NEWBERRY'S TOBACCO.

E. P. Pawley Talks of Conditions in his New Home—a Progressive Community.

E. P. Pawley, who has been busy the last few days looking over the tobacco farms and renewing acquaintances with old friends, dropped in this office this morning to talk to the editors about his new home, his crop prospects and the growth of Florence. He says that he is charmed with Newberry and the people of that section of the State. Newberry is rapidly becoming one of the great cotton manufacturing towns of the South, the people are independent and the city is growing very rapidly.

The prospects of the tobacco crop are fine in that section and the little Florence colony there is happy and living well. The Florence Times and Times-Messenger are the tobacco text books of that section and their arrival is anxiously awaited by a large number of readers.

Florence will handle the tobacco of that section. The people there have formed very favorable impressions of Florence and many of them will come this season with their tobacco.—Florence Times.

OUR DELEGATION IN FLORENCE. A delegation of tobacco farmers and those interested in the business arrived here last night from Newberry to take a look at the tobacco farms in Florence County, with a view of learning everything they can about raising, curing and marketing their crop. The party consists of Messrs. E. P. Pawley, John M. Harrell, C. J. Purcell and J. H. Wicker.

These gentlemen were met at the Central Hotel last night by a large number of tobacco men, where a general discussion of the crop of "weed" was held. Every detail of the year's work was gone over and the Newberry tobacco planters were soon a great deal wiser than they had been.

Today the visiting gentlemen were given a drive through many of Florence County's most beautiful tobacco farms, among which were those of Messrs. Smith A. Gregg, J. C. Brunson, E. M. Rogers, Jr., Gus McSweeney and R. E. Curran.

They were surprised to see to what a great extent the weed is being planted in Florence, and will no doubt, upon their return home, advise every farmer in Newberry County with whom they come in contact that cotton has been de-throned as king and hereafter in South Carolina tobacco must reign supreme. The visitors will remain here for a few days longer.

A Runaway. At noon yesterday as Mr. M. A. Carlisle and his daughter, Miss Bessie, were driving home to dinner, the horse took fright in the road about where Cornelia street intersects Nance street, and ran away. Mr. Carlisle and Miss Bessie were thrown from the buggy and the buggy was smashed to pieces. Mr. Carlisle received one or two slight bruises, and Miss Bessie received one or two bruises about the head and face. Neither were seriously hurt. Their many friends are glad it was no worse, and hope ere this time they have both recovered from their bruises.

How Advertising is Viewed. A Georgia editor writes: The gladdest words of tongue or pen are these: "Insert my ad again."

And gladder yet, oh Georgia sage, are these: "This month I'll take a page!"

Women's and Infants' Furnisher. But better far, and sweet to hear, are these: "Insert my page for a year."

But better, yes, by far better still, to have those who the ad columns fill, settle with cash, instead of goods, their bills.

Third Quarterly Meeting of the County Alliance Held on Friday Last.

According to previous announcement the third quarterly meeting of the county alliance was held on Friday last at 10 o'clock with the Camp Ground Alliance. This was one of the most largely attended meetings held for some time past, there being about seventeen sub-alliances represented.

The following officers were re-elected: President—R. T. C. Hunter. Vice-President—B. T. Paysinger. Secretary—C. F. Boyd. Treasurer—Benjamin Halfacre.

Lecturer—Dr. W. E. Lake. Assistant-Lecturer—J. F. Banks. Chaplain—M. H. Folk. Door Keeper—B. H. Miller. Assistant Door Keeper—A. H. Miller. Delegate to State Convention—Jos. L. Keitt.

Executive Committee—Wm. P. Pugh, chairman, B. F. Cannon and M. H. Wheeler. Judiciary Committee—J. L. Keitt and W. B. Bolnest. County Trustee-Stockholder—Jos. L. Keitt.

The following resolution was adopted: Whereas Brother Joseph L. Keitt has been elected by Co. D. T. Duanean with dishonor.

Resolved, That the Newberry County Alliance, of which he is an honored member, feels that it justly devalues upon them to exonerate him from said charge and characterize the charge itself as unjust and unwarranted.

The question: "Should cotton prove unprofitable, what is the best system of farming for us to adopt," was discussed at some length, but no definite action taken or conclusion reached.

The next quarterly meeting will be held at Hartford with the Hartford Alliance.

FATAL SHOOTING IN UNION. The Sheriff Kills his Deputy and Says it was Done in Self-Defence.

