Death. Mr. A. J. Holt died at his home in the Trinity section of this county Sunday, aged about 72 years, and was buried yesterday at Zion church in Saida county. He leaves a devoted wife, a number of children and grandchildren to mourn their loss.

The Dancing School. The dancing school which was started several weeks ago and has been taught by Miss Louise Robertson, of Charleston, closed on Friday evening. The school was very largely attended by the young people of the town and was a success.

Miss Robertson has gained the good will and affection of all her pupils, and they all wish her success and prosperity wherever she may be.

Cross Hill on a Boom. Our town is on a boom now. First comes a bank, with Dr. J. H. Miller, president; John G. Williams, vice-president; J. W. Simmons, cashier and E. B. Razer, Jr., assistant cashier. Then comes the oil mill. The machinery is bought and the contract out for building. Dr. J. H. Miller has also contracted with Mr. P. B. Watts for brick to build a nice drug store.—Cross Hill Cor., Laurens News.

Werts-Chisolm. Prof. C. F. Werts, of Newberry, and Miss Maud Chisolm were married Sunday at Mt. Pleasant church by Rev. J. H. Wilson. The bride is a daughter of Rev. S. P. Chisolm, and her many friends wish her a happy and prosperous future.—Bambarg Herald, 6 inst.

A Former Newberrian in Yorkville. We find the following mention of a former Newberrian boy in the Marion Star of 5th inst. Mr. B. L. Jones, formerly principal of the Laurel Street school in Columbia, now superintendent of the Yorkville schools, spent yesterday in Marion looking over the schools here. The town of Yorkville is about to erect a $10,000 school building and Mr. Jones is posting himself on the subject with a view to having the new building up-to-date in every respect. Mr. Jones was very much interested in the manual training work in the Marion schools.—Marion Star, 5 inst.

Going to Charlotte. On July 23rd, to 26th, the grand Inter-State Tournament of the North Carolina Volunteer Firemen's Association will be held in Charlotte. The Excelsior Fire Company held a meeting on Monday night, and decided to enter the hand reel contests. At the request of President Earhardt, on account of the duties of captain of the reel team conflicting with that of president, the election of a captain was gone into, and T. O. Stewart, Jr., was unanimously chosen to train the boys for Charlotte. The boys are anxious to meet the Independents, of Columbia, once more, $1,500 will be up in prizes.

Quarterly Conference and Children's Day at Zion. Next Saturday will be Children's Day. We will have about forty recitations, dialogues and speeches. Special attention given to the music, new books and new music, the finest or as fine as we have ever had, both vocal and instrumental.

We will have Presiding Elder Childs with us and quarterly conference after intermission. Prof. G. T. Pugh will speak at about 11:30 o'clock. Our pastor, Rev. W. H. Whorton, will be with us and take part in the services. Services will commence at 10 o'clock sharp. Two services on Sunday. Everybody is invited to attend these exercises and as there will be an all day session take your baskets with a lot of good things to eat in them.

Stepped into Live Coals. "When a child I burned my foot frightfully," writes W. H. Ends of Jonesville, Va., "which caused horrible log sores for 30 years, but Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured me after everything else failed. Norris teacher of the school. A. W. Coleman was elected principal and Carrie Tucker, assistant teacher of Cleveland academy, colored.

True Manhood. It is not always the coat that tells Nor the collar your friend may wear, It is not only the shine of his shoe, Nor the finished touch of his hair. It is not all in a silken hat, Nor the fitting neat of his gloves; It is not merely his cultured air, Nor the circle in which he moves. It is not his temper, his pride, nor smile, Nor yet his worshipful meek; It is not even the name he bears In the world that is shallow and mean. Ah, no! after all, 'tis the man himself, As he stands with his God alone; 'Tis the heart that beats beneath the coat, The life that points to the throne. The eye that cheers with its kindly glance, 'Tis the arm around a brother cast; The hand that points to a hope beyond, 'Tis a love that endures to the last. —The Silver Cross.

