A NEEDED TRAIN.

The Florence Times says: "It is our opinion that if the merchants and business men of Florence want a day train to Columbia that they could get it by petitioning the railroad company now and showing some little interest in the matter, and it is everywhere agreed that this is the one train that Florence needs to make her schedules complete. Of course if you are not interested in the matter don't do anything about it. We would not have you exert yourself for the benefit of the community for anything."

Such a train would be of even more benefit to Columbia than to Florence. If the Merchants and Manufacturers club is to justify its name and be more than a mere social organization, it should get to work on just such propositions as this. United effort on the part of Columbia and Florence will get that train and get it quickly. Will there be such effort?—Columbia Record.

Such a train from the up-country would be of benefit to Columbia as well as a great convenience to the people of this section. A train from Greenville to Columbia in the morning via Laurens over the A. C. L. and the C. N. & L. would be a good thing for these roads and the patrons along the line and we believe would be a better paying train than any that is now run by these roads. If a petition would secure such a train it would be easy to have a very large petition.

COLUMBIA LETTER.

Columbia, December 17.—The census figures for the towns and cities have been made public. I want them printed here for the information of our people. Newberry, study them and see how the towns have grown in the last ten years and then study the cause of the growth. It comes from the building of manufacturing enterprises and these not only help the town, but the country surrounding as well. For they open a market for the products of the soil. The people who work in them have to eat and they find little time to grow their own vegetables and cannot make their butter or raise the chickens and eggs they need. Newberry has grown some in the last ten years and does not show up badly, but with the start we had there is no reason why we should not have made the increase that Union or Spartanburg has. In fact we have made very little increase in the last five years. In 1895, I think it was, that Prof. Evans took a census of the town and we had about 4,500 people then. It is a difficult matter to get every one, and we can very safely lay claim to a population of 5,000.

The increase in the last ten years has been in the white population. Here are the figures for the several towns in the State:

Table with 2 columns: Town Name and Population. Includes Abbotsville, Aiken, Anderson, Beaufort, Camden, Chester, Columbia, Darlington, Florence, Galetta, Georgetown, Greenville, Greenwood, Laurens, Mount Pleasant, Newberry, Orangeburg, Rock Hill, Spartanburg, Summerville, Sumter, Union, Yorkville, York.

Spartanburg and Union and Greenwood have all made wonderful progress, and it has been done by building manufacturing enterprises. Another mill here would have added about 1,500 or 2,000 to our population. We want to start the new century with the determination of every man to put his shoulder to the wheel and work for the advancement and development of the community, and there must be no kicking or pulling back, but every one must pull together for the common weal.

The proof reader must have been on a spree when the last issue of The Herald and News was making ready for press, or else was absent from his post. It is almost impossible to keep out all errors, but even the "devil" should have caught some that slipped through the last issue. I promise for all concerned that they will look closer to these matters in the future.

In my notice of the death of my good old friend, Mr. Sam. N. Evans, in mentioning his sons I stated he had five sons, but only named four. Of course every one in Newberry knows that Mr. E. M. Evans, one of the leading merchants of the city is one, but those who are away from Newberry may not know it. He has been a devoted son, and during the long illness of his father, watched at the bedside with loving and tender anxiety.

Just one week until Christmas. May it be a happy and pleasant one, and may Santa Claus visit every fireside and leave some token for the little ones gathered there.

Christmas the happiest time of all the year will soon be here—the time when all will be happiness and pleasure.

With the exception of colds, the health of this community is good. There has been considerable complaint of potatoes rotting. The wheat crop is about all sowed with a considerable increase in the acreage.

Our school observed thanksgiving day while old man Chips was pulling the best cord.

Dr. S. T. Hallman spent last Sunday night with Mr. J. K. Epps and family. Many thanks to our kind neighbors for several fine messes of pudding, sausage and spare ribs. It is not so much the value of these little things that make us feel happy, but the thoughts of being remembered creates a green spot within our heart that never wears out.

The Christmas fever has broke out all over this section, in fact it will soon become an epidemic. We can see it beaming in the countenances of the little ones. Oh! what a jolly time it is to them to think of the coming of old Santa Claus. Now, dear parents, we know that money is very scarce, but let's not disappoint them.

The new pastorate, consisting of Mr. Olivet, Bachman Chapel and St. Philips has accepted the recommendation of synod. They extended a call to Dr. S. F. Hallman and he has accepted. He preached at St. Philips last Sunday morning and at Bachman Chapel in the evening. Bear in mind, Bachman Chapel will have morning services every 4th Sunday and evening services every 2nd. Just to the reverse is the arrangement for St. Philips. We have not learned whether Mr. Olivet will have one or two services a month. Dr. Hallman is not only a preacher, but also a pastor. He loves his people. Christ says, if you love me feed my lambs.

Some moving is going on which will appear in my annual list of moving. If you want to get your name in the newspapers you must do some very noble act, or something very bad. Which do you prefer?

With two traveling stove men in our section, one selling and the other repairing, good wood and plenty of something good to cook, women ought to be well equipped in this line and be in the very best of humor.

Mr. J. A. Foy, the noted shoe repairer, spent last night with us. Mr. Foy is up to date in his business and gives general satisfaction.

A great many patrons of schools want only those teachers who will use the lash. But when it comes to a test it will be like a great many professed Christians who want a big billfire. They only want it for somebody else.

We are sorry for our old friend Palmetto that he is out of a Frog Level, a dispensary and also a "Killbuck" but we can't wonder at Killebrew being dead and gone, for a man generally falls into the same pit that he digs for that other fellow. He wrote the obituary of most of all his subscribers. Now we take the authority to appoint our friend Palmetto to write his. But notwithstanding, my old friend, you may be out of all the above mentioned things, you should feel proud that you are not out of a Prosperity and a host of mighty good business men.

We are just in the act of writing an article on this up-to-date style of living, in fact we had already started one, but it must have fallen in old Mrs. Chips' waste basket and some of the little Chips have torn it up, as we fail to find it. Now it will all be to do over again. But you can look out, it's coming.

Mr. James Sligh and Rev. Sligh are bringing a nice dwelling on the Pomaria road near the line of Nos. 1 and 10. Old Mrs. Chips has not that in what yet, but we have gone to the saw mill and got a few planks to repair the house, and we are expecting Ben Tillman to get Congress to give us a pension for our loyalty to him, and as soon as we get our pension we will get her a hat and if we can only manage to get our dog we expect to get the little Chips a whole lot of pretty Christmas things. And now we are happy once more, but we must hold up awhile for she has already accused me of insanity in what I have previously said in connection to our domestic affairs.

I am just fixing to go to town, so good by, dear readers, till the next time. Yours obediently, Dec. 13, 1900. CHIPS.