(Special to The News and Courier.) Union, July 8.—A very sad and unfortunate affair occurred at the Union jail early this morning, which resulted in the death of Mr. James G. Galtman, deputy sheriff, shot by Mr. J. G. Long, sheriff. As near as I can learn the particulars are about as follows:

Early this morning, just after daylight, Mr. Galtman went to the sheriff's bed room, which is in the front part of the jail, and wrapping on the door awoke the sheriff, from whom he demanded the keys to a very abrupt manner. Sheriff Long thinking he wished the crib keys, although it was an unusual hour to get out his horse, gave them to him. Mr. Galtman then demanded the jail keys. Long asked him what he wanted with them at that early hour and why he wanted to go upstairs. Galtman replied: "None of your business. I will go where I please, and when I please." The sheriff told him not to talk to him in so rough a manner, but he gave him the keys. Galtman turned to the door leading upstairs. As he did so Mr. Long noticed he staggered considerably, and thinking he was intoxicated he told Galtman not to go, as he had no business up there at that hour. Galtman became exasperated, turned on Long and placed his hand on his pistol. Sheriff Long snatched up his gun, which was near, and shot Galtman. As he did so Galtman got his pistol out, but before he could use it the sheriff shot him again, this time to kill. Galtman fell dead on the porch. The sheriff turned his head to a constable, a prisoner's jury as held: the evidence taken, and a verdict of justifiable homicide was returned. Galtman's body was removed to his home nearby. Galtman had held the position of deputy sheriff seven years. The occurrence was a great shock to the community and is deplored by everybody. The relations existing between the two men were perfectly harmonious so far as is known, and while possibly no one doubts that the sheriff considered his action absolutely necessary to save his own life, he is almost overwhelmed with grief at the sad occurrence, following so closely the sad and untimely death of his son by the accidental discharge of a pistol. The two tragedies are almost more than he can bear.

Mr. Galtman leaves a wife and three children to mourn his untimely death. They have the sympathy of the entire community.

He Wanted Preserved. On Sunday while Mr. M. B. Caldwell and family, who live about three miles from town, were at church, a negro by the name of Richard Thacker broke into his house and proceeded to help himself to what he could find. He was seen to enter the window by a Mr. Kibler, who went to the house and found him seated at the table eating bread and preserves. The negro broke and ran, but Mr. Kibler knew him and he was arrested by Constable Tidwell. When arrested he acknowledged to the constable that he was guilty and said he just wanted some preserves, that his sister had told him that Mr. Caldwell kept a lot of preserves on hand all the time. In his possession was found a pistol, a watch and a gold ring that had been previously stolen from Mr. Caldwell's house. Magistrate Chappell committed the negro to jail to await trial on the charge of house-breaking and larceny.

FULLY REALIZED.

Newberry Roller Mill a Grand Success.

All the machinery has been adjusted and settled into good running order, so that they are putting it full time. Last week Mr. D. B. Wheeler sent a turn of nice clean wheat which yielded a turn out of 45 lbs. of flour to the bushel. Those who are acquainted with the milling business know that 41 lbs. to the bushel is considered an extra good turn out, while this yielded a pound more although the wheat went through another cleaning process after it was measured up, so that it was really a fraction less than a bushel, but herein is where this mill is superior to most others of its kind. The cleaning is so thorough that it produces a beautiful white grade of flour which has already secured the name of "Cream of the South." Herein also is proof contrary to the predictions of those who said that if it made a better quality of flour, the quantity would be less. The machinery is so complete that it removes every particle of flour from the bran and especially that next to it which is the most nourishing part. Just last night a load of wheat came in from a distance of 17 miles, although the mill is nearly nearer than that.

Another good feature of the mill is the fact that the capacity of the mill is such that they can grind a man's wheat on short notice and not keep him waiting so long for his flour. If the party will just drop Dr. Boeger a postal card, he will reserve the time for him so that there will be no delay whatever.

All the appointments of the mill and the dispatch with which everything is executed show the superior business qualifications of the Doctor and his sons.

Magistrate Chappell's Mill. Magistrate Chappell's mill continues to grind out justice promptly and sure. Last week he sent Ed. Jenkins, colored, to the chain gang for thirty days for stealing from Sump Coleman.

Chief Hunter arrested Geo. Whitener, Blanch Robertson and Francis Gilliam, all colored, one day last week for stealing, and within twenty minutes after the arrest Magistrate Chappell had Whitener on the way to the chain gang and the women in jail.

Magistrate Chappell deals out justice in a business-like manner and consumes but little time at it.