SOME ENDOUSEMENTS.

Newberrians Who Endorse McLaughlin's Course and His Speech at the Firemen's Tournament. We find the following interviews published in the Greenville News of June 10th, made by a special staff correspondent with these gentlemen: "With a view of ascertaining the effect of Senator McLaughlin's speech and attitude on the grave questions of State which he is discussing a number of short interviews were secured hurriedly after the speech was made and before the departure of the train. Hundreds of just such expressions similar and many stronger, could easily have been had. The interviews were selected at random and the gentlemen giving voice to these sentiments were not personally known to The News man.

"Capt. M. A. Carlisle, president of National Bank, said: 'I have heard a great many expressions of approval of Senator McLaughlin's speech. It has met with great response. His positions are sound, and his argument to sustain them good. In my opinion, he may be a little in advance of his time, but the principles he enunciates will certainly and finally triumph. His address here was an elegant, chaste production, and his idea of pitching his campaign upon a high plane is a most acceptable and creditable change in our political life. Senator McLaughlin's manner and ability are away above the ordinary political orator.'

"Mr. Carlisle is one of the most substantial citizens of Newberry and is president of one of the banks. "Mr. C. J. Purcell said: 'McLaughlin certainly caught the crowd, and made a host of friends. Our people know little or nothing of the subsidy bill, or the question of expansion. These he explained in a most practical manner and the audience generally endorsed him, both as to his position while in Congress and the principles he has since enunciated. Yes, and I want to say that they endorse Governor McSweeney too in his positions regarding these resignations. They do not want a heated political canvass this summer. They want a campaign of honest discussion not of personal abuse, mud slinging and bulldozing, etc.'

"Mr. Purcell is a staunch business man and knows thoroughly the sentiments and wishes of the people of his county and city. "Rev. C. H. Armstrong said: 'I think Senator McLaughlin made a great many friends. He certainly convinced a great many who questioned his honesty, of his absolute sincerity. His position, heretofore much misunderstood is clear and plain to the people. His idea of expansion is not what the newspapers have it, but well in keeping with the records of the Democratic party.'

"Dr. G. Y. Hunter, of Prosperity, said: 'Senator McLaughlin made a splendid impression. In my section his warm admirers and hearty supporters came from all classes. He is making new friends by the hundreds every day, and his Democracy is good enough for us.'

"Dr. J. M. Kibler said: 'That speech was fine, I have not heard a man who heard it say ought against it. Its decent Democracy and the high plane upon which he has placed himself and his address is a most welcome change. We want discussion not denunciation, argument not agitation, virtue not vulgarity, and I commend along with hundreds of others Senator McLaughlin's manly start and the fight he is making.'

Seven Years in Bed. "Will wonders ever cease?" inquire the friends of Mrs. L. Pease, of Lawrence, Kan. They knew she had been unable to leave her bed in seven years on account of kidney and liver trouble, on account of prostration and general debility, but, "Three bottles of Electric Bitters enabled me to walk," she writes "and in three months I felt like a new person." Women suffering from Headaches, Backache, Nervousness, Sleeplessness, Melancholy, Fainting and Dizzy Spells will find it a priceless blessing. Try it. Satisfaction is guaranteed at all druggists. Only 50c.

A Raging, Roaring Flood. Washed down a telegraph line which Chas. C. Ellis of Lisbon, Ia., had to repair. "Standing waist deep in icy water," he writes, "gave me a terrible cold and cough. It grew worse daily. Finally the best doctors in Oakland, Neb., Sioux City and Omaha said I had consumption and could not live. Then I began using Dr. King's New Discovery and was wholly cured by six bottles." Positively guaranteed for Coughs, Colds and all Throat and Lung troubles by all druggists. Price 50c.

NEWBERRY'S PRIDE.

