may deprive some poor fellow of justice, or his life or liberty, for he cannot always tell in advance just who will be material withe will have difficulty in procuring the attendance of witnesses.

By the way it was not Judge Klagh eithe out Judge Geo, W. Gage, who is now holding court in Newberry.

We published some time ago the proposed bill of Gongressman Stokes providing for free rural delivery of mail. As we understand it the bill only provides for the delivery along the star routes now established. Each resident along these routes can put up a box and the mail carrier will collect and deliver the mail from and into this box The boxes are to be numbered and locked. These boxes to be furnished by the government. Of course this will be a great convenience and if it proves successful as we believe it will it means the increase and extension of star routes. People who live a little way from the regular route can have their boxes numbered and put on the road and thus have a daily mail.

We hope to see the experiment made as soon as practicable. Congressman Latimer has included Newberry in the territory in which the experiment is to be made.

It is only about a month now until the Confederate reunion will be held in Charlaston. This is a big thing for South Carolina and a matter in which the entire State is interested. Charlesduty in the matter and the rest of the State must stand up to her and aid her in making this the best reunion yet held. It will be in the city where secession was born and where the first shot of that great civil conflict wafired. Let us all help to make the gathering a great success. If Charleston will intimate in what we can assist we will be glad to do what we can.

A party of New England newspaper men are to make a Southern tour very soon. They have written Gov. Ellerbe that they expect to visit South Carolina. They will travel in a special car and their purpose is to write industrial articles for their papers. Why could not our city fathers invite them to Newberry. It might be worth a good deal to us in a financial way to have them visit us.

I is understood that he has several offers dsewhere under consideration.

Mr. Jones is not a new hand at the bellows, having been editor of the Herald for many years. He is a force ful writer and a successful business man and will no doubt build up the business and make it a success.—Spar tanburg Herald, 1st.
