The Newberry Goods Store's Big Store and Enormous Stock is the Talk OF BOTH COUNTRY AND TOWN

The name of Mimnaugh of South Carolina is a big word with all cash men and Manufacturers of the North and knowing that they sell to Mimnaugh they regard it as the gold standard on the spot that is what draws the small Manufacturers and cash people to us. When they know that they receive the cash on sight they are glad to pass our competitors as if they were tied to a post you cannot make race horses out of plugs and you can't compare anything in South Carolina with what the Mimnaugh's have made, we are not handy capped with an old stock of dress goods and trimmings that was out of styles in Newberry six or seven years ago; every thing on our counters are the pitch of the season, no job or crazy quilt stock, no cuts in one place and high charges in another.

DRESS GOODS
I can show you more dress goods than all the other stores in Newberry combined.

The Bondsmen Settle.

THE STATE SAFE FOR $2,812.41 OF THE NEAL SHORTAGE.

Senator Tillman Sends a Check for $109.00 in Full Settlement of What He Owes—The Status at Present.

[Columbia Record, 29th.]

As was stated yesterday, Col. Wilio Jones sent the Attorney General his share, as bondsman, on the shortage of Colonel Neal.

It was decided that Colonel Neal could only be held, criminally, for $2,812.41. The rest of the $11,000 is made up of worthless notes, etc., the taking of which was not criminal, but showed bad business judgment. The exact figures as to who will lose on the whole transaction cannot be stated today, but in round figures it is said that the Carolina bank will be out $5,500, the State $2,600 and the bondsmen $2,800. This does not make up the full amount, but there are various other smaller transactions which between the State and bank will bring the sum up to $11,000.

This morning bondsmen Scott Pope and P. H. Haltiwanger called on the Attorney General and promised to send checks for their share this afternoon. So this winds up the whole business so far as the bondsmen are concerned.

Mr. Bellinger today received a check from Senator Tillman for $109.00, and Superintendent Griffith, of the penitentiary, who received the check, signed a receipt in full for the amount due by the senator.

The committee report had Senator Tillman charged with $117 and some cents, but the Senator in a letter to the Attorney General showed that the statement was wrong. He said $12 was charged against him for convict work on fences around the mansion grounds, which was manifestly not due by him. Again he was charged $5 a thousand for the brick he received from Colonel Neal, while the market price in Augusta at that time was $1. The amount then for the brick should be $12. Mr. Bellinger investigated these matters and found them to be true, and agreed that $24—for fence work and for the brick—should be taken off. This would leave Senator Tillman due only $93. But the Senator himself informed the committee that he had gotten out from Col. Neal which did not occur on the books. The amount at the market price at the time was added, making the bill $109.00.

It is very likely that the bondsmen will make demand from those persons who got book cases, hat racks, tables, etc., to "cough up" the value. They didn't need furniture of that sort just now and object to paying hard earned money for it for other people to use. Mr. J. J. Fretwell, of Anderson, will be asked to reimburse the bondsmen for $387.17. Mr. Fretwell got some out from the penitentiary, but instead of paying for them, credited Colonel Neal on his account to that amount, this being done at the instance of Colonel Neal.

The bondsmen are charged up with $38.20 for commissary supplies used by Colonel Neal. They hold that as they were only on his bond for four years that they should not be charged up for six years' misconduct. Mr. Bellinger says that as a matter of fact the whole shortage occurred within the four years, but as the committee's investigation extended back for six years that is the way it appeared as if six years' transactions were involved. Colonel Jones called on Mr. Bellinger this morning and referred to this matter. But the amount was not reduced.

The State, then, is safe so far as to the amount wrongfully appropriated by Colonel Neal. It can hardly reimburse itself on notes that are no good. Colonel Neal says he will be in Columbia tomorrow or Monday to settle. If he desires to pay the $11,000 a receipt will be given him for all except that which his bondsmen have paid. Mr. Bellinger has nothing more to do with that and Colonel Neal will have to reimburse them personally.

THE BOYS SEEING NEW YORK.

MADE THE MOST OF THEIR DAY OF FULL LIBERTY.

From Governor Down all Busy Seeing the Sights—Camp Wetherill Non Call—Visit From Victor Blue.

(Special to Greenville News.)

South Carolina Headquarters, 66 E. Fourth Street, New York City.