COMMEMORATION OF THE NEWBERRY GRADED SCHOOL FRIDAY NIGHT. Seven Young Ladies Graduate—Col. W. H. Hunt Delivers Literary Address—Medal Awarded by Dr. W. E. Pelham—Dr. W. G. Houseal Awards Diplomas. A Successful Scholastic Year Closed.

The Newberry Graded School commencement exercises were held last Friday night in the opera house, in the presence of the largest crowd that has assembled in this building since the Newberry College commencement. Long before the hour arrived for the exercises to begin the relatives, friends and others who were interested in the intellectual and moral advancement of the youth of Newberry had every seat occupied and by the time the first essayist appeared there was not standing room.

Just ten years ago this school was founded and as there are ten grades in the curriculum this is the first class that has ever been through all of these grades to graduate. THOSE ON STAGE. The following are the names of those who were on the stage: Rev. J. L. Williamson, S. P. Boozer, N. B. Mayzek, Dr. W. E. Pelham, Dr. W. G. Houseal, F. N. Martin, Edward Scholtz, W. H. Wallace, Dr. E. P. McClintock, Rev. M. G. G. Scherer, Col. W. H. Hunt, Rev. W. I. Herbert, the graduating class and Prof. B. H. Johnstone.

The exercises were opened with an appropriate prayer by the Rev. J. L. Williamson, pastor of the Avesleigh Presbyterian church, after which Prof. B. H. Johnstone introduced the graduates who read essays. The graduates and their essays are as follows: Miss Genevieve Boozer, Music and Song; Miss Adele Dunbar, How to Make the Most of Life.

Miss Eunice Halfacre, Our Southern Writer; Miss Minnie Havird, The Power of the Pen. Miss Lurline Evans, The Young Men of the Twentieth Century; Miss Leslie Taylor, Friendship. Miss Gertrude Reeder, Words.

COL. HUNT'S ADDRESS. Col. W. H. Hunt, of Spartanburg, delivered the literary address to the graduating class, and in the course of his speech gave some interesting reminiscences of Newberry and vicinity from 1865 to 1876. It was our intention to publish the speech but we were unable to secure the manuscript. The gold medal which was offered to that member of the graduating class who should write the best essay on the subjects assigned was awarded to Miss Eunice Halfacre. Honorable mention was made of Miss Lurline Evans. The committee to examine these essays was composed of Professors Brown and Evans, both of whom were at one time connected with the Newberry Graded school and Col. W. H. Hunt.

Dr. W. E. Pelham in a few happy remarks awarded the medal: DR. PELHAM'S REMARKS. In presenting this medal, Miss Eunice, on behalf of your worthy superintendent, I feel rejoiced that I can congratulate you. James Lane Allen has said, "Believe in the divine right of kings I never shall, except in the divine right to be kindly men, which all men share." That is a beautiful thought, which leads me to say that you have given us evidence this evening that you possess the queenly quality of good composition. I trust that this occasion may become to you an inspiration, and that your reading of Wm. Gillmore Simms works may prove an incentive to you for higher achievements on English prose composition which good fortune will surely be yours if you will but emulate the chaste style of your favorite author. This is a beautiful medal, and I admonish you to wear it not as a toy, as is the wont of some, but as a badge of honor. Cherish it as an emblem of success, and may it be to you an earnest of future good and happiness.

After the awarding of the medal Prof. Johnstone asked Dr. W. G. Houseal to present the diplomas which he did. His remarks were very good indeed and we give them in full. DR. HOUSEAL'S SPEECH. Dr. Houseal spoke as follows: Young Ladies of the class of 1901: In behalf of the citizens of Newberry, who founded the Newberry Graded School, and the board of trustees under whose control it is, and whom I have the honor to represent, I shall deliver to each of you a diploma. Before doing so, however, I have two parting wishes to make for you. The first is that whether you at once enter civic life, or go further in the pursuit of learning these diplomas or the attainments they represent may be of great benefit to you in coping with the difficulties you will have to overcome along the pathway of life in order to obtain success. To be prepared to meet difficulties, to meet them in proper spirit and to make the necessary exertion when they arise, all there are necessary to obtain success. It is impossible to be useful to your fellow man or gain any real success for yourselves and follow any other rule of conduct. It is an easy matter to lay down a rule of conduct but very hard to follow it unless the mind has had proper discipline from the beginning. May you remember that this diploma does not mean that you have acquired just so much knowledge stored up in your brains but that your minds have been so disciplined so as to be prepared to meet difficulties and to meet them in a proper spirit and to make the necessary exertion when they occur.

