He will remain there for about three weeks. Mrs. J. L. Walker returned to Johnson last week after a pleasant visit to relatives in Newberry.—Johnson Monitor.

Made a Settlement. It will be remembered that some time in June of last year Mr. M. A. Carlisle while walking along the street leading from the Newberry hotel to Main street, he fell into the cellar door leading to the basement of Robertson & Gilder's drug store, and received injuries from which he suffered considerably and was put to a great expense. The city council at a recent called meeting agreed to pay Mr. Carlisle part of his expense—his physician's fees, his traveling expenses and his hospital expense while in Baltimore attending to his injuries. His expense account, according to his statement, was upwards of a thousand dollars, not counting less time from business and the city council agreed to pay $800 of the expense. The New Superintendant. Mr. Alexander Makepeace, a native of North Carolina, is the new Superintendant of the Newberry Cotton Mills. He is a Southern man and comes to Newberry highly recommended. D. L. Copeland is in the West buying stock. He will return by February 1st with a nice lot of Horses and Mules. f&t4t

Mr. Editor: Allow us the privilege through your columns to return our grateful thanks to our friends and neighbors for the courtesies and assistance rendered us in the hour of the sad bereavement of the untimely death of our dear son, N. Bartow Wheeler. Death in all its phases when it enters the quiet home tears away our dear ones is sad; but, in this case is doubly so, and it would be the height of ingratitude were we to pass slightly by the many acts and deeds of kindness rendered us by our neighbors and friends to alleviate our grief in that sad hour. May the blessings of a benign God be shed upon them and may they never be called upon to pass through such an ordeal. Respectfully, N. B. Wheeler and family. Little Mountain, Jan. 29, 1900.

A JOYFUL MEMBER. The Only and Original Hub Evans Keeps Things Tidy Wherever He Goes. (Columbia Record, 24th.) Representative H. H. Evans, of Newberry, is the jolliest member of the General Assembly. He is generally called "Hub," probably because good humor and jovial kindness radiate from him. "Hub" is slightly deaf as he always talks loud enough to hear himself, his voice has some of the characteristics of a fog-horn. His heart is as big as his voice. If "Hub" is afraid of anybody or anything, nobody has ever found it out. He certainly is not afraid to tell a joke on himself. One of "Hub's" favorite stories is that he got even with a fancy hotel, which charged him $60 for a 10 days stay, by appropriating enough of its silverware to make up the difference between what he considered a fair charge and the bill he had to pay. "Hub" stops at the Columbia hotel during his frequent visits to Columbia. He told that tale there several times, until some of the guests thought up a bright idea for a joke on "Hub." So they communicated their ideas to "Mine Host" Nixon. But "Hub" saw them conspiring and smelt a mouse. While "Hub" was at dinner, he saw Mr. Nixon and the conspirators waiting in the hall outside the dining room. A wink is as good as a nod to a blind horse. "Hub" quietly slipped some hotel knives and forks into his pockets. As he came out of the dining room, Mr. Nixon accosted him and the conspirators began to grin, for they thought they were going to have the laugh on "Hub." Mr. Nixon said: "Hub, if you'll just give up that silver of mine, I'll let you off this trip without paying board." Then the jokers laughed, but they soon found out the truth of the saying that they laugh best who laugh last, for "Hub" surprised them by producing the knives and forks he had in his pockets and demanding that Mine Host Nixon stick to his proposed bargain. The biters were bitten. That is but one of the legion of jokes "Hub" tells about himself. "I am indebted to One Minute Cough for my health and life. It cured me of the following following gripp: Throat trouble, cough, cold, croup, pneumonia, grip, and throat and lung troubles. Its early use prevents complication. It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. Robertson & Gilder.
