OUR TOBACCO FARMS.

Newspaper Men Visit the Farms and are Amused at the Success With Which the Experimenters are Meeting—Crops Look Well and Results Will be Satisfactory.

Through the kindness of Mr. E. P. Pawley, Editor Houscal, of the Observer, and this writer was yesterday morning driven to the tobacco farms near town. Our citizens have no idea to what extent the weed is being cultivated right at our door, and with what success those who have undertaken the experiment are meeting.

The first place visited was the farm of the Newberry Tobacco Association, near the brick yard. This is a field of 20 acres, under the management of Mr. Tom Harrell, a gentleman who has had several years experience in the cultivation of tobacco. The plants are about three feet high, and the broad green leaves are beautiful to look upon. Mr. Harrell informed us that in all of his experience he had never had the trouble and ill-luck that had befallen him this year in the cultivation of tobacco. The recent rain was the first that he has had on his crop since the plants were put out, having to haul water to put them out with and keep them alive. It is interesting to hear these men talk of the mode of gathering and the process of curing or drying the tobacco, and to have them explain the workings of the drying houses or barns. Mr. Harrell is proud of his crop and has a right to be, for with all his bad luck his crop promises satisfactory results, and taken altogether will compare with any we have seen.

We next visited Col. C. J. Parell's tobacco plantation, out at the Lake place beyond Helena. Mr. Parell has an expert tobacco grower with him in the person of Mr. John Harrell, of Florence County. Mr. Harrell says that he has 18 acres planted for Col. Parell, 12 of which will yield him 1,500 pounds to the acre—some of which will bring as much as 30 and 40 cents per pound. He is now erecting several drying barns, one of which will have two flues, it being larger than the rest. Mr. Harrell's crop looks well. He too has had no rain until the past few days and yesterday morning put out his last plants.

Mr. Harrell says he has been in the tobacco business 11 years, and the poorest crop he ever made was $61 to the acre, and that he has made as much as $136 to the acre. He says we have just plenty of land suitable for tobacco culture here, and predicts that in a few years all our farmers will be cultivating tobacco.

Mr. Pawley next carried us to his plantation over at the "dairy farm," where he has five acres planted. Mr. Pawley has the advantage of the others in the uniformity of growth and the roundness of leaves, which is doubtless due to a little better quality of land, his being comparatively a new ground. However, they all have good crops, and neither has the advantage of the other.

The horn and bad worms have been giving them no end of trouble, but by paying little negroes 10 cents per hundred for the worms, the plants are kept clean and the little negroes busy.

The farmers of the county should make it their business to visit these tobacco farms and see for themselves for in our opinion it is only a question of a few years before tobacco will take the place of cotton in this part of the State, on land suitable to its culture.

We hope to publish in our next paper a letter from Mr. Harrell to his home paper in Florence, which will give you some idea as to his opinion of tobacco culture in this section.

To show what is being done in the lower part of the State, we publish the following from one of our daily papers of a few days ago, from Timmonsville, S. C.

There are to be seen going up three large tobacco sale warehouses $1 by 230, 80 by 203 and 105 by 100 feet, respectively. There were to be noted also in course of erection three large steam plants, one 50 by 200 feet by the American Tobacco Company, another 50 by 120 and the third 60 by 200 feet. He also noted four large prize houses, all but one three stories high, each about 50 by 100 feet. Dwellings are going up in proportion, about 15 or 20, large and small.

Last year this town's market sold two and one-half million pounds of tobacco, leading the State, the receipts for tobacco last year being nearly $250,000. The tobacco crop this year has been increased at least 75 per cent.

This year 900 sets of flues for tobacco barns have been delivered.

Mr. John McSwain last year had 18 acres of tobacco on one of his plantations that netted him $159 50 per acre.

Would Not Suffer No Again for Fifty Times in a Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCurdy's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest medicine I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I could not care to venture the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price. G. H. Wilson, Livermore, Burgesstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by W. E. Pelham, Druggist.

Teachers Elected.

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Prosperity Graded School held Thursday afternoon, Mr. J. C. Daniel, of Allendale was elected Principal and Miss Lillie Aiken music teacher for the next session. The other two teachers will be elected later.

Rev. Sam Jones Observes Our Improvements.

Rev. Sam P. Jones, who lectured here several days ago, in a letter to the Atlanta Journal, has the following to say of Newberry and Laurens:

"I broke up farming four days last week and went over to South Carolina, lecturing at Laurens and Newberry. Those are splendid towns and improving rapidly. I was astonished at the growth of Laurens and Newberry since I was there years ago. Say what you will about cotton mills and manufacturing industries, but about all a man of sense need do is to visit around among the manufacturing towns and cities and go among the towns where there are no manufactures. A blind man can see the difference."

How to Cure a Sprain.

Last fall I sprained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50 cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. Babcock, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by W. E. Pelham, Druggist.

To Increase the Capital Stock.

The stockholders of the Carolina Manufacturing Company held a special meeting yesterday afternoon and decided to increase the capital stock to $30,000.

The books of subscription will be opened as soon as the required authority can be obtained from the Secretary of State.

Contractor Shackley is at work building an extensive addition to the main building of the company's plant. The dimensions of the addition are 25 feet wide and 117 feet long. The building formerly used as a cotton ginney has been turned around and will be utilized also in the enlargement of the plant.

The company is making a success of manufacturing coils, and has built up a large and growing trade throughout South Carolina and adjoining States.—Observer.

Base Ball—Laurens vs. Newberry.

There will be two very interesting games of ball on the college grounds on the afternoon of the 4th and morning of the 5th of July. The home boys will cross bats with the Laurens boys. These games are going to be interesting, provided the visitors can interest us, and the people should come out and see the boys "wield the willow." The home boys are practicing every afternoon and are now in good shape. There will be a small admission fee of 10 and 15 cents charged to help defray expenses of the visitors. The ladies are cordially invited—free.