In the second place, I would wish you to remember that whilst a well disciplined mind is very good for you to have it is of still greater advantage for you to realize that a good moral character is not less necessary for your advancement. Nor is it merely a strict observance of the higher laws of morality that is required. In the words of another although I speak to young ladies, "you must feel and act as a gentleman." I use the word advisedly for there is no other as expressive of what is meant. Let there be no misunderstanding of what the term, "a gentleman" or I may say gentleman means. It is not she who makes a dashing show, who dresses in rich apparel or goes in fine equipages or has expensive habits, or pushes her self into that society which she regards the higher scale. He is a gentleman or she a gentle woman who sympathizes with others, who will not say harmful things about others, who will not say or do anything even on the most trifling occasions that will hurt the feelings of others. A gentleman cannot be a gossip. A gentleman is she who in little things as well as in great things observes that simple yet comprehensive maxim of the Christian religion, "Do unto others as you would that they should do unto you." The best wish I can make for you is that you be such a gentleman.

In the name of the board of trustees of the Newberry Graded schools it is now my pleasure to present each of you this diploma which is a certificate of the successful completion of your course. Excellent music for the occasion was furnished by Misses Maud Fant and Laura Bowman and Mr. F. M. Boyd. The audience was dismissed with the benediction by Rev. Walter I. Herbert, pastor of the Central Methodist church. The city schools during the scholastic year just closed have been very successful notwithstanding the fact that smallpox and measles had to be contended with, and it is a gratifying circumstance to know that the buildings are becoming too small to accommodate the fast increasing rolls of students.

The Newberry Steam Laundry. The Newberry Steam Laundry Co.'s plant will commence operations tomorrow and the city has reason to be proud of this new enterprise. Only the latest pattern and up-to-date machinery has been purchased by this concern, and they have a plant that is second to none in the state. They deserve the most liberal patronage of all the citizens and surrounding country, for every dollar spent with this concern adds that much to the business of the county and city. We understand that the concern already has applications from different parts of the state to establish agencies. Every effort will be made to serve the trade with perfect satisfaction. We bespeak for them the liberal patronage of the public for such enterprises are what help to make a prosperous city.

CASTORIA. The Kind You Have Always Bought. Bears the Signature of J. C. Watson. Sow! Sow! Sow! This is the way my father sows, As up and down the field he goes, Walking fast and walking slow, Right and left the grain to throw, Father knows, While he goes, That the grain thrown here and there By and by good crops will bear. All he loves will have a share, If the grain he throws with care. So he throws, As he goes, Sow! Sow! Sow! This is the way my mother sews, As up and down long seams she goes, Working, singing soft and low, While she's sitting there to sew. Father knows, As she sews, Jackets, trousers, aprons, too, Johnnie's hat, and baby's shoe, Patching old or making new, Love runs all the stitches through. This she knows, So she sews, Sew! Sew! Sew! I can neither sow nor sew, When I'm big I'll learn them, though, But while little, as I grow, Little bits of love I'll show; For I know, As I go, Tending baby, calling Nan, Running errands like a man, Helping mother all I can, Love will grow where it began. Ah! I know, See, 'tis so, Little bits of love count up, Like drops of water in a cup. Fill it—so! 'Twill overflow! So! So! So! —Eva Lovett, in Youth's Companion.