Sept. 28, 8 p. m.—A few of us are here, surrounded by a German settlement and restaurants where we find food good and plenty and cheap; but most of us are out seeing the town. All of us are delighted.

The two sick men are out and going around with the others. We find the streets a little crowded but we get about comfortably, men and officers going around on their own hooks and taking care of themselves. Nearly all of us have seen the principal sights and no mishaps are reported except that one squad started out today on foot to see what "up town" looked like. They walked four miles to Eightieth street and were then told that they would be well up town three miles further on. So they concluded to take the cars. The men will go to their rendezvous tomorrow on cars.

Camp Wetherill men have been calling at headquarters all day and leaving their names and addresses with the guards, who were about the only men left there. A number of us, however, hunted up acquaintances who were in the 201st or 203rd and have been taken in charge by them. Even some of the "Jersey Skeeters" crossed the river to show us how they look out of uniform and to see how we look in it.

Lieutenant Victor Blue called on the Governor and his staff today. John Gary Evans spent most of the day with the staff. The Governors and the staffs of all the States will see the naval review from special boats provided for them.

The Governor today visited the navy yard in Brooklyn and was received with the regulation Governor's salute.

We are receiving invariable kindness everywhere. Everybody seems to appreciate our having come and our men attract attention and favorable comment wherever they go, and deserve it.

GOV. McSWEENEY MET AND CHATTED WITH THE HERO OF MANILLA.

How Carolinians Spent the Day—Governor's Staff Viewed Naval Parade from Different Points of Vantage—Soldiers Enjoying Themselves.

(Special to The State.)

New York, Sept. 29.—Today South Carolina, though she had no naval representative of note here, save Victor Blue, took a prominent part in the naval parade. Gov. McSweeney, Gen. Floyd and Col. Gunter took part in the magnificent parade as guests on the "Sandy Hook" the steamer of the Mayor of New York, the boat that escorted the Olympian. Aboard her were all the Governors here, including the Governor of Rhode Island, Gov. Russell of North Carolina and Gov. McSweeney. Aboard also were the members of the Admiral's family, Judge Van Wyck and wife and others.

Arriving at the point of anchorage off Grant's tomb, Admiral Dewey, with three members of his staff, not including the ubiquitous Brumby, boarded the Sandy Hook. Gov. McSweeney was introduced to the admiral, who at once asked about an old South Carolina classmate. He talked pleasantly for a few minutes and the band struck up "Dixie" as he stepped aside. Though many remarks were exchanged about what the Governor of South Carolina said to the Governor of North Carolina, there was no repetition of the incident.

Mrs. Van Wyck, the wife of the judge, was the first lady introduced to the admiral. She is a Southern woman, and, with her husband, showed Gov. McSweeney many attentions, inviting him to a dinner to the New York bar, which he had to decline. The Governor did not land at Pier A until after 7 p. m., having been on the boat since 10 a. m.

Many of the members of the staff witnessed the parade from the municipal steamer "Warwick"; the others from the reviewing stand on Riverside.

Col. Frost spent the day selecting and securing horses for the staff and regimental officers. The State will have 14 mounted men in the picture tomorrow. Lieut. Glenn will be regimental adjutant and Mr. Brown

Hyatt, courier. The companies in accord with an order from Col. Frost, will go by elevated cars at 7 a. m. tomorrow to One Hundred and Twenty-first street, where the regiment will be formed in platoons. Gov. McSweeney and Gen. Floyd, in a carriage with Messrs. Downs and Kinney of the New York committee, followed by the staff mounted, will head the regiment. The parade will be from Grant's tomb to Washington square.

At the headquarters of the troops, in Fourth street, the men of the provisional Palmetto regiment are being well cared for, and all are satisfied. All men sent to the hospital have been discharged. The boys have been seeing the town and the parade today.

Among the callers on Gov. McSweeney today were the tragedian, Mr. James Young; Lieut. Col. Wm. I. Kirkland of the One Hundred and Ninth New York and many South Carolinians. Dr. Rawls, formerly of Columbia, is one of the specially detailed surgeons from Bellevue on the parade tomorrow. The arrangements for the homeward trip remain with the hour of departure at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

Special arrangements were made tonight for the transportation, via elevated road, for our troops to One Hundred and Twenty-first street in the morning, which will enable them to be in line at 10.30 o'clock.
